Not sure if this is the right place for this thread but I dont know where else to put it. Anyway, I have a bunch of extra money that I am looking to spend. Any ideas on what to get? Just looking for cool things/trinkets. I've run out of ideas.

There's this candy grabber that's an alarm, you put in 25c and you pretty much use the claw to try to grab a candy or something. It's a nice way to save money too, and wake you up lol

Honestly nothing beats the amusement of a nice lava lamp sitting in the corner of your room.

I actually love this idea.

Maybe I'll start a small forest inside my house. Or a garden.

Thanks.

Exactly haha I was tempted to get Bamboo running all the way around my room because it grows dead fast and ends up being really tall so I thought it'd be cool.

If you have around $30-40 to spend, I would get a Nano Quadcopter.
I have one right now and it's so fun to fly around.
