mine's just the stock mozilla start page.

I just use bookmark symbols to go to shit.

Velacoi - January 3, 2015, 9:59 am

Mine is Google as well, but Yahoo has some nice news stories to display which is why I once considered them. Too much going on in one screen though, preferred something more minimalistic.

Yeah if I had to choose another homepage besides Yahoo! it would be DuckDuckGo and if not that, then StartPage and last Google.

Bazalia - January 7, 2015, 8:44 am

Hmm I usually use open last closed tabs which almost always include anilinkz.com and inbox.com

Akex - January 7, 2015, 8:46 am

I don't like any other search engines.

El Chapo Jr. - January 7, 2015, 8:58 am

Was Google for a long time however I changed it to Youtube recently because the first thing I usually do when I turn on my PC is check my subscription box.

Ayxi - January 7, 2015, 9:22 am

Mine is the Chrome start page..

I don't really see a need for a homepage, if it's not the startpage.

Niely - January 8, 2015, 1:01 pm

I've got my own personal-made start-page (just quickly made).

With a lot of search, request,.. functions. :)
