Omniscient - January 5, 2015, 1:18 am

Let's all post what we feel BTC price will be in 10 days on January 15, 2015 and why.

$320-340 because I think a big bounce is going to happen because I think the big drop is artificial.

Solister - January 5, 2015, 1:20 am

Drop down to the 280-290 area. I think people will get scared and keep selling .

$320-340 because I think a big bounce is going to happen because I think the big drop is artificial. Most definitely. Artificial meaning PayCoin and people seeing this as a good time to dump and buy in at a lower price.

I am thinking $310 - $380, anywhere in that range. This drop isn't done yet I don't think, I sure hope it is but I don't think it is. It'll bounce back no worries, it all depends when Josh decides to give up his bullshit and lies.

Sick of the amount of altcoin scammers that actually SUCCEED...even worse, the people that fall for them.

$lick - January 5, 2015, 2:59 am

I'm guessing it's going to bounce back to $300

I hope anyway.

nondescriptoldie - January 5, 2015, 3:01 am

Go all the way back up to $300 or maybe even go to the $280 to $290 area!

Ordium - January 5, 2015, 3:03 am

I would guess between 300 again. +30 in a week has happened.

Frenid - January 5, 2015, 3:03 am i bet it will be more than 500$.

But it is just my opinion.

Sacred Symmetry - January 5, 2015, 3:04 am

I think its going to hit the 350-400$ mark.

Correct me if im wrong, but isnt paypal going to soon be affiliated with BTC?

If i am correct, then the BTc prive will increase, as demand will most certainly rise.

Sniper - January 5, 2015, 3:04 am

I believe $320 is a tad low, I'm saying nearer the $400 mark ae $380 or so. The low price is attracting a bit of media attention which will spark a buy boom.

Kung Fu Kenny - January 5, 2015, 5:06 am

~$350 or so, not quite near $400+ maybe by the end of the month.

STR™ - January 5, 2015, 5:07 am

Bumping to get some experts comment on this thread for Omni sir

Regular Guy - January 5, 2015, 5:17 am

So far all (most) responses are positive...I'm thinking positive about the value in the next few days!!

Dog™ - January 5, 2015, 5:19 am

I called this on Omni's thread a few days ago. I expect it to rise back to at least $300, possibly back to $320.

~Jay~ - January 5, 2015, 6:40 am

I hate predicting prices, but if I had to guess it's going to dip a bit lower then go up to about $300. $320 - $350 in another couple days or a week.

Gen1e - January 5, 2015, 6:48 am

I would say it will be around $310.21 :)

Charles Hamilton - January 5, 2015, 6:50 am

I'll say it's going to drop & stay at $250.

Jus cuz.x

Pseudonymous - January 5, 2015, 7:02 am

I'm roughly thinking 325$ +/- 5! BTC is fluctuating a lot currently!

DevNet - January 5, 2015, 7:08 am

I believe something like ~280-ish, but by no means am I an expert.

Optimized - January 5, 2015, 7:10 am

Between $300 to $310 I think. Some people think it's gonna drop like hell, but I don't know.

Broke - January 5, 2015, 7:35 am about $600-620 (I wish..)

I hope it goes up at least, had my bitcoin when it was worth $600/btc so I would love to sell it at the same rate xd

B?ue - January 5, 2015, 7:41 am

I hope it keeps going down long enough for me to get some money together and buy some for when it goes back up.

Realistically tho, these kinda events always happen when I have no fucking money.

I reckon its gonna be around $320ish

grady - January 5, 2015, 7:44 am

$328.6

Let's see how close that is.
If it's on point, I'm a god, and it's official, okay?

K?i?K - January 5, 2015, 7:45 am

BTC PRICE ATM: 272$

In 10 days it might be near 310-330 (My BTC expirience says that)

Idk why people are saying 600+

It wont get to 600 in just 10 days for sure.

screams - January 5, 2015, 7:55 am

In 10 days, I assume it'll be right around $326.

bandors - January 5, 2015, 8:10 am

I think a domino effect has started that will continue to cause some bearwhales to dump.
150$ guess here. (I still love BTC though) hoppedup - January 5, 2015, 9:58 am

I predict 310-320 I would love a higher value but think that will take 15-20 days to hit say 360

Eddie - January 5, 2015, 10:42 am

I could see it being around $290ish.

Eagle™ - January 5, 2015, 10:50 am

Personally, every can call out a price correction....

Pseudonymous - January 5, 2015, 11:06 am

If BTC drops below 250! I'll definitely buy a coin on my birthday on the 19th

Aanime - January 5, 2015, 11:06 am

I predict should be around $226 after 10 days :)

Frawshy - January 5, 2015, 11:41 am

Shit. I have 3 BTC and I didn't even know it dropped to $260. Lol.

I bet it'll surpass $330.

Aceman - January 5, 2015, 12:51 pm

$320-$380

The drop was artificial and many people were looking to invest after the next drop. I imagine we'll be seeing many people 'investing' and then selling somewhere in the $300 range. If we were to see it hit $400 that would be temporary as many people would dump which is why I think it'll settle back between $320-$380.

Kansas - January 5, 2015, 12:53 pm

In 10 days I bet'll be $360

BTC is probably going to end up being the "gold" v2

Sooner or later its gonna skyrocket again and stay in the high 800s

Huelex - January 5, 2015, 2:36 pm

It took about two days from the price to go from $314 to $263, so anything is possible. I'm saying within the next 10 days the price will jump to about $310 to maybe $360.

Thornzzz - January 5, 2015, 2:40 pm

I'm going to guess around $374-$380.

Flaxpicker - January 5, 2015, 3:51 pm

It will probably just go back to $300 and stay there

I doubt it will hit $350+

Herbert - January 5, 2015, 3:58 pm

400$ so I can buy myself a ps4, god shouldve sold when it was 360

Industry - January 5, 2015, 4:21 pm

Maybe when people stop trying to make a career out of day trading BTC and use it as a everyday weighted currency, the value will increase. Until then it's not even considered a currency in my books, just a fast way to make some spare change. Unless of course you are day trading in large volumes.

Look at LTC, it was a promising alternative to Bitcoin with a different algorithm altogether, and even that got destroyed. Leave it up to the people that want change, to fuck the change.

For all of you holding BTC, I do hope it recovers or even increases in price. But it's not looking very good as of now ?

DamienVC - January 6, 2015, 6:52 am

Well it did drop down to 265$

I'll be buying a great amount (over 20-30) BTC if the rates go to 250$ this time.

Just think when it goes back to 380$, 130$ profit per coin!

Aston - January 6, 2015, 7:50 am

250$ would be my bet. I have honestly lost faith in Bitcoins and actually sold my coins for a considerable loss.

Cap - January 6, 2015, 7:56 am

It's really hard to say as of right now. Within 10 days, I have a feeling it's either going to decrease to $245 area or curve back up to about $315-$320. I'm getting mixed feelings with BTC right now.

Aceman - January 6, 2015, 10:12 am

Many exchanges have actually shut down because of the lack of trade volume they're seeing. That lack of trade volume stems from the volatility of bitcoin which remained stable for longer periods of time than we had previously seen before. The currency remained stable for long periods of time and many exchangers have stopped day trading for profit.

Juice WRLD - January 6, 2015, 10:14 am

I'll say $283, if I'm dead on someone owes me a steak.

Eddie - January 6, 2015, 11:23 am

Looks like Bitcoin is rising everyday, right now it's at $287.

Shanks - January 6, 2015, 1:43 pm

i see no reason for it 2 go up atm. still i hold lol

Xerotic - January 6, 2015, 2:34 pm

Despite the recent BTC fiasco, I fully expect to be at around $330 on January 15th. A ton of people are going to sell their stake in BTC, but that will only drive the price up IMO when people start trying to manipulate the price with the people's fear.

Dave Skylark - January 6, 2015, 3:11 pm

It looks like my prediction is coming true. It currently at $291 but hopefully it rises more.

Pernille - January 7, 2015, 12:36 am

$320 to $350, prices are low right now and the value of Bitcoins are on their way up. I'd suggest people to invest for minor profit.

webdev77 - January 7, 2015, 3:10 pm

I'll be optimistic and call it right at $345.

Tutelary - January 7, 2015, 4:25 pm

Pessimist--It will be down to 196$ on January 15th.

Zettabit - January 7, 2015, 4:26 pm

Well, considering this thread was posted 2 days ago, and the price is already $297 (at the time of this post), I'd say it'll probably be around $350ish.

ZuGgY - January 7, 2015, 4:28 pm

$300-320 as the market has been like this for quite some time and that I doubt anything exciting may happen for now that will spark up the price, but hey, I could always be completely wrong as anyone may be too.

Raz3d - January 7, 2015, 4:32 pm

I can imagine it bouncing back to $340-360.

EziNet - January 7, 2015, 4:35 pm

NoMercy - January 8, 2015, 4:19 pm

I think it will bounce back up but not yet. In 10 days it will still be dropping and then the bounce will come and launch it back up. This could ear a lot of people a lot of money.

Hiwhatsup - January 8, 2015, 4:36 pm

I am going to guess at around $260-$280

Bitstamp coins are going to be sold and i wouldn't be surprised if any other exchanges or projects get "hacked"

Don't rely on others peoples words though :p

webdev77 - January 8, 2015, 5:45 pm

I had tons of LTC when they were worth about $30+ each. I never sold my LTC and those LTC are now worth $1.50 each. I also committed to the fact that LTC was "experimental" but always had high hopes for it, probably because of Mt.BlackMail (Gox) pumping the shit out of btc and in conjunction, ltc.... I was about to start accepting Bitcoin payments on my retail website when the price was around $350 but i'm not sure if it's still a viable option given the constant decrease. I figure this is because small players are shitting themselves (2014 we never saw <$300) and cashing out while whales are having to sell at least 40% of their daily mined intake instantly just to cover the electricity bill (read it some ware on reddit).

Besides, businesses like mine are fearful of the fact that the price will continuously decrease, which i don't blame them for given the current 'situation' and convert Bitcoin payments to USD instantly... And China, governments, deep web, hackers, media... ughh the list goes on and on, all contributing to this price. Personally, i feel that Bitcoin won't be increasing much in the future. People say that the decrease is good so that the price can stablise some ware, but how far must it go down? Some could even go as far as saying that Bitcoin was "experimental" and that a new and improved 'Internet Currency' will take it's place in the future.

-Olympus - January 14, 2015, 10:08 am

BTC will fall under $100.Call me stupid,but you'll see ;)

Shanks - January 14, 2015, 1:11 pm

I wouldn't be suprisd if we even see it go down & turn at 130 tomorrow. However if it goes below that, you guys won't see me anymore... Dangling somewhere

Not bad ;)

Where it is right now is certainly not what I would have predicted. This is crazy.

I bought some Bitcoins when they were around 480$/BTC, I guess I lost some money there.

Summit1g - January 14, 2015, 1:35 pm

My guess is going to be... BTC 150 by the 20th.

I guess this thread was pretty far off, huh?

Omniscient - January 14, 2015, 3:16 pm

This thread was started 10 days ago. It's pointless to wait till day 9 to post your prediction.

But that makes it so much easier to make an accurate prediction. I'm going to wait until 11:59 to make my prediction.

I think my prediction of 196$ on January 15th will become a reality.

You could be right. I am still predicting 228 in 12 hours.

Polar- - January 14, 2015, 7:16 pm

I am guessing in the the $300 range due to the fact that it went to $250 last time and it bounced to $400.

Hiwhatsup - January 14, 2015, 8:02 pm

To all the people who called $300 or more, I hope you guys are right!

Buy now at a record low, sell once it's high again. Business as usual ehh. ?

Ar?i - January 15, 2015, 3:46 am

It's the 15th now and it's $199, damn

It's actually $210+ by now, not $199.

DamienVC - January 15, 2015, 5:52 am

Its the 15th: <http://preev.com/btc/usd>
Omni is wrong ?

OMFG, it just jumped to $230 when I was typing this post.

Indeed. I predicted 228 with a 7% error a couple of days ago. It will probably rise to 250-270 in the next two days and stabilize there for about two or three weeks going up and down like crazy, then possibly sky rocket due to some more online shops and even local places are accepting bitcoin for payment.

Its increasing and decreasing each second
It was at 170$ even, and now going over 200$
Its at 210$ now.

I would've bought like 10 when it was 170$

460-470 at the start of December, and 170 yesterday.
300 loss. xD

BUT if its the opposite, around 200% profits :)

Omniscient - January 15, 2015, 6:21 pm

Well I think we'll call it that it hit between $193-$223 today with about a $208 average. That's according to CoinMarketCap.

So many of us were very wrong. :(
