Thread: how to talk to a girl that I haven't talk in quiet a few months now

Evil Corp - January 7, 2015, 9:20 pm

I used to talk to this girl everyday for hours and one day it just stopped. I've been thinking about this person lately and I'm not sure how to start talking again...every time we see each other at school hallways, we make eye contact. I'm so mad at myself, she use to say hi and approach me first but I didn't have balls to do something.....

I would just text her saying you miss her, from what I hear girls love it.

Thanks bro I'll take a consideration to that. I don't know if it would be appropriate now because she have a boyfriend now.....

Doesn't mean you can't talk to her lol?

I have a same kind of problem.. If you find a goo way to go, let us all know :D

Ya'll gotta realize that at the end of the day, doing nothing < doing something.

As long as you aren't trying to get with her, you are allowed to talk to her. A girl I hadn't talked to since the end of summer texted me a week or two ago saying she missed me & I'm pretty sure she's taken rn. Missing someone doesn't mean you want to be with them. ;/

No it doesn't, but it'll make her boyfriend mad and conclusively make her not talk to OP at all.

I used to be afraid to talk to any girls. But then I that if I never talk to her then my chance of knowing her will be 0

First, break the ice.

So text her "got a new phone, whose this again?"

Her: its blah, blah

You: cool, its silentkarl. how u been?

Then you can start whatever conversation you want to talk about. Layup.

But also it isn't appropriate to say "Ohh I missed you so much". She may get the wrong idea.

OK OP, this is what ya'll do.

First of all, message her. Say hi, whats up. whatever. Mention that you saw her the other day, and ask her how's it been. whatever she says, build on that. Try to get a conversation going, and then slowly shift it to where you want the convo to go to.

Alright thanks all :) I will try tomorrow. Though I messaged her on kik about 4-6 months ago, she didn't reply but she saw it...You all motivated me so much today, thank you guys.

There was this girl who I used to text daily, hours on end, but then we went on an unspoken hiatus for nearly three years. I broke the ice by simply starting a conversation about how it's been nearly three years since I talked to her. Quite literally.

Something along the lines of:

Quote: Heyy! It's been three years since we've spoken! Crazy isn't it? Haha.

Crazy isn't it? Haha.
Quote:Ummm... Sorry, but who are you?

And this is why Judecca doesn't speak to people who last message was after a few years, children.

Retribute, you sure are lucky.

Try messaging her with something random like "Have you ever thought what a funny word SCUBA is? SCUUBAAA."

Well to be fair, she and I were childhood friends and I did mention that we used to text each other daily for hours ?

Juuzou Suzuya - January 8, 2015, 11:49 pm

Just gradually start talking to her again.

Just say hey then ask whats been going on and just say you'll talk to her again in a few days or something. Try not to talk to her for like 2 hours straight because it'll seem awkward for her.

Pew ? - January 9, 2015, 12:03 am

What you wanna do OP is listen to a bunch of sad ass Drake songs and hit her up and be like "how you been" and then confess you love her and ask her to marry you.

Tons of vouches 10/10 and its a free method so enjoy
