Thread: [\[TUT\] Working AWM With Facebook Group \(My first Tut\)](#)

IzzyJohnson - January 4, 2015, 6:46 am

Hey guys this is my first "real" thread so I would like to take as much time to make it 1. look nice and 2. make enough sense where it can help you.

Background

After hanging out on this forum for the short amount of time that I have been I finally felt that I have collected enough information to "get to work" and start making something with my time that I spend online. I have browsed countless threads on this site gathering the tools that I felt I needed to get to a "goal" that I set for myself. I wanted to start making a little extra money on the side since I already spend so much of my time on the computer anyways.

So what did I do?

I started asking questions; how were others making money doing nothing? How were so many people actually able to be successful with these "get rich quick methods" that were being posted all over the place. I seen the vouches on these eBooks but knew these could easily be fake/manufactured. I did the eWhoring, not entirely my thing but if I ever need to make a quick buck I have the knowledge to do so with that method. So what actually was causing the success?

The truth was that these people offering all these copy and paste methods weren't going to work. So I created my own. I took bits and pieces of others (not directly copying them but stemming from the same idea) and I would like to say that I have found success.

What defines my "success?"

Now I am no where near making anything that I would call "good money" but I like to say that I am successful because I found something that could work as long as I keep up with it. I mean, I've already seen results that I am happy with and have actually received payout from it. Knowing that I created something. Created it on my own. Didn't ask someone else to set things up for me then let me take over. I did this on my own with tools and knowledge I have gathered from this place. This place that I have started to spend more and more time on. I thank you all for this, I really do.

The 'How- To'

Enough rambling, what is it that I have actually been doing?

Ok I want to try and keep this as simple as possible. Ive already given out how I came up with it, given my "thank you" story now get to it already!

Alright for this you'll need a few things.

AdworkMedia The main piece to get your revenue

When in AdworkMedia you are going to want to choose an ad campaign such as their "iPhone Six" or "iPad Air" or something like that. The Non-Incent Campaigns or something where there is a "Prize to be desired or won"

So say you chose the nice "iPad Air" one just for the sake of this tutorial.

Get your 'website' This is how you will market your site and gain 'traffic'

Go to any free website builder (I recommend weebly.com) create a nice looking site that is based on your product. Just needs to be one page, two pages tops if you want to have an "about us page" where it explains the 'giveaway' but one page is just fine. If you'd like to change the backgrounds and add banners based on the product, making it look more legit, feel free to do so (See my example). Give the site a semi-decent sounding domain name (using the .weebly.com subdomain).

When designing the website make sure to add a big button after all the info given that links to the url of the landing page from AWM.

IMPORTANT STEP: Getting rid of the 'weebly footer'

In order to make your site a little more believable, we need to remove the weebly.com footer at the bottom of the page

In order to do this you need to go to "Design"

Then go to Edit HTML/ CSS

Search the code for this section (ctrl f - #footer)

And add this line of code "visibility:hidden;" without the quotes

Save

And BAM the footer is gone!

After you are happy with the site you will publish it.

my.dot.tk Getting rid of the .weebly.com sub domain

Go to www.dot.tk and click on 'shorten url' paste your .weebly.com url into the bar and click GO.

You will be able to register your new domain completely free for up to 12 months. No sign up, no later payments, 100% FREE. Choose your domain name in the same format as "yourdomainnamehere.tk" choose 12 months and fill out the captcha. If you want to make an account to renew the domain after the time is up choose the Sign Up button, I just chose "Continue without Sign Up"

Once that is done its time to take to Facebook and create a page advertising your product.

Im not going to tell you how to make a Facebook page for your product, I recommend creating a "community like page" then using that like page to make a group and inviting people so that way you wont be detected as the person creating the group. Either that or you can make a fake profile (I used my ewhores profile) to create the group. I would also recommend putting a nice "description" explaining the giveaway and telling them to "Invite their friends!" in order to get more people. Make sure you have the link to the website (yourdomainnamehere.tk) and make sure you update the page every once in a while.

My earnings are semi- successful. Im assuming the more I do it and keep it updated I can easily make more :)

Well guys I finally did it :) Hope you enjoyed this. I'm definitely going to keep editing this for the next few days to get formatting the way I like it.

Quite interesting. Thank you for posting this.

Rooter - January 4, 2015, 10:19 am

That's a pretty great tutorial OP! Have you made great conversions with this method?

Agerelf - January 4, 2015, 10:25 am

The .tk domains are not working, or is it just me?

Does anybody know any other free domains like this?

Sometimes it takes a while to fully register, try to clear your cache and cookies. I ran into this issue on my 2nd site that I made seen \(here\)

Yeah its online now thanks mate, good job.

BlackHat420 - January 4, 2015, 9:20 pm do you have any examples of your website you could show us ?

Any more ways to promote your website instead of Facebook?

Limited Edition - January 5, 2015, 10:26 am

Very nice share man. The only thing I would do different is buy a domain and hosting, I can see you have kept this method as a free method which is great!

I'm going to invest some time into this, it sounds very promising. There's no reason why I can have more than one "offer" on my site? I could update it daily with new AWM stuff?

IJVG - January 5, 2015, 10:29 am altavista is a good free host/domain that uses subdomains.

It can handle a decent traffic and load times are good.

Offtopic question:

Did you make the background image (the ipad with blurry overlay) yourself? If so, which program were you using?

Thanks in advance

You could probably just make up a fake email with "iphonegiveaway@gmail.com" or whatever and send emails out to randoms.

OR you might be able to add it to a traffic exchange site? (not too sure about this one)

I wanted to keep it free and since I already knew and trusts dot.tk I went with it & yea update the website with new offers or get it to where each time they visit the page a new offer appears (probably some coding work but Im too lazy to figure it out :P)

I normally do my own work in Photoshop but for this one I just pulled a photo off the internet then used weebly tools to make the blur.

Hope that helps :)

Yeah, good stuff man. I was just thinking of a landing page with 4+ offers on there. Users are most likely going to do all 4 offers instead of just one right? If I put some silly count down timer above each one people will think "Oh I could win this as early as 2 days from now. I guess I'll enter!".

I'll toy around with it when I have some free time. This could be very profitable if lots of traffic can be driven to the site. ?
