Later they went on to explain a bunch of new details about the game. It will feature a new OP sung by Lia titled "Heartily Song!", and the entire cast of the anime series will be returning. We've also finally been given a release date! Angel Beats! -1st Beat- is scheduled to launch on the 29th of May 2015! The official website has been updated with the new details and CGs here:

But now, for the news everyone has been speculating about: the 'New Project' by Key and ANIPLEX has been unveiled! It is an original animation project by P.A. Works with a scenario by Jun Maeda and characters by Na-Ga titled Charlotte, and it is scheduled to broadcast in 2015! A website for the series has been published here: <http://charlotte-anime.jp/>

I've been slacking on watching anime lately, haven't seen one for 2 or 3 months. Guess I'll start again. ._.

I'm somewhat confused. I mean, are we talking about a game they're announcing or a new season of the anime? - Sorry if I've gone full retard here :p
Either way, interesting news ^-'
