Alright so woke up this morning with an unauthorized claim,
Called paypal gave all informations i had on the buyer and won the case as it was a false claim,
Now the scammer is trying to blackmail me sending me this email :

Now i've googled his email, ended up on a weird forum with the user name : nisva003

I go in search and there is a user on Hackforums called Nisva003

Coincidence? i think not.

What would you do?

Should i even reply to his email?

Or just call paypal saying he tried blackmailing me and try to make his paypal account banned? ?

Edit : looked his ip address on google and found this

He is banned from leak

Edit2 : Called paypal, they are filling reports against him , could call the cops but i won't ?

Lololol he just added me on skype with nisva003 resolving to .. the same IP

I don't see your point, that's what made me win the claim and file a report against him

Ya my account got hacked both in paypal and hackforums and leakforums, it was a rat, i sent that email hoping you could give a refund and ban the person who bought it.

But sadly he got away with it all.
