Thread: Are you interested?

Factor8™ - January 1, 2015, 8:48 am

I'm planning to start a service on HF for members who've BTC and are unable to purchase stuff from shopping sites/purchase gift cards/recharge/pay phone bills etc...

Or purchase stuff from online sites like Amazon/Ebay. Or any website which accepts a legit CC/PP to pay? Or even to pay hosting sites/CF/OVH? The possibilities are endless here!

Would you guys be interested if I started this service on HF?

I'm going to charge a 10% fees for this. Simply implying that if you want to purchase a $100 item, you pay me $110 in BTC using Btc Ecode . The calculation might vary here but I'll get it right.

Does this sound good? I would appreciate good and honest feedback. Thanks. ?

Would you be able to charge abit less fee? If yes, then I'd be interested.

Sounds pretty cool. I've seen a lot of these online though.

Sounds like a really good service to me. Most likely would use it in the future.

'Psyduck - January 1, 2015, 8:57 am

Sounds like a good service to me, I would like to be able to purchase steam games with my BTC.
So yeah, this service would be awesome.

Depends if your orders are huge in volumes here.

I know about that site. What about reversals/Charge backs?

#DPT - January 1, 2015, 8:57 am

Great idea dood, hope I could use that :)

I know about that site. What about reversals/Charge backs?there's also the worry that customers set up phishing sites to steal ur CC details that ur 'purchasing' from.

Forget that. LOL.

The only thing I've learned since 2009 on HF is about being secure online. Also my CC can't be carded ever. Requires a OTP/Yubico 2 factor authentication to do transactions. :)

Krew - January 1, 2015, 9:07 am

Isn't this classified as PayPal holding? Especially since you mention eBay and such

What? I'm simply doing a trade here for an irreversible currency(BTC) and delivering the goods/services to people who don't have an option to pay via the normal payment processors like CC/PP etc..

WTF are you smoking?

How exactly do you think this works? You send Factor8 bitcoins and he buys and item for you. PayPal is not even necessarily used here.

Aurora - January 1, 2015, 9:12 am

Wow, it's not bad of an idea. I'm actually interested in a service like this, and I'm sure others who only/wants to use BTC can find this service helpful/convenient.

wellager - January 1, 2015, 9:13 am

I'd definitely be interested in this if you could do it with people too, e.g if I hire someone to draw something and they want PP from a verified account but I only have BTC.

That is called common sense.

This is why I made this thread. I'm not bragging here or anything. I've an impeccable record in the marketplace. "Peace of Mind" is important and you get that whenever you deal with me. :)

Wardow - January 1, 2015, 9:19 am

I would love to see this, as i'm not 18 and i can't have Paypal Legally, would be interessant to pay all things in BTC, actually i have only BTC, i'm for this, thanks Factor8.

This is the safer way on this forum, and i know you wont scam anyone, if you do, you can have issues, and i know that you're a legit Member, and you are not Staff for nothing.

Thanks. I've done this when LR was there. Buying stuff for you from Ebay/Amazon/paying off bills...etc...As I mentioned, the possibilities are endless.

Also, I won't be able to do single transaction more than $450 in one shot. Again depends on the deal also.

That's the idea here for people who have BTC but are unable to purchase stuff. Again, I'm only trying to get feedback here. This service would be entirely HF centric. I'm banking on my goodwill and reputation in the community. :)

Brado - January 1, 2015, 11:08 am

Great idea. This will help many people.

Especially since paypal gives you pretty quickly a limit on your account.

630 - January 1, 2015, 12:56 pm

10% overpay with BTC seems steep, but I get that you gotta make some profit. Being the member that you are you will make some money with it. I personally have no interest in this service and see people trying to undercut you.

Indecisive enough - January 1, 2015, 12:59 pm

Hello Factor8, been a while bhai. Anyways maybe because you are an admin on this site might help you with some customers but I think there are too many services that already do this. You are an experienced exchanger though and lose nothing trying it out to see how popular it would be.

We really love to have this service from the HF Staff King Factor8

This will really help many members , is it allowed for normal members sir?

why wouldnt it be allowed for normal members or anyone for that matter if its in btc u homo

Hexicidal - January 2, 2015, 1:05 am

The business you will receive will be plentiful.

EPIXIA???? - January 2, 2015, 1:12 am

Yeah, I'm interested. Will save a lot of hassle.

network slapper - January 2, 2015, 2:32 am

it is awesome...

you can make money using it and you will help some peoples have just BTC...

Factor8™ - January 2, 2015, 9:00 am

Thanks guys. I'll probably have a shot at this. :)

Fox™ - January 2, 2015, 9:17 am

This would be awesome. I've got a lot of BTC in the piggy bank... ?
