Thread: [\[Janus\] SQLi challenge #7 \[hard\]](#)

JaNuS18 - January 22, 2015, 4:09 am

Hi folks,

Let's continue my serie of challenges. Credits for this challenge go to ajkaro. ?

~ Tasks ~

- display numbered list of all databases
- at each database name show number of tables in that database
- after each database display numbered list of tables in that database (start tables numbering with number 1 with each new database)
- at each table name show number of records and columns in that table
- after each table display numbered list of all columns in that table (start columns numbering with number 1 with each new table)
- indent each level (databases/tables/columns) - see proof picture (example with database #2)

~ Site ~

(Base64 decode it using online decoder like <https://www.base64decode.org/>)

~ Rules ~

- for each level of data (databases/tables/columns) use different colors (for example red/green/blue)
- in your syntax you should iterate trough all three relevant tables: information_ schema. schemata for data about databases / information_ schema. tables for data about tables and information_ schema. columns for data about columns. Other tricks are not allowed ?
- you may not use benchmark() ?

Post your syntax to <https://privnote.com> (it is automatically destroyed after reading) and send me link to PM

Let's SQL knowledge be with you ?

Anybody is forcing you to take part in challenge? ?

Some people are doing challenges for fun ? Some for experimenting with new syntax. Some enjoy bypassing WAF, some in programming in SQL... ? Some of us have special competition with challenges...

You can also just skip them and ignore them ? It's a free world. Choose what you like... ?

Yeah, like you know why I am opening challenges.... Like you know our debates via PM... Like you know anything about challenge game I am part of... ?

Funny thing to hear something you've said from a person who does the same as I --> open challenges on HF ?

Not sure why are you so frustrated so you must comment. Or maybe I am. ?

I didn't comment on your challenges. Like your latest #8, where you insisted to inject at specific URL. I could use your own words "I really think do i need all this shit...?". As I injected that site at few different spots. So why did you choose that specific URL? Shall I use your words again: for showing off?

Well I didn't comment anything. Because I don't have any right to tell you what kind of challenge you should or you shouldn't post on HF.

You see the difference between us? ?

I will post three more challenges to accomplish my "task" in our (private) challenge game. So please just skip my challenges as you are showing something is bothering you there. What could that be? ? Beside, you have no right to instruct me what should I post at public forum... And for whom. Or why I am posting them... Using your perception every challenge is "showing off" ?

Over&Out form this LQ discussion with you ?
