Thread: Hackforums Online Wallet

I was thinking about a wallet on Hackforums, Where you can deposit money and withdrawal money, I would personally use this, Because PayPal is literally shit,

Users can easily chargeback money with one call, It would be better If HF made their own wallet so you cannot chargeback, and payments can only get reversed when contacting a Admin when scammed, a lot of hf products will probably use this also, and for extra security, that you only can deposit with BTC or a unchargebackable money currency,

TLDR : A wallet on HF where you can deposit and withdrawal.

Lool just lol, this is never going to happen.

No. Staff do not get involved in deals what so ever. Just use btc if you don't like charge backs.

Many forums already use software like this. Basically it would be an escrow plugin. Omni won't do this because of legal ramifications in case of money laundering.

This would be nice. HF could be the middleman for some services with this

Scymo - January 22, 2015, 1:25 pm

It's a good idea, but will never happen. Staff does not want ANY responsibility with sales, too much of a hassle.

Except that Omniscient absolutely refuses to be involved in any way with deals, so... that won't happen.

I would be nice but I just think of risk like HackForums getting hacked and they stealing all the BTC and everyone blaming Omni or something like this would be horrible for HF.

HF staff will never get involved with deal disputes. If you are so worried about chargebacks, just use BTC.

Paranoid? - January 22, 2015, 1:31 pm

I was thinking this. But as HF don't get involved with deals, it won't be implemented.

Warrio? - January 22, 2015, 1:34 pm

and staff will get dozen of these messages per hou
'hey this shitty ebook doesn't work.. I need my money back.'

MrOrang - January 22, 2015, 1:39 pm

Never going to happen.

Use something called crypto currency :p

Emylbus - January 22, 2015, 2:21 pm

HF does not get involved in deals, this includes being an escrow, wallet, payment system, etc. If you would like to use an HF officially sanctioned payment system, use Omnicoin. You can read more about it in the Omnicoin section.

Omniscient - January 22, 2015, 7:03 pm

Great, now I can get involved in deals and get into the same boat with Ross Ulbricht. No thanks, pretty sure I'll pass on being a middle-man in transaction here.

And that too.
