Thread: The best Possible Graphic Resources?

EricR - January 22, 2015, 7:23 pm

I'm looking for the best possible Graphic resource's site's and links.

Do you know of any? i would appreciate it greatly

Things including

Textures

Fonts

Stock pictures

It would be appreciated if most of these resources are open source and free to use. thank you!

"I'll take what is a CCL for 600!" the price is right!

Best and free to use do not come together in this day and age.

You want the best stock photos, you'll have to pay for them. You want the best fonts, you'll have to pay for them. You want the best textures, you'll have to pay for them.

To name a few:

www.myfonts.com

www.istockphoto.com

www.shutterstock.com

There is no best, different elements work for different situations. Just use google to find resources as you need them.

I do work for artists signed to major labels. you are hilarious!

I won't negative rep you for the random disrespect of calling me ungrateful.

that does nothing for me in a positive way. have a beautiful day.

hilariously you work for artists signed to major labels yet you aren't willing to shell out money for quality stocks/fonts/textures to provide for said artists signed to major labels.

if you really know what you say you know, then as baghead said, you wouldn't have posted this thread in the first place.
