I would suggest putting up some of your past work before expecting people to pay for your service :)
Good luck with your shop!

Hi Remix.

Thanks for the advice, i will add some of the stuff i have made, as fast as possible. It will be added as a gallery in the bottom of my thread, like a gallery.

Merry Christmas!

I would suggest you to use either behance or minus as your portfolio, instead of having everything clustered in your thread :)

Also I wonder why the new designers keep taking $7 for thread designs...

Non the less good luck with sales, and merry christmas :)

Hi zetta.

Thanks for your advice, i appreciate it! I think i will be using behance since i can make categories there, a very nice feature! I will lower my prices in the future, and pdate my thread design.
