Thread: Which USB Spreader?

Hey I remembered a few years ago that there was a special USB that can run any exe file when just being plugged in. I just cannot remember any name of it just that there was a specail designed one which was about 100$ or close to it. Someone knows more info maybe? (or even a better one which you would recommend?)

thanks in advance!

Try the rubber ducky USB I think that's what you are talking about.

@leroyjkl thanks thats close to what i mean but still not the usb i meant :D
@catscattail no thats also a nice usb but i m not looking for a keylogger usb...

I look for a usb where i can put in my FUD trojan and plug it in a PC of my choice, it automatically installs the trojan after seconds, without doing anything... remember the geeksquad usbs or smth like that u plug it in and suddenly it fuin installs a start up application... something like that i am looking just not the home made app of the usb manufacturer :)

It's not just a keylogger. You can create your own payloads to do whatever you want.
