Thread: [Scammed \$70 By Deckerzz | UID: 1162776 \[IBRAGGING ABOUT SCAMMING ME\]](#)

High Beam - January 13, 2015, 2:31 pm

Scammers Profile: <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=1162776>

I posted a thread that said "Buying BTC with PayPal". I got a message from him asking if I wanted to buy $70 BTC with 1:1 rates. I sent $70 PayPal to his email, and messaged him my Bitcoin address. He said that he forgot that he didn't have a wallet on his phone, and stalled me for ten minutes. Then, he messaged me saying his bus was late, and it would be another ten minutes. Now, he has just stopped responding, yet he has been online.

Proof:

Money sent to him: <https://i.imgur.com/Tm5uwqj.png>

Private Messages: <https://i.imgur.com/JC1v4HU.png>

I just want my money back, PP or BTC, I don't care.

UPDATED PROOF: he has been stalling for over a month now...

Looks like this broke boy is on a scamming spree. Who wants to bet he ends out with less than he started with? ?

Lol what? Never even dealt with this guy. Scam report is fake. He sent money to my paypal and chargebac to create a scam report. I don't even have any of these pm's except the one linking me to this thread wtf.

After you not responding to me for 20 minutes, and just ignoring me, I decided to take matters into my own hands, and call PayPal.

I even saw you viewing my thread after I linked it to you, and you still didn't respond to my PMs.

I have never dealt with you. It's not hard to create fake messages and stuff. Plus you chargedback saying unauthorised and PayPal deemed it as authorised so I got to keep the money.

Just give me my money back, then I will close this scam report, and everything will go back to normal. I'm trying my hardest to get staff to check my PMs, but they seem to be preoccupied. You're really going to scam for $70? :/

You could of had it back, but you chargedback and got my account limited. And i needed the money that was in my PayPal for my rent and other bills. So think of it as a payment for the inconvenience you have caused me. Even if i did message you about it. You opened the scam report about 4 hours later? And chargedback at the same time.

You told me to send the money, and I did. You said twenty minutes, and I waited an hour. I saw you viewing the scam report, but you never replied to my PMs.

If you want, I'll let you keep $20, just give me $50, and I will close the report.

And a side note, how would I have known your PayPal address if you didn't send it to me?
