Well, I've been trying to make some money online as I am saving up some cash to purchase a few things for myself, anyways..

I have absolutely $0 to invest in. I have cash in-real-life, but I am paranoid as to whether or not I should transfer it to my paypal. So what will would be the best LESS TIME CONSUMING method of making a quick buck.

Thanks.

GO BLACKHAT!!?

That will be your best bet. If you want to make money fast at least.

If you want to spend your next 20 years trying to make $5.00 so you can cash out on a PTC site. GO FOR IT!?

If you want to build a website around a niche and use Adsense/CPA Lead etc etc etc. sites like that and you can make a decent amount, and the only investment you will have to make is your time. ?

or you could just get a job in the real world :-/ if you have one I applaud times are tough, if you don't because of the economy, bum deal, were in the same boat :)

Search around on these forums there are a lot of great methods you could use to make money! ?

Protip: Don't buy ebooks.

If you're looking to invest, do it IRL. If you want to make money via the internet, then read up on becoming an entrepreneur.

I suggest ebay and craigslist. Good method is to go down to an 'op' - shop, or second hand store, garage sale etc. Look for some sweet deals then chuck them on ebay and check back once a day. Start the bidding @ .01 cents and if it is a popular item that you got for cheap then have no reserve and watch the bids pile on in.

Another way is gambling, such as bidrivals (essentially ebay gambling) but I won't go into that.

edit: also hacking or buying and reselling on this forum is good. for example, find a forum that has a buy/sell section and shares common interests, become an average member and somewhat respected, buy steam hacked accounts in bulk cheap on here then go to the forum and resell them at a higher price.

I recently bought three (3) steam accounts with the orange box on each and a few others. All 3 for $5, with a resale value of $30. It's likely those accounts will get hacked back eventually or locked but meh.

The only reason you think you're retarded is because you're scared and you're holding yourself back from unleashing your true potential. Life is full of risks.
