Thread: {TuT} How to log into PSN after Sony attacks

If you are one of those unlucky people who still suffer the completely roasted Sony DNS servers I have a fix!

Tutorial:

Code Go to your DNS settings and then change them from:

8.8.8.8 or 9.9.9.9 to:

8.8.4.4

So I would make the primary and secondary DNS setting to 8.8.4.4? Seems awkward, but okay. I tried it and so far no success.

Out of topic question:

Do you guys have access to PSN Store?

Using Google DNS?

If so, DNS Primary is 8.8.8.8

Secondary is 8.8.4.4

And do some games such as Destiny happen to be free or was it a false claim by LS?

The dns method hasn't worked for me either, I guess I'll have to wait until sony completely fixes their shit.

The DDoS did fry up the DNS and also the servers and it could be that where you are the servers aren't fixed
