Well I got to thinking about it and once I get the money I'm going to purchase a group for Webmasters, But is it possible to buy a group or ?

If it is possible to buy a group, How much is it ?

Because I found nothing in the groups forum nor the Help Documents about it.

I hope you have a lot of money. It depends on the price.

It would be around the 8,000+. And I don't know if Omni wants a new group, you have to buy a current one.

Group spots can not be bought right now, they can only be traded from the current group owner.

Most groups go on sale for complete ownership for about $9,000. I'm not kidding, it's a tad expensive.

Some groups offer leadership spots which can go on sale or be given out, often for around $500-900.

Groups are expensive and it's really not worth it unless you play it right and plan an investment.

Groups aren't for sale directly through Omniscient anymore, but can only be sold by existing owners.

In order to purchase a group, you must be Ub3r and you must be approved by Omniscient to own a group (these are two different things.)
