This made me feel some type of way. I was listening to the Girlfriend (kari) OP - an anime i have yet to watch which also for some reason helps my Black Ops kdr - and this popped up anyone know what it's about?

Besides stating the obvious that it's about a girl gathering her courage to convey her feelings to a guy, I can't help much since they're rapping and I can't really keep up :/

I personally dislike the Girl Friend (kari) OP because it sounds annoying, but the anime itself is extremely lighthearted and always has happy endings.

Shit is cute as fuck

I was just wondering if they were doing something with the anime. Like a live action adaptation or a visual novel

The infamous yellow fever; I only recently caught it.

Probably because I've been lurking the Drama section of crunchyroll.
