Street photography on the fly. I asked if I could take his picture, he told me to make it quick, fired off 5 frames.

ISO200

f6.4

1/180s

Any Opinions?

Not my best work. I felt incredibly rushed

If you don't feel it is your best work then why are you posting it?

The colors go very well together in this.

And why in the world are you shooting at f6.4?

Its not mine though, i might invest in one soon.

Im posting this because i want to express how spontaneous this shot was Excellent lighting.

I would edit it a bit more just to get the crap out of the background but that's about it.
