I changed my username to ?KinG? on 06-01-2014, 1 year back and since then this is my DP also.

Am I Wrong? I copied him or he is copying me?

PS: I am quite trusted GUY here and did many fair legit deals on HF but for Now I am busy with studies and He can misuse my name.

This is a online forum HAHAAH justice? No there isn't a thing as justice, you just pop his ass back a rep. Let by Gones be by Gones.

What I would've done is add a link to this thread in your signature and in your other important threads to warn your customers that there is someone copying you.

I'm not Ub3r to give him a negRep ?

Kuso - January 24, 2015, 7:28 am

It's not in the rules that he can't have a similar username. It's not exactly identical. I guess I can say it's a form of abuse though the way he's approaching you.

SIM-2005107 - January 24, 2015, 7:37 am

King never asked me to do -3. I saw this and I was Skyping with King when he was putting this as his profile picture (he ain't copying anyone). Its an Google Image, stop crying.

Boobs, this ain't gang rep. Stop making conclusions. smh.

Never the less how in the world is the OP copying that Ub3r? The Ub3r is the one copying the OP. You should look at the username change date and such before you jump to conclusions.

Edit: Sharing PM's outside Deal Disputes is not allowed, right?

There's no way to prove that he "took" the Ub3rs profile picture.

So why exactly would you say OP is copying your little buddy there? Pathetic.

You said it yourself it is a google image then how is OP copying? Your little friend is having a little bit too similar name as OP don't you think? So your logic is flawed as hell.

SIM-2005107 - January 24, 2015, 7:48 am

Shake my head.

I am not going wasting my time anymore on a Google Image. It's something only 2 users can deal with, one of them has to change it.

Exactly bro. Even though I would have changed my username and DP as well if he was old member with manners but the way he said was Pathetic.

Yup something that those two have to find out, so why didn't you just stay out of it in the first place? Why did you have to say OP copied your friend. Why not answer that simple question?

They are just fools thinking they are big guys. Bullying other if they are lower (Like upgrades, don't take it personally) themselves.

Yes but the guy who recently joined HF don't know HF rules so he thought upgrading himself to Ub3r will help him to bully anyone.

Trust - January 24, 2015, 9:22 am

The username is not identical and if you have no proof that he asked others to rep you, nothing can be done.

If you legitimately feel as though this user is copying and messing with you, you can try to PM a staff member about harassment.

Be careful though as you don't want to waste a staff member's time.

Your best bet is to ignore the user and move on.

Don't feed the trolls.

What the fuck happend to his profile? Now he is joined in 2011, has 57 rep and 1k posts?!

He must have been a multiaccounter and his account was merged with his former one.

Orgasmic - January 24, 2015, 9:44 am

You're really taking this to heart, lol.

Troll: 1

You: -2

Aceman - January 24, 2015, 9:45 am

Who cares? Your profile picture was not created and drawn up specifically by you, it's publicly accessible on the internet. Just because you used the picture on HF first does not mean that nobody else is EVER allowed to use it, does it?

Your names look significantly different, so stop your crying. The crown at the BEGINNING of your name is a massive change from the one in front of his. You have different capitalization, two crowns, white username from 3p1c upgrade, less posts, and more rep. If you had closer names or similar profile stats I'd say it was close to impersonation but at this point you're just being trolled. Let it go and he'll change his name eventually. You're not going to have your business or reputation damaged by there being another person with a similar name.

?KinG? - January 24, 2015, 9:51 am

Topic Close.

Thanks Guys for your advises.

Best way is IGNORE HIM.

Thank You and Sorry if I was being Childish.
