(Oct 10, 2014 06:49 PM)Zeivu~ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I really like the forum i just made an account :)

(Oct 10, 2014 10:43 AM)Squishy Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Liking the whole theme and how clean and smooth everything looks.

Just wish there were more people. :P

(Oct 9, 2014 04:35 PM)Booker DeWitt Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) This site is worth taking the time to sign up. It is a growing community and people there are friendly. The staff cares about its members and everything else.

I wouldn't tell you to join unless I was sure it was a good thing to do.

Oh my god. I can't believe how much the owners has been working for this. A huge vouch for Wires dedication and effort! He has done anything to gain it's potencial and it's currently in progress!

Please help him out by registering and posting!

Kudos to you sir for being a part of the forum and the first founder of it. Sad to see you resign, hopefully everything will be good for you.

Cheers, Nasyr!

Hello,

I am one of the Board members at this forum. Yes, I said board member. The admins do not make every decision we decide with the site. It is a team effort and makes generalMB a community. If you really want to look for a place where people listen and reply to everyone's post you should check it out. I know personally here there aren't many of my threads that don't eventually get buried. If you would like a good place to buy and sell stuff our market is clean and there is tons of profit to be made there. We have many sections that Hackforums does not offer with awards that can be earned by posting rather than buying things. Donations are always welcomed and properly thanked. I'm not going to talk more I will let you all decide for yourselves.

Can't wait to see you there
