Understalker

The Sky Daddy

Echo is an official group dedicated to Hacking and SST. We consist of only the most skilled users of their field. We are looking for future members to join our ranks, and take up a position in Echo.

We will analyze each application and member extensively, very few will actually make it into the group. Best of luck in your application, remember to be truthful, as you will be tested of your claims.

Requirements:

No open or unresolved deal disputes

Know your limits

Application:

Code [b]In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: [/b]

[b]Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: [/b]

[b]Can you provide proof of your claims: [/b]

[b]Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: [/b]

Making your application flashy or into a video will not increase your chances of getting in.

Do not PM any leaders asking what the status of your application is.

If you have any specific questions which aren't explained, post here.

If you aren't accepted, you may apply in the next recruitment, whenever that may be.

Applying via User CP will not get you accepted, you will be black-listed.

This recruitment will last around 1-2 weeks.

No future recruitments are planned as of now, so take advantage of this.

Goodluck with the group Understalker, seems like a group with great potential.

Webmasters - January 14, 2015, 5:38 pm

Is there a chance to get mentored with the group? I'd be very interested in being mentored.

Doxicity - January 14, 2015, 5:38 pm

Good luck to everyone who applies, should be nice to see new faces.

Factørial - January 14, 2015, 5:39 pm

Awesome, now that Studio is gone looks like I need a group. This looks like a fantastic group to be in, you could definitely expect my application soon!

SoonSunny - January 14, 2015, 5:44 pm

Wish I was at a high enough position in my HF life to apply to this group. I love your design it looks like my versachi tie which is sweet. Looks like an HQ group.

Gonna Go For It

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: I can't hack did not realize it was a hacking group.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: I say again I can't hack and never will be able to unless taught by someone with patience.

Can you provide proof of your claims: I can tell you that I have large creativity and can kind of edit videos.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: Because I am extremely swaggy and if even get thought of being accepted because of this I will pay everyone on this forum $25. (don't hold me to it)

The GRim - January 14, 2015, 5:45 pm

Chaunzie - January 14, 2015, 5:45 pm

Group looks super HQ, I would love to join this group but do not require the skills!

Goodluck to this group, looks like a very interesting group!

Regulus - January 14, 2015, 5:45 pm

Good luck to everyone. I would for sure make an application if i had a bit more knowledge in hacking. Good luck everyone else though :)

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to:

Programming, Security, Creativity, Leadership, and Marketing.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

I'm fluent in PHP, HTML, SQL, and CSS. I've made anything from full functioning websites, to stresser payment systems.

Can you provide proof of your claims:

Yes. You've seen some of my skills, and I'll gladly provide sources. I've also secured stresser sources and the servers they were on. What I do, I do well.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills:

I'm dedicated, and I'm trusted. I'll gladly do what I can to do what I need to do to either help someone out, or accomplish something for myself. I never quit, and always try to succeed in the end.

It's that drive that is crucial to any business or group.

Affluent - January 14, 2015, 6:01 pm

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: My skills lie in my extensive knowledge of being a sysadmin.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: currently in college for a Computer Networking degree and Cyber Defense degree, I provide HackForums with HQ MineCraft servers. I also and installing SolusVm and TCadmin on 2 new nodes so I can sell more services here at low prices.

Can you provide proof of your claims: Yes. I can provide demo accounts on my servers and I can provide you with college transcripts.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: I am an upfront business man, not a child looking for a quick buck. I do not lie, I do not scam and I try to be high quality since it is a reflection on my brand.

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: i can setup a putty booter

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: i learned from a tutorial on hackforums and can hit at 2gbs

Can you provide proof of your claims: ask anyone my booter is the best

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: because i have 100 ovh servers

Larry Lovestein - January 14, 2015, 6:14 pm

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to:
Marketing, Beginner coding, Creativity, Psychology.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

I have recently started learning how to code cheats and plan on being taught more. I love making money so I enjoy the marketplace, I can sell any product that is given to me to sell. If I don't then I won't stop until it has been sold at least 5 times.

Can you provide proof of your claims:

Not much for the marketplace other than being a partner with Psycho Products.

I am currently hosting a giveaway and plan to do more.

Link: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4634010>

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills:

I push myself to the end, and finish my work. I enjoy helping members out along with conversing with them. I love the marketplace and enjoy being a part of a group that has a good intention that will lead itself to success. I love to do giveaways for all members who have contributed to the community. I am very trustworthy aswell and feel that I would fit well into the group and learn a lot from it!

~Tom~ - January 14, 2015, 6:17 pm

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to:

Computer Craft - January 14, 2015, 6:56 pm

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to:

Website vulnerability testing, cracking, SST, SMS stress testing, Server/network management, and general programming.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

Website vulnerability testing: Sql injection, XSS, and SST.

SST: I have setup multiple servers, and apis for clients.

SMS stress testing: I am working on an online amplification system for SMS stress testing.

Server/network management: I have managed many, many servers. From game servers, to SST, to web hosting.

General programming: I know C++, php, html, and lua.

Can you provide proof of your claims:

Most of the work I did managing servers, I would like to leave private.

The only real proof I have for the website vulnerability testing, and SMS stress testing is this website I coded. Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills:

Instead of using old methods, or skidding programs I am trying to develop different methods of hacking and SST.

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: I have skills in Coding, Hacking and Cryptocurrencies. I will expand on these below.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

Omnicoïn

I am on the Omnicoin team, as a developer. I am developing the java implementation of omnicoin - omnicoinJ - and an android wallet for the coin. Since joining the team, I have been a huge factor in the reorganisation and refreshing of the coins development and progress. We have big plans for it.

Cryptocurrencies interested me as soon as I heard about it. I read as much as I could find about how bitcoin works. I am familiar with the source code and workings of cryptocurrencies.

I really love learning about how things are coded. Cryptocurrencies are a hugely interesting topic, because I love learning about encryption, networking, and all the other great things that make cryptocurrencies what they are. That is why I consider myself a specialist in cryptocurrencies.

You can see much of my work in the omnicoin subforum but here are some of my recent contributions:

Coding

If you have a look at my post activity, you will see that I have posted a lot of help in the coding sections (572 total), particularly Java (371 posts). I am always willing and trying to help members with coding issues. I wrote a huge Java tutorial which I have had a lot of positive feedback from various members about.

I am constantly learning and improving my knowledge. I am currently learning ASM, Agda, and a few other languages. I plan on coding my own programming language in the future.

I do not code many large projects to sell, as I do not aim to make money from my skills. I primarily try to help people. But I do have good knowledge/understanding of many languages including .NET (vb and c#), c++, Java (and android development), Haskell, and more. I am also not hugely experienced in web development but I know HTML, PHP, SQL enough to easily use them. I am proficient in many more languages that I haven't listed here, and I can usually pick up languages quickly if I have a need for them, because my abilities in the languages I know have many similarities which are transferable.

I am a very active member in the forum as a whole and in group subforums, and I contribute a lot. This can be seen in my threads listed above.

I contribute a lot to the forum in other areas as well, including some suggestions I have made/am helping with (Premium Hacking Tutorials clean up thread, Add reputation link to new ignore page). I am also an editor for the HFNT, and have done a few small giveaways of both software and money previously.

HFNT Editorial role (Click to View)

I consider myself intelligent, and I learn quickly. For example, I am currently sitting university calculus papers as a 17 year old, and already got A+ in both papers I sat this year. But my passion is coding. I started coding when I was 11, and since then have grown to love it. I code whenever I have spare time, I have coded games, android apps, malware, and other software. I will study computer science at university. I believe this passion and willingness to learn makes me much more valuable than another member with similar skills but without the drive to learn, contribute and help others.

Overall, I am a very active, friendly, helpful and HQ member. I believe I would be a great contribution to the group. I am very willing to contribute, and am a good problem solver.

Thank you for reading this application.

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to:

Social Media Marketing / Monetization

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

Basically, for the longest time I have always had a serious fascination with social media.

When I got a little bit older I realized you can profit greatly from it. So that is when I began to work on my social media empire. Although it is not yet complete I am in the process of creating famous Instagram accounts as well as twitter accounts and potentially a few Facebook pages. However Instagram is my main priority.

Can you provide proof of your claims:

This is an account that I started 2 days ago. I am working on one of my private niches to start building up the account legitimately and without bots.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills:

Because I feel for the most part I have very high expertise in this field and I am one of the only people I know that legitimately builds up social media accounts without the use of bots or programs. Everything I do is done manually and although it may be the hard way to do it in the end it is also the most profitable and best way to learn.

You've said "Social Media Marketing" without showing what you've done & what kind of emails you've targeted. You also need to provide proof on where you've received the emails from as that is always the case within Social Media Marketing as you could get the emails using private methods and/or taking from online lists. Once you provide those details you'd be better off making an application to The Revolution and/or Specialists depending on what else you may have skills within. However I've PM'd Understalker and I have asked him about the possibility of accepting marketers/businessman into the group. I'm quite sure this group would make an exception later. ?

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: programming in javascript, html, php (a little bit), c++, java, and python. I also do a lot of web design.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: I'm not exactly a hacker, and I'm against being a blackhat, however I wouldn't mind using my skills for whitehat purposes. When I was 11, I was so interested in programming that I learned BASIC over the summer. By the time I was 12, I was developing these fun but extremely pointless applications. One of my skills is programming in python, and I have a lot to show for that. I've created chatroom bots for different rooms (mainly chatango). Of course, this required writing custom libraries and constantly updating the source code. I've never really worked on any long term projects although I do have the skills for them.

Can you provide proof of your claims:

Library that I contribute a LOT to: <https://github.com/Sorch/coco>
Node.js library that I contribute to: <https://github.com/MakuraYami/derplib> and an outdated library which I contributed to (CH.PY)

I stick with what I do. I'm a very loyal person and when I make my commitments, i'm very serious about them. While others may have the same skillset or even more than I have, I can proudly say that I can easily be counted on.

Thanks for reading

Can you provide proof of your claims: No. I test my skills on test boxes and friends with permission and have no records of such.

Cooligan - January 14, 2015, 10:21 pm

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: As of right now the only skills I have are people skills. I've worked in customer service for years and have been through the ringer in life. Because of that I have a lot of life experience and I like to use that to help others.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: There's nothing really to further elaborate on. The only other skill I have that I can think of is writing and debating/discussing.

Can you provide proof of your claims: Sure, I have many help desks I could link you to regarding life and relationship problems. However I don't think that will make a difference in applying for this group.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: You should choose me because I'm an honest, loyal and easy to get along with person. The reason I'm applying for Echo is for me to learn about SST and what it has to offer. It has interested me for months but an opportunity like this hasn't come along until now so I'd like to take full advantage of it.

Thanks for reading and best of luck to all other applicants.

The Flash's Echo Application

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to?:

Basic Server Management, Network Monitoring, A good amount of SST, General Networking/Obtaining information, Marketing, and on an unrelated note, graphic design.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

As far as my knowledge with Network Monitoring/SST, I understand how DoS/DDoS attacks work and the specific effect they have on servers. With this knowledge, plus the experience I have, I have good insight as to which kinds of attacks work and don't work on certain servers. (Such as NTP working well on NFO) This experience with how servers protect and how datacenters react to specific DoS attacks is experience that can't be taught, which could be very valuable in a group like this. As far as my other skills, these are other versatile skills that tend to help progress any projects I may become a part of.

Can you provide proof of your claims?:

I ran a somewhat popular graph service that I know several people in this thread used.

All of my posts in SST are based on user experience with a given product and I always try to reply/explain things in an analytical, factual way so they can be understood.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills?:

Choosing me would be a good decision, because I am almost always available and happy to help. Unlike several people on this forum, I'm genuinely nice to everyone and I'm always willing to help. Not only would this be a huge benefit to the group, but this means I will be a good representation of the quality of people in Echo. The members will be wearing the Echo userbar, and I understand that there will be a standard that must be upheld.

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: Ok, let's start! I've been coding for around 8 years now - from PHP to Python I've got it covered. I love coding, it's what I do when I get home, and at work. I've also got a lot of knowledge in security, which I've been studying for a few years now along with system administration. I'm constantly trying to find new methods for DDoS in web-applications such as WordPress, Drupal & Joomla. In fact, I've got a vulnerability in Drupal similar to that of the one in Joomla. I work with servers, visualization environments and 100's of lines of code a day - I know my stuff.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: I've been studying DDoS attacks for over a year now as well, analyzing new methods and ways they're being exploited. I also love making new products, you've used my proxy before but here's a thread explaining what "Proxic" (my new product) will have -> <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4628569>. Here is a list of languages that I program/script:

C#
VB.NET
PHP mySQL
Python
C/C++
Swift
Bash
CSS
JavaScript/jQuery
HTML

Can you provide proof of your claims: I've only done one project here on HackForums, here it is: <https://pastr.me>

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: Unlike other people; I'm friendly, and would love to use my time to educate and share my knowledge within and without the group!

Tokyo ? - January 15, 2015, 1:11 pm

EchoApplication

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: Online Forensics & Networking

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: My skills are relatively simple yet when executed in the correct way, can be extremely valuable.

My main skill is Online Forensics. This consists of two sub-topics that I try to iron out and perfect over time, sub-topics such as Web Forensics & Web De-tracing. Both have significant meaning and are highly demanded services when talking to users online, especially on hacking sites. Although these may not be seen as "hacking" so to speak, they are still one of the essential tools that help hackers stay hidden, or reveal various things and exploits that companies or personnel may not want leaked. It is a skill that I have grasped onto, ever since I was first introduced to Dubitus back in January of 2014. I was more or less his student, and we did some things together and eventually he moved on to Null and left me with some wise words that I have developed into my own style of digital information gathering. I started to perfect this skill when dealing with clients on HF that had a growing interest in what I was doing around the forum... it developed into a service, which can be found here: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4264151>

My second skill, is something that I have just recently started getting into. This skill involves that of Networking. I love the aspect of it, and there is much to learn in a topic that seems to be quite simple when you look at it from the surface. I am taking a college level course on Networking, and Network security... I am hoping to gain an expertise in this field and assist around the forum as well as possibly make it into a full time job. This is not a topic you should test me on, as I only know the basic fundamentals and then some great Topology and simple simple Network Security features. If I was to join Echo, this would be an area I would like to tick as "learning", this is not an expertise as of current by any means but I thought it was necessary to tell you what I am currently focusing on.

Can you provide proof of your claims: I believe I can. Again, Online Forensics would be an area I would love to be tested on, seeing as networking is just starting to creep into my skill-set.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: I have a passion for topics that I get into. Dubitus can vouch for this, as ever since he taught me my first simple steps of information gathering, I have stuck with it for over a year and perfected my methods as much as possible. As I am wanting to learn Networking, I will be an active participant in the group subforum, and most likely working with those who already are more experienced in this field, hopefully catalyzing my performance and abilities in this particular field of interest.

Niely - January 15, 2015, 1:21 pm

Echo... Niely's Application

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: Hacking in general
Pen-testing (websites, systems,...)
Coding/Programming
Basic malware removal

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

Hacking in General: With this I mean things like key-logging, RAT'ing, and things you often see discussed in the hacking-sections. But these aren't really things to brag about in my personal opinion.

Pen-testing: This is a bit more specific then hacking. Web-hacking (SQLi, XSS, Brute-forcing,...), and system-hacking (exploits).

This is a bit more advanced and I also still have a lot of learn in this subject. But I'm making decent progress.

Coding/Programming: This also is something I don't do badly the last time. These are some languages I know:HTML

CSS

JavaScript

PHP

Basic SQL (Only SQLi syntaxes)

C++

Bash

Python

Falcon

C++ is my favourite, Bash my least favourite.

The last two are also languages I'm still learning, however I can already make nice things with it. Right now I'm working on a big personal project which I'll also share here on HF, Mainly C++ coded hacking/pen-testing/analysing/toolbox tools. I've already have got a few ready and they're working out EXTREMELY well, already tested and used some.

Can you provide proof of your claims:

Yes, at least a bit.

In the hacking, coding, and computing sections you'll find some posts of me helping out other's.

I've also made several tutorials:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4178212>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4321958>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4318073>

And several (BASIC) tools:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4514408>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4363143>

*These indeed are really basic tools, and fast-made. Also wasn't really my intention to actually share them. I'm working on a really big project though which includes a LOT of really good working and useful hacking-tools.

These are some videos of me doing BASIC XSS, and Basic SQLi:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=7bfEBnR4gvY>

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=1HKmR9NHZVk>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4518979&pid=43200078#pid43200078>

I've also found and reported several vulnerabilities on relatively big companies/websites.

*You probably have seen me mentioned the word 'Basic' a lot, and the reason of that is because I only have basic proof laying around.

I can also do a bit of malware removal, I know the big lines of how malware works, and am able to remove it in most cases. I also often need to go to see friends, family,... To remove some malware/viruses from their computer.

I'm also planning now on making my own malware (not those Batch thingies), and already have original plans for that in my head.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills:

Well, if you'd look at some of my previous threads you'll see I once was in Legion before it got deleted; and I liked it a lot!

It was the only decent hacking-related group that time. Now, I hope Echo can fill that gap on Hackforums, and at me of having a decent hacking-related group again.

Besides that, even on my personal projects I often give credits to my group.

And if I'm in a specific group, I'm really in it. I don't just randomly join groups to get the user-bar. I only join if I really think the group is nice. I really try to contribute to it.

Doxing is not in any way difficult, and I'm positive that there is an abundance of people in the group currently that can do everything you can do when it comes to doxing, and then some.

Essentially, in what way does Doxing help your application? When in fact every other user in the group can do exactly the same, plus more?

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: I'm motivated, eager, and reliable. When I say I will get something done, believe me when I say I will. I am also extremely business orientated and well organized. At this point you're probably wondering that I have no SST/hacking skills and I barely do. But all business requires more then just an expert in a SST field who makes attack scripts, you need marketers, designers, financial analysts, etc. Nonetheless I'm not going to sit here and milk the shit out of this application and try to tell you I'm a god, when in fact, I am not.

When submitting your application, I highly suggest providing more than just one line of a response. If you do not show effort on your applications, it is clear that the group owners should not put effort into inviting you into the group.

What Echo can provide to its members is to come, we have sophisticated plans outlined in preparation of execution.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

I started coding C# out of fun when I got my first modified XBOX 360 which ran on an reference dll, which sent commands to the exploited console. From there, I started to code my tools for games, and even an Online Service.

PHP; I started coding PHP after I set-up my first stresser a few years back when I was a no-body. PHP gives me a lot of interest because you can do so much with it; like earlier today I coded a simple DDoS API Script.

C++; I didn't take C++ to the full level.. but I learned a bit from running a JTAG/RGH Online Service.

Social Engineering; I like to Social Engineer every once in a while when I'm needing something.

Most of the time I find vulnerable websites that I can easily manipulate and get free items from.

Other; I like to mess around with exploits every once in a while like the PMA Exploit that scans a list of websites that have phpMyAdmin on it, and when it finds the website is vulnerable it adds it to my IRC Server with my custom PHP Script.

Can you provide proof of your claims: Sure, PM me what you would like to see.

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: SQLi (like any skid can) (incl. Union, Time, General Time, etc etc), XSS (obviously. Who can't?), CSRF, LFI, LFD, RFI, Buffer Overflows (incl. Heap BoF, Stack BoF, and bypassing SEH) for code execution, Format String Exploitation (incl. Direct Parameter Access), Race Conditions, Integer Overflows and Underflows, ASLR Bypass, CRLF Exploitation, Coldfusion Exploitation (like anybody can), Windows Dynamic Link Library Search Order Exploitation, RFID Exploitation, Linux Privilege Escalation, Windows Privilege Escalation, MITM Attacks (incl. DNS hijacking and ARP Cache Poisoning, Network Forensics, Hardware Forensics and Anti-Forensics (incl. File Recovery), Return Oriented Programming, Software Reverse Engineering, POODLE SSL Exploitation, Shellshock Exploitation. However, obviously just that alone is not enough, what I should also list are the programming languages I use: C, C++, ASM (Intel Syntax) (and by extension, my own shellcode), Python, PHP, Pascal, SQL.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: Most people here see breaking into a system as simply exploiting vulnerabilities in web applications, however I understand that there are far more options than just using website exploitation to get into a server. I, personally, prefer to work with the low-level side of programs, for example the server itself. If the server itself is insecure, the web application does not need to be exploited.

A lot of people here have false misconceptions on what can and can't be done, simply because some other person on the forum says it can't be done (for example, hacking someone after getting their IP, or hacking someone through skype (did some reverse engineering on MSNP24 recently and saw how vastly insecure it is)). I don't want these misconceptions to be continually fed to newcomers who want to learn.

My account is new, but my knowledge is not

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: (regarding the topics you mentioned:) Both server stress testing and hacking.

I have set up, managed and supported quite a few stressers and even helped with development of custom sources.

I have basic knowledge in penetration testing and reconnaissance using Nmap and the Metasploit Framework.

I am also able to do SQLi and I can give you a link to my securityoverride account on which you're able to view some simple tests I did while bored at school.

(My skills also include: Linux server management, Firewall, MyBB, Coding (PHP, SQL, CSS, HTML, VB.NET, Python(simple)), Cryptography, Cracking accounts)

Can you provide proof of your claims: Regarding hacking both yes and no.

I can link you threads to projects which I participated in and I can get the owner of those projects to vouch that it's indeed me.

But there's no way you'd really know that I did what I did.

I should be able to provide more than enough proof when it comes to SST, I can also get people to vouch for me regarding this.

I only have these threads on this account on this forum:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4646046>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4646568>

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: That's completely up to you to decide, but I believe that there's more than enough improvement for me. I hope that I'll be able to increase my knowledge in the hacking.

-----In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: -----

Programming, Can program pretty much anything you want. Cracking, can crack accounts to pretty much any website you want, Hacking, been hacking for a while though I just got into stressers recently.

-----Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: -----

I have been programming for several years now (around 7) after I started getting a little bored with programming I started getting into hacking (actually it's a funny story, my dad took away my computer because I got bad grades and he has his computer in the living room so I was going to use it, but he put a password on it so I couldn't, ended up hacking the computer and getting into his account and making a guest user account for me. So, I was like this is pretty cool!) After hacking, I didn't really have any one or thing to hack so next on my list was cracking, which I was exposed to since I got all my brazzers accounts from a site that cracked them. So Now my newest found expertise is cracking.

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: I am mostly experienced within the topics that can be referred to as hacking. Things such as web-application exploitation, pentesting, web-forensics, web-detracing, rooting, grade modification, server access and so on. I've got decent knowledge around the SST fields, but I am currently studying the shit out of SST-based stuff. I've ran a few booters and made quite a good income off it, but shut down after some time.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: I've been in the hacking scene for quite a long time, I know most of the people, I've been there, done that. I've had access to a lot of things, anything from private 0days to shells on huge websites/corporations.

Can you provide proof of your claims: Not in this recruitment thread.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: Because I am dedicated to what I do. I am not the person who gives up without reaching success. I'm willing to learn anything I need in order to complete a goal. I love to learn new things, I love to meet new people and I love to monetize out of knowledge and experience.

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: Coding (PHP, HTML(css), Java, VB, Lua) RAT technology including station hosting, botnet and server client relations, social engineering and execution strategies

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: I've learned coding mostly from school and Garry's Mod hosting (lua). I have ample experience with RAT programs such as Darkcomet, Blackshades (versions 3.1 to 5.5.1), Cybergate, Darkhole, Backorface, JRAT (including custom plugins) I have been part of the Blackshades HF group way back then, as well as RAT crew

Can you provide proof of your claims: Obviously, otherwise I wouldn't be claiming such. I don't claim to be some massive hacker, but I know a lot about my field I've specified in

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: Unique mindset, I suppose. If you're looking for my particular skills and strategies, you won't find someone with the unique expression and mindset that I have

I apologize if my application appears or not interesting, hopefully you'll consider me. Feel free to PM me about anything personal or application-related :)

Attention everyone

Our beloved soldier and a well known warrior Understalker is down. It will take him a while to recover from the incident. I would like to ask you all to join me in my prayers to the Lord, Jesus Christ, the divine healer.

Dear Lord,

I praise you for your compassion and your goodness.

Marvelous are your healing mercies.

Lord, as sickness has invaded my little one's world, I stand by watching and feeling helpless. But Lord, I am reminded that I am not helpless but powerful in prayer.

I lift up to you my precious child, and I ask for your healing power to fully permeate every part of my child's body.

Lord, I ask that my child's body be quickly transformed into radiant health as you respond to prayer and your healing promises in your Word.

In Jesus' name I pray,

Amen

Hello there, my name is Noodlebot™ and I am a designated helper, salesman and support member to this forum.

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to:

Networking, Spreading/SE, RAT/Loggers/Miners/Bnet's and General/Advanced computing

Over many years, and a little experience on other forums before HackForums, I had started out using all the keyloggers and RAT's out there, playing with crypters and experimenting with coding in different languages, however not much.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

I ended up pursuing different goals then most, I wanted to be more of a knowledge base then an actual user of the software. I just wanted to know how everything works and what you're able to do with it when you know how. Me and a friend started our JDB company here on HackForums and I had been a seller ever since, helping hundreds of customers set up their applications and fixing their networks to allow it - many of them just getting into the "Hacking" phase.

After this it's been almost a year and I am selling a crypter currently, however I plan to in the next month/hopefully few weeks to be bringing in a new unique product to the marketplace.

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to:

Web Hacking (SQLi, Union, Time, General Time, XSS, CSRF, LFI, LFD, RFI), MITM (DNS hijacking and ARP Cache Poisoning), Software Reverse Engineering (learning), Private Investigation & Web Detracing, Programming (C#[7/10], Python[8/10], C++[6/10], learning PHP), Creativity, and Leadership.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

Although I specialize on Web Hacking and doxing, I'm pretty fluent with Python and C#. I started C++ 4-5 months ago, so I'm still learning. I've worked on many projects with people from my group, had many experiences as well. I am a person who is really interested on exploits, and love to find new stuff.

Can you provide proof of your claims:

I could provide better claims, but since my website was taken down, which I had all my stuff there, I can only provide HF claims :(

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to:

Psychology, Cryptography, Coding, Basic DDoSing.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

I started with a shitty Booter I used to make myself feel like an Internet gangster. That was when I was around about 14. I developed in every aspect and now I'm sitting here and I'm currently working on my R.A.T., Crypter and spreading exploits. I know how DDoS attacks work and how to make them as effective as possible for the target.

Can you provide proof of your claims:

I wasn't really active on the Marketpalce yet. I started to sell an eBook that had a great feedback but never was sold. I completely forgot about it, lol.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills:

I work with one of the greatest passions you will ever see. As I mentioned above I have this one dream. I want to visit the U.S.A. for a year and go to highschool. (I am German). I set myself the goal to sell the best Crypters and R.A.T.s until I can afford it. I want to make my tools perfect.

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to:

Network Stressing, RAT(s),Logger(s), Designer(GFX), DoXing

In these year i was learning alot of DoXing and Graphic Designing and Network Stressing
Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

Atm, I Specialize on Network Stressing and Graphic Designing, DoXing. Me and my homies are working on a big project on a big stresser that will hit hard and it will be sold on HF but still i still gonna learn alot more.

Can you provide proof of your claims:

Spoiler (Click to View) I cant claim my DoXing because i dont make threads about it and For my Graphic designing you can see it all on my reps that i was designing logo(s) for HF members. For my Network Stressing claim i can show you how powerful my attack is :)

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills:

I don't want to privilege myself over anyone, but with some of my knowledge can be very good for the group. Im a very friendly person and im easy to get along with! i wanna learn new stuff from you guys and hopefully we all get along

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to:

Spoiler (Click to View)

Networking, Programming/Website Design, GFX, RATTING, Botnets, being gay?...

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

Spoiler (Click to View)

With networking, I know how to work with DDoS and so on. However I am not the best, I still have a lot to learn. Hense, I am a skid XD, idk how else to say it. I just don't know everything about networking, but I know what I need to know.

As to programming and website, I am not the best at coding, like its not all on the top of my head. I will sometimes have to google search some info about the things I am working on if I can't remember a simple piece to a bit of code I am working on. However I try to make everything my own and from scratch without having the assistance of open source projects.

As to GFX, I have been making graphics since I was 10 and now I think I have gotten really good at it. There is a lot of stuff I am still learning, and things I need to learn about being inspired to create certain things for certain GFX ideas.

As to RATTING, that is the very first thing I have ever done as to 'hacking'. I have learned how to spread, how to set servers up so I don't get caught and so on. I use RDP's instead of my own desktop to RAT people for extra security on myself. Also, I know about encryption and so on, bla bla bla, you get the picture.

As to botnets, pretty much the same thing as ratting, except I know more about HTTP botnets more so than IRC botnets because >> skid <<

As to being gay, you can figure this one out yourself.

Can you provide proof of your claims:

Spoiler (Click to View)

My Website | <http://princegumball.com/>

GFX | <http://princegumball.com/kk> they are old n shitty but its all i got :P

Network Stressing... not really, I mean if I could load a old cash of my old DeLiLa Twitter, you could see me taking OVH servers down :PP

RATTING, idk and botnets idk, and as to being gay well.. dildo? :L

In What Fields Do Your Skills Pertain Too? -

I have been Doxing & Online Booting since a young teen, I now excel in doing these projects and are a everyday job for myself to make some money, currently my Sql is not strong enough to hit big websites offline but can lag them. Websites that I can take down are mainly Ejiin sites.

Further Alaborate On Your Skills -

In the past I have worked with large groups to over came big task that have become world hacking news, like the XboxOne & PlayStation Network boot.

Doxing for me is not my main skill asset I focus on but I can do it if needed, I do not find it as enjoyable as seeing a internet error :3

Can You Provide Proof Of Claims -

Yes, I would not like to post Ping Results in this thread or Doxing reveals as there may be law enforcements scouting these forums. I will private message you pictures if accepted into the group.

Why Should We Choose You? -

I'm a very patiant and relaxed guy so if someone needs help I will not stress out if its taking time for them to learn how to do a certain skill.

I believe with the knowledge I know I can help the group reach out to other skill sets making their knowledge wider which will make the group more powerful.

Introduction:

Hello! I know this wasn't a required field in the application, but I would like to introduce myself. My name is Connor, and I am a 17 year old guy. I've always had a deep interest in computers, especially security. I would like to be a Penetration Tester. Along with offensive stuff, I am also involved with defensive stuff. For instance, at my school there is a program called CyberPatriot. I have been serving as the team captain for the last two years, and we have won 2nd in the nation at the national finals competition the last two years. CyberPatriot is basically a program, where they give us "vulnerable" virtual machines, and our goal is to fix the problems. We are scored on the number of vulnerabilities we are able to fix. I have also taken part in a competition called CyberAces, which at the finals was a SANS NetWars competition. Against college students, other high school students, as well as people working in industry, I took second place. I'll get into more of my actual skills in a little bit.

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to:

There is a website/community I am a part of called Vulnhub. Basically, members of the site create vulnerable virtual machines, where your goal is to hack into them, and gain administrative privileges (root). This helps teach various penetration testing concepts.

My particular skills:

Buffer Overflows
Format String Vulnerabilities
Any and all things Linux/Unix
Python
C/C++ (I know a bit, but I'm not an expert by any means)
BASH
Networking (Including Cisco)
DDoS

I am also always looking to learn new things!

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

Rather than simply talking about my skills, I'll show you what I can do.

Python:

I've done a bunch of Project Euler problems: <https://github.com/cquick97/Project-Euler>
Unfortunately I don't have many programs saved to show. Usually I'll write scripts specific to a certain penetration test, and generally won't save it...

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to:

Networking, Spreading/SE, RAT/Loggers/Miners/Bnet's and General/Advanced computing

Over many years, and a little experience on other forums before HackForums, I had started out using all the keyloggers and RAT's out there, playing with crypters and experimenting with coding in different languages, however not much.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

I ended up pursuing different goals then most, I wanted to be more of a knowledge base then an actual user of the software. I just wanted to know how everything works and what you're able to do with it when you know how. Me and a friend started our JDB company here on HackForums and I had been a seller ever since, helping hundreds of customers set up their applications and fixing their networks to allow it - many of them just getting into the "Hacking" phase.

After this it's been almost a year and I am selling a crypter currently, however I plan to in the next month/hopefully few weeks to be bringing in a new unique product to the marketplace.

Infinite's Application

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to:

Graphics Design, Coding, Marketing, and Legal

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

To furthermore elaborate on the skills provided above I will go through each one in no particular order starting with Graphics Design. I know Graphics Design does not really apply to the group; however, I decided to include this as well as a few others within the application as they still can be used regardless of whether the group is all about SST's.

I started computer graphics in 2008 when I first found my passion for digital creativity, from there until now I have worked in many companies completing graphics such as logos, banners, and most recently thread designs on Hack Forums. Through Graphics Design, I realized it would be essential to learn website design in order to extend my graphics market. That basically leads in to coding. I am fluent in many coding languages such as the HyperText Markup Language (HTML), Cascading Style Sheets (CSS), and HypterText Preprocessor (PHP). I started learning these in 2011 when I was in my 2nd last year of school (Year 11 Australia, not sure on the conversion for other countries), and have continually improved my skills/knowledge in the languages.

The last two skills that were mentioned above do not have too much of a back story to them; however, they both are subjects that I currently am studying in University.

Can you provide proof of your claims:

Yes, I can provide proof that can back up my claims stated above. However, these claims can only be seen on Hack Forums.

To back up my graphics, you can look through nearly all my threads and see the graphics that I have made specifically for the thread and for proof that I can code, please go to my current Server Stress Testing software that was custom coded in my recent threads.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills:

I am a great candidate because I strive for perfection in the task at hand. I can assure you that I'll give my best for the benefit of the group and its members. You should choose me over the other great candidates because I have the ability easily cope with new challenges, and interact effectively with people that I personally do not know. Through my eagerness and my wilful ability, I believe I could help to contribute greatly to the progression of Echo within the community. Apart from my determination to excel, my passion on this field is undeniable. I know that passion and drive for excellence in anything is a key to success.

I personally would like to thank you for taking your time to go through my application, if you have any questions please let me know and I will answer them as soon as possible.

Thanks,
Infinite

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: I can do lots of things. Since your group does hacking and stress testing, I can do that.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: I've helped website owners in the past with checking their websites for vulnerability and had a great time with it.

Can you provide proof of your claims: No, anything I've done never required me to keep records of it.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: Someone else may have the skills, but do they have the enthusiasm? :D :D :D

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to:

Web Hacking (SQLi, XSS, LFI); Private Investigation (Learning); Marketing (E-Whoring, CPA, PPC, General HF Selling); Programming (General PHP knowledge, Delphi); GFX (Photoshop, Sony Vegas Pro); General Hacking (Knowledge on how to use & setting up most programs sold on HF; specialize in RATting); Creativity and Helping anyone in need.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

Was big on web hacking and defacing about 2 years ago, then started to focus more on developing skills in programming. Have been programming for about 4 years now. Started to learn PHP about 5 months ago so I have general knowledge. I am very experienced in Sony Vegas Pro, been editing for 2 years now. Been working with Photoshop for about 1 year. I know ALMOST everything there is to know about RATs, and I've been learning DOXing for the past month. My passion is to help anyone that needs it, I am an extremely friendly person and easy to talk to.

? [$(1000)$] ? - February 2, 2015, 9:26 am

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to:

I have been RATing since the original Sub7 days when AOL2.5 was out. I have been DOXing for about 5 years and pretty damn good at it.

I have created many webpages in the past. I will not say I am a webmaster, but I can do it. I love to help people and pretty active on the forums and in Skype group chats. I have experience with PPD and just started my new long journey with CPA!

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

I have helped a lot in the eWhoring section. I had a group with a support desk (<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4146783>) that ran for several months. We also made HackForums News. We did all services for FREE. Most of my help has been in the eWhoring section, but I also help in the RAT section with helping people setting up their RATs. Also was support for Kazy Crypter. I help where I am able to and always LOVE to learn so I am able to help even more. Also I did several successful giveaways and have upgraded 3 members on HackForums(Not contest upgrades) that were just generally great members to the eWhoring group that we ran.

I currently love to help people. Since my rep fuck (Due to the fact of sending new Uber members a guide on how to use their new features I also included "I'll rep you in 24 hours" which got me rep fucked), after reading the rules again, I do understand and accept I did break them. I had around 440 positive reps with 0 negative or neutral reps. After not being active for a couple months, I'm back and willing to help new and old users AGAIN!

*Also becoming more active in the Private Investigation Methods and Anonymity, I enjoy learning DOXing skills, which I have been doing for over 3 years now and Anonymity!

*Since being with The Revolution/Fortune, I have been very active with the RAT setup help desk.

Can you provide proof of your claims:

[\[\[CLOSED BY GROUP\]\] \(\) Officially Unofficial eWhore Help Desk \(\)](#)
[\[\$\(1000\)\$\] How To Create A Fake Eviction Notice And Plane Ticket](#)
[\[\$\(1000\)\$\]How To Unban Yourself For Chat-Avenue and Many Other Chat Sites.](#)
List of eWhoring Sites \(No Survey\)\(No PM\)\(Always Updating\)

I had 2 other help desk in the RAT sections and in the DOX section, but since the group name change and they are more focused on other things, besides the help desk in those 2 sections. I junked them.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills:

I am willing to be very active and help in all areas that I am able to help in. I love to help, because remember we all were NOOBs at one point. I get a joy giving back to HackForums. I've learned a lot from HackForums and from the users here and I am willing to continue to give back!

I have very creative ideas when it comes to spreading and I also would love to learn more in hacking. I love to learn!

Thank you for your time.

eXceptional's Application To Join "Echo"

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to:

I'm a marketer and specialized in Social Media Marketing.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

I run my own Social Media Panel for resellers which is "SocialDealers".

I'm also planning to upgrade the panel and work on a bigger base.

Since there are a lot of investments to be made I'm just waiting for the funds to be collected and once I'm done I'll be shooting the business at a bigger platform.

This group would be the third group on Hackforums which I would join and the past 2 groups named "Eminence" & "Enterprise" had their name changed and the leader was changed due to some reasons I was removed but now I can prove the group and the Leaders especially that I would be the perfect person specialized in this particular field.

Can you provide proof of your claims:

Yes, I can provide the proof's but I'm not providing them for now because the question asked is that if I can provide proof or not.

I can also say instead providing pictures and video's I can give some Twitter Followers / Instagram Followers / Vine Services / Soundcloud Plays, Etc.. in return to the Leader or the application reviewer to test my skills.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills:

Here are some thread's which I am running on HackForums since a long time.

No much vouches or post counts but the quality is A+, there would be only vouches and questions asked by everyone in the thread apart from that there would be no LQ posts.

SocialDealers | Instagram Likes/Followers Starting At \$1.00 Per 1000 | CHEAP & FAST

eXceptional's Cheap SMM Services! | Twitter | Instagram | MORE! ~ | Reseller Panel |
[\[Guide\] How To Start Your Own Social Media Business \[Noob-Friendly\] \[AutoBuy\]](#)

Apart from the above mentioned threads there are many more threads which have been created and many giveaways are also done.

I can just hope to get accepted rest the reviewer has the rights to accept me in the group.

I mainly focus on Private Investigations, which is something I am fairly good at. I've ran a free service for a while to help people out who really needed certain private information about someone.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

I have several ways of collecting personal data about a certain target and currently have about 7.5GB in databases stored on some old hard drive. I do plan on collecting a lot more and will most likely expand my collection to at least 15 GB, when I have freed up some space.

Official Echo Recruitment - Hacking & SST

KillerNoodles' Application

"What we do in life echoes in eternity."

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: Server Stress Testing, White Hat Virus Removal, Account Cracking, Gaming, Business.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: I have been stress testing for a while now, and I know the ins and outs of it. I'm in college and I study - Computing, Business Studies, Media and Electronic Engineering. I hope that with joining the group I can share all that I know about these subjects and teach others all about what I know.

Can you provide proof of your claims: Yes, I can show you myself using my stresser. I can provide evidence of whatever you want. If you would like, I can give you access to my stresser to try it for yourself or I can show you anything else you want from anything else I expertise in, like I could crack an account for you.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: I think you should choose me as I'm a good member of the community that can help input to the group and help it grow tremendously. I also think that with my skills, I can help teach others and share my knowledge on this subject.

Acite's Application

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to:
Marketing, Networking, Virus Removal.
Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:
I've been Marketing scene for the past year now
I am very skilled at Virus Removal helped many people over the years get Rats, Keyloggers, Backdoors off their computers/laptops.
Also, I'm gonna start Programming & Coding.
I know Virus Removal & Marketing isn't really involved with SST but those are some of my best fields as of now.

Can you provide proof of your claims:
Everything I've done over the years was kept to myself, mostly favors I do for people
anyhow I can make Tutorials to prove my claims.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills:
I strive always for the best work that I can do, and I'm willing to take on new challenges so I can be better in all fields of work that I'll be doing. Also, I'll love to hear more knowledge from other members & see what they have to say. I always strive for Success and Greatness.

Thank you for taking your time to read this through,
I know my reputation is quite low & along with my post count.
That will be changing throughout this year on Hackforums.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: Familiar with RATS, keyloggers, iPhone modding, bruteforce, clash of clans modding. Recently set-up my own email server so emails from different IPs won't get blocked (used for Keyloggers).

Can you provide proof of your claims:

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: I've been dedicated to black-hat work since I was very young. I started out by manually bruteforcing Club Penguin accounts. I would crack about 50 accounts per day, I even sold the good ones at school. After that I moved onto various iPhone games which I would hack using iFile. I've owned a few booters (all unsuccessful) and rented over 20 total. When I joined HF, I started learning about Keyloggers. I got into them for a while until I discovered RATS which is what I'm focusing on now. I'm also able to dox if needed, it takes me a lot of time and usually isn't really worth it but I compile them every so often. I'd love to join Echo, I think I'd fit right in.

Jake Miller Is A Scammer - February 7, 2015, 3:44 pm

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: I have skill within the most topics, whether I am slightly experienced, or intermediate on the topic. The fields I've been researching and working on the most are the 'hacking' fields; rooting, web-forensics, footprint-removal, privilege escalation, data retrieval with SQL injection, and so on. I have a little knowledge within the SST section as I've been partnered with several people who has ran booters back in the day. I know about various attack methods, what they do and how they work. How to manage servers, sources, attack scripts and how to set up and run a booter. I've got some knowledge within search engine optimization (SEO), aswell as advertising and marketing.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: For a long time I've been studying and doing research on various topics related to hacking, where I've finally started monetizing from doing what I am experienced at. I'm a quick learner and after I've learnt something useful; I will most likely monetize from it. I'm not greedy at all; if we're working together as a team I will not take more than what belongs to me. I've been in the hacking scene for quite some time, I know quite a lot of people and I am capable of acquiring 'private' things such as information, databases, shells, methods, exploits and so on. If I set a goal, I will most likely acquire that goal.

Can you provide proof of your claims: I can obviously not provide proof of all my claims, but I can provide proof upon request rather than posting it on this thread as I wouldn't like to publicize such stuff on a public forum. I'd be more than happy to provide proof of atleast some of my claims to a member of Echo.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: First of all I am not greedy, I will do what I am required to do, I will only take what's mine and such. It shouldn't be a problem to get a good flow with me, I like new friends and I like to have a laugh with others. I'm willing to participate within several products/services, share my knowledge and methods with other members and stay active.

Jason™ - February 9, 2015, 8:54 am

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: Currently I have been focusing on Server Stress testing a LOT.

I have been improving my power daily / weekly and also offer some services of in the SST section. As of right now, I currently hit MAX around 50k R/S. I guess it's decent, but I am always looking to upgrade.

I'm definitely interested in joining this group and talking to people who have the same or common interests as myself.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: Well, I am always working and learning more every day. The people that I talk to, the people that I make friends with, and everyone that I meet help me learn, and I also teach them some things. As I stated earlier, I have been working pretty hard on my L7 lately, and it has paid off. I would love to join this group to talk to people with same interests in the SST section, and of course other sections as well.

Can you provide proof of your claims: I can definitely provide proof of my claims. I will add some spoilers of the latest progress of my dstats.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: I believe that you should choose me over someone else of similar skills for many reasons.

The first reason that I believe I should be chosen is because I am friendly, listen, and support. If someone needs help, or wants to show me something I am always glad to listen and help out.

I also believe that the power I have most people on HF do not have, and that makes me a bit unique.

I will be contributing member and definitely willing to learn and help.

I'm a little confused, there's 24 pages of application yet nothing on what to expect should someone apply and be accepted? I mean, you state "Take up a position" what exactly will be expected of a member should he/she be accepted? Are there any of those arbitrary number of posts per day rules? Are there any rules? What exactly could someone expect of the group in return for "taking up a position"?

I mean, there's finally a group focused on hacking again, so my curiosity is piqued, I just don't really want to commit to something I don't understand.

I'd say, people with knowledge, I send my application via PM and got accepted so. By the way, with knowledge I don't mean: I have a good stresser, T/N 420Gbps.

By the way, it's HF. Most of the people have false claims or don't have skills, there are smart individuals. But that's what I think.

Honestly this group is full of Understalker's friends who think they're "hackers", along with Undetstalker himself.

Wouldn't recommend joining.

Socrates???? - February 11, 2015, 2:03 pm

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: Well related to this group would mainly be the sst part. I also have some experience in coding too

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: Mainly in the sst part, I have been completely self taught. I've learned how to scan most lists by myself and filter them. I now run a booter too. I have also made a few basic booter sources but im starting a new one on saturday. I also have known about some spoofable hosts long before they were released publicly and i still know a few that i havent seen posted publicly. I also have a few methods that i dont think anyone else has, so thats kind of a bonus.

Can you provide proof of your claims: Booter.org, source ive sold (<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4525931>) not sure what else to show. I could show some dstats but not sure how useful that would be.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: I can provide some stuff to the group. Like spare attack servers when im not using them, or even lists if someone is too lazy to scan. I have also been thinking about a way for all of us to get discounts on attack servers but Id like to clear that with some of the leaders first, ect. Not to mention the sst section is where i hang out a lot.

Anyways thanks for reading i really do appreciate it.

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: Computer hardware, software, some game design, networking, and basic website protection. Also, of course, creating websites. Graphics design can be added to this list, although I am no master of Photoshop. I have skills with marketing, and can turn small investments into large gains time and time again. I am very dedicated, at that.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: Been working with computers since I was a kid. Over a decade of webmastering, game design, server hosting, computer hardware, etc.

Can you provide proof of your claims: Well, although it's nothing crazy, I have built dozens upon dozens of computers for local businesses, myself, friends, etc. I have also setup networks, backup servers, file sharing servers, and office suites for many businesses in my area. I can potentially link to past websites I've owned, and been a large part of. Many were successful at the time. I may also be able to find some of my old game projects, etc.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: Because I have no life with which to dedicate to whatever interests me. Got nothing better to do.

Chicken sandwich.

I'm even more confused now. The OP states : "If you have any specific questions which aren't explained, post here."

I asked the question 3 days ago :

Any sort of feedback on my actual question rather than on the guy who posted his opinion on my question?

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: Mainly... Social engineering, Penetration testing, RAT'ing, Stealers, Keylogging, SQL injection, Black box and white box testing, coding.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: Security consultations and cyber crimes tracking, CEH and CHFI certified.

Can you provide proof of your claims: No.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: It's all about the attitude and the motivation, that what makes you shine between the stars.

Pentesting, and cyber security.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

Went to school for Sys Admin, and also Internet Sec.

Can you provide proof of your claims:

More than happy to if you really wanted me to.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills:

I just love the security world. I love reading and watching new things being exploited and it leaves me always interested to learn more. I will be attending Def Con 23 this August just to keep updated with the news. Also, I am self motivated and love to share my experience and knowledge as well as learning and listening to others.

La Cocaina - February 14, 2015, 4:56 pm

El Cocaina his application

Remorse is the echo of a lost virtue.

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to:

My working field extends beyond two different factors, from the brute forcing machinery, towards the database injectors.

I'm a brute forcer, my tasks will be heard as an echo over thousands of miles.

To gain loads of user & pass, or email & pass information, I breach loads of databases.

My biggest breach is a 9.6 Million database, if you want, I can send evidence.

Yet, my field of work doesn't end there, I've been active with ratting and some simply defacing before.

I used to be one of the support employees on a booter which isn't allowed to be named on here.

I know the basics of stress testing, but that's about it.

So I do not claim to have a certain skill level, nor do I seek to expand my skill level within that specific category.

There is no love that is not an echo.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

I can fully elaborate what my skills are, same for my expertise.

My skill set ranges from brute forcing, to taking down websites. But it doesn't end there.

I'm able to rat users, jack social media's (used to be able to do so, not sure if it still works), social engineer and way more.

I've been around the hacking scene for over 4 years now.

My expertise are within the brute forcing part, I love brute forcing.

I have over 200K cracked accounts on my name, most of them never to be sold, yet very cool.

Translation is at best an echo.

Can you provide proof of your claims:

Yes sir, I can provide 100% proof of my claims.

I'll list them with in a spoiler due the massive amount of images.

Knowledge is soon changed, then lost in the mist, an echo half-heard.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills:

Despite the fact I highly doubt you'll find anyone with similar skills to me, I'll answer this.

I'm a competitive person, if there is someone better than me, I will keep training until I'm better.

I wanna win at everything, losing isn't an option. It's my motivation.

Not many people can say that winning is their motivation.

I'm also a fast learner, I am always down to learn new stuff.

Next to that I also like to help out people with issues, could be related to cracking or whatever they need help with.

Thank you for actually reading my application.

I'd appreciate it if we get to hear if we're denied or accepted.

Thank you.

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to: WPA Cracking, Stressing, Password cracking, Ratting, "Man in the middle attacks" Doxing, Creating deface pages and html design.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise: As stated above a lot of my skills are for "local hacking" but i can do alot of "non-local" as well. I would have to say my expertise is with ratting, im not into mass ratting but more or less targeted victims.

Can you provide proof of your claims: With my skill set that would be a bit hard to provide proof but if need be im sure i could conjure up something for you.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills: In all honesty i can't answer this, i know for a fact there are better hackers than me, and i will never claim to be the best.

In what field(s) do your skills pertain to:

I'm not entirely sure how to answer this question, but I'll give it a shot as to what I think you're looking for. I have basic knowledge of pretty much anything hacking related, from hacking a website, doxing, jacking accounts and bruteforcing.

Further elaborate on your skills and expertise:

I wouldn't say I'm an expert by any means, I just enjoy learning. I'm not really good at coding/programming although I do go to college and programming is covered in my course so I will be learning more about that subject and it does really interest me. I have fairly basic knowledge in SQLi and plan to expand my knowledge, I have bruteforced mostly Minecraft accounts but I never sold any just kept them for myself, I have doxed people in the past although I never really got into doxing people (I could show some doxes if you wish), I used to be able to jack pretty much any account (Social Media) (Obviously not ridiculously huge people) things such as Twitters, YouTubes etc.. Although I haven't done this in a while and it was by Social Engineering so my methods may be outdated. I feel like I'm just going to bore you if I write anymore so I'll stop. I'll add that I am a very, very keen learner, especially when it comes to computers and hacking/cracking. I just find it extremely interesting, I don't think I'm as skilled a member as you are looking for but I thought I'd apply anyway. I'm always learning new things in whichever topic I choose, usually I stick to something for a month or two and then move onto something else and learn about that. I'm a reasonably quick learner

Can you provide proof of your claims:

I sadly don't offer any services on the forum, compared to the current services offered on the forum (Some) I don't feel trusted or have a high enough reputation around to the forum to be hosting services such as Doxing, and such. Although if this is required I can certainly work on my skills a lot more and will happily open up a service or two. Perhaps Minecraft alts or something, I really don't know. I can provide Minecraft account lists or crack fresh accounts, attempt to deface a website that's vulnerable, dox someone or show previous doxings, I would say I could jack an account as evidence but I'm fairly sure my methods are needing updating. Basically, I'll provide proof if you require it first hand.

Why should we choose you over someone of similar skills:

I'm easy to get along with and talk to, I've been told I'm funny and reasonably relaxed once I get to know people. Although, if I don't know someone and they piss me off I'm quite easily angered and can flip out fairly easily. It can be funny I suppose, but I try to keep my chill most of the time. I can be as active as possible and am constantly learning, I currently go to college on a computing course as well which is always increasing my knowledge.

I can't code very well just now, but I've been considering teaching myself as after a couple of classes about website development I find it fairly easy. This would also increase my knowledge on finding vulnerabilities in websites which is good I suppose. I know my limits and I don't boast around saying I'm some sort of Ub3r L33t fucking god of the internet, I just find that pathetic. I'm here to learn and better myself, not for any sort of Fame.

Thanks you for reading my application and I do hope you consider me, although I'm not really expecting to get accepted. Been here for a couple of months now and this is the group that I think has interested me the most as you enjoy learning about what I enjoy learning about, so why not apply? Peace! ?
