

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Want to learn Theme Development

Domovoi - January 14, 2015, 9:55 am

For a while I've been looking for good resources to learn how to develop a wordpress theme and get better with using PHP. At the moment I have a fairly basic understanding of HTML and CSS, though it's been enough to get by up to this point.

There's a ton of stuff out there, but not many do a very good job of explaining what each portion of code does, or really teach it. Instead they kind of teach how to make a certain site, how to make something similar to what they're doing, etc.

I've been trying to use a combination of Udemy (warez disallowed) classes and php coding classes on lynda.com, but I'm looking for something that could be a better and more interesting way to learn.

Vitamin Energy - January 14, 2015, 2:35 pm

I don't know how you learn But i just downloaded some themes and changed everything over and over again.

You can take check this and see if you find any good tutorials.

<http://rockablethemes.com/wordpress-themes-tutorials/>

jorden kate - January 22, 2015, 8:00 am i want to create a social netwroking site. include- voice chat,video callig (randomly like omegle.com),music,student support center, etc etc...please help me.. thank you.