Well, the name implies what I expect. A Brotherhood of friendly and warm people, who regularly play games and interact with eachother.

What can you bring to the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector :

I suggest you don't reserve spots. Not only do you look ridiculous making a post not needed, you look ridiculous for reserving a post for something that you are going to post later anyways, so reserving a post isn't effective if you really want to become a part of this group. Members will be added based on Quality of their application, not on when you post your application.

Xbox: 360 or One:

I have both Xbox 360 and Xbox One.

What games do you play, and how often do you play them:

The games I own and actively play are;

Call of Duty: Advanced Warfare

Call of Duty: Ghosts

Forza Horizon 2

Grand Theft Auto V

Minecraft

Titanfall

The only games that I play on Xbox 360 are;

Call of Duty: Black Ops 2

Grand Theft Auto V

Do you have any competitive experience, if so what:

Unfortunately I do not have any competitive experience. Not because I don't want to do it, mainly because I have no one to play with(in the competitive scene). The only "competitive" thing I've taken part in was clans for Black Ops, Black Ops 2 and Ghosts.

How much time can you dedicate to gaming nights, assignments and whatnot else might be required of you on a weekly basis:

Well I'm home pretty much all the time because I'm not in school and I'm currently unemployed. I'm not going to say that I can dedicate all of my time towards the group, but anytime during the day I'll most likely be able to take part in whatever is going on. Whether it be an assignment or gaming night.

What do you expect of the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector:

The only thing that I really expect from the sector is frequent gaming nights. Hopefully every week or even a few times a week, that would be great. The more gaming nights there are, the more people I make friends with. ?

What can you bring to the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector:

I can bring my time and dedication to the group. I was in the group previously and I loved being in the group, everyone was so friendly and welcoming. I'm a very easy going person and very polite.

Are you capable of recording gameplay and possibly doing voice overs? :

Unfortunately not. I sold both of my recording devices a while ago because I stopped uploading videos to YouTube.

Why should you be accepted? What makes you different to other applicants?

I feel as if you should accept because I am a mature, 20 year old gamer. I've been gaming for as long as I can remember. I am very passionate about video games. Playing with friends, meeting people online and forming friendships and being competitive. All of these things have helped me work through some tough times. Another reason why I think I should be accepted is because I'm always willing to play some Xbox. I will finally have a way to communicate with others and play with people that actually want to play with others and make new friends. I wouldn't really say that I'm different from any other applicant because we're all the same in some way, one way being that we all love video games. These are some of the reasons why I think you should accept me.

Thank you for taking the time to look over my applications and good luck to everyone else that applies after me.

Section: Gaming Experience(s)

Do you have any competitive experience, if so what :

I played for a small MLG team out of where I lived named "OTK" or "One True King" We were just a bunch of friends that took gaming seriously and took it to serious level. Unfortunately we didn't win any major competitions we still got the ability to taste what it was like to take gaming as a profession, we came close in one of our events we placed third out of 15 teams that competed. I also have had past experience in teams such as Hydro / DGFX (Smaller Clans but also had pro-circuit roster / team.)

How much time can you dedicate to gaming nights, assignments and whatnot else might be required of you on a weekly basis :

Besides school, and my job at (Game Stop) I am able to put in 5-8 hours a day into playing games with my brothers. I take gaming a little more serious then others and I enjoy a good team effort to win an objective.

What do you expect of the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector :

I would hopefully expect respect, also the loyalty of other members as well as maturity and the initiative to take things in a more serious context when needed and or asked by the leaders. As well as the ability to work in a team have good team work skills that allow us to form a family and work together to achieve a set goal / achievement.

What can you bring to the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector :

I am able to bring my personality as well as my personal experiences and knowledge with all sorts of games. I try to see myself as a sophisticated person and I am a great problem solver. I am a team player and am a great listener I can bring news on upcoming events and updates through my work (Game Stop / EB Games) and I am a respectful and intelligent when it comes to solving issues.

Section: Why I Stand Out

Why should you be accepted? What makes you different to other applicants? :

I am a unique person through my ability to solve problems on the spot, and allow myself to fix a bad situation before it gets worse. I am a team player one of the brotherhoods main Ideologies and I respect authority and allow cushion and leg room to allow for smooth verbal exchanges as well as physical. I am intelligent and know the difference from right and wrong. I am active within my gaming console as well as my computer to allow me to continue posting threads / posts on Hackforums. I have a brother so I know how it goes, although I love him to death he can be a pain in the rectal posterior but at the end of the day we sort out our issues and remain friends. The brother hood is a HQ group that should be composed of HQ people, I try to post the best content possible in my; Reviews, Tutorials and Applications. Brotherhood is one group that stands out to me that makes me feel like it would be a good home. Nothing is like having people you can talk to and communicate with. Gaming is not just one of my hobbies / talents I enjoy learning new things such as (Computer programming, Software / Hardware Licensing and others) In my opinion there is always room to grow and improve upon ourselves. I respect my fellow members as we are expected and I never let someone who is down or hurt stay in the position my goal and success story is through the use of teamwork and the relationship between family and friends being strong. I hope I have proved myself worthy for this sector of the BH group.

Thank you for allowing me to apply for this awesome groups gaming sector,

Xbox 360 or Xbox one : Both

Age : 15 (Please be aware, I don't care about your age in general, I only require you to act like a mature person)

What games do you play, and how often do you play them : FIFA 15, CoD: AW. Everyday.

Do you have any competitive experience, if so what : T3 CoD, T10 in KSI's competitive FIFA tournament.

How much time can you dedicate to gaming nights, assignments and whatnot else might be required of you on a weekly basis : I play 6 hours daily, and 8+ hours weekends. Gaming nights I can do whenever, for however long. As long as they're not TOO long. Assignments shouldn't be a problem, I have a lot of spare time.

What do you expect of the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector : Tournaments, competitive games and some new friends who enjoy gaming. I also expect some mature members, not kiddies who are going to complain when losing, or complain when something doesn't go their way.

What can you bring to the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector : I'd love to host some tournaments and some competitive threads etc. I also want to hold some competitions and such to bring the community together, with some prize money.

Are you capable of recording gameplay and possibly doing voice overs? : I can buy an Elgato if needed as I wouldn't mind getting into YouTube etc, and voice overs are a possibility.

Why should you be accepted? What makes you different to other applicants? : I'm a very competitive gamer and have had a lot of success. I've had personal and team sponsorships in the past, and have fairly decent contacts with some sponsorship sites. Since this is a gaming recruitment thread, I don't really think my application should define me as a gamer. If you want to play with me to test my skills, feel free. I can bring A LOT to the table with the amount of gaming experience I have and I really think I'd be a great addition to the group. I know Mr Waters said that he'll recruit based on quality of application, but I'm not the best at writing and hopefully that won't effect my chances at joining a gaming group. After all, I'm applying to join gamers, not writers. Thanks :)

They had a PC division the last time I applied and got accepted, but I think due to it being so inactive, they decided to cut it.

Don't quote me on that though, I'm not sure of the situation.

Ah, didn't know about that.

If that's the case, they should recruit just for that division, would get more members. Oh well.

From this post forward, anyone who posts without an application so they can update it later(aka reserving a spot for their application) will be automatically denied. I don't know who started that trend but it's a joke. Post your application when it's ready, else save it as a draft and complete it later.

PS3 or PS4 :

Both but I stick to mainly PS3 as I have more games for it.

Age :

What games do you play, and how often do you play them :

I have tons of games that I play. The games I play constantly are:

All of the Elder Scrolls games, all of the Assassin's creed games, all the GTA series that came out for PS3, God of War Ascension, All of the Infamous games, All of the Call of Duty games, Fallout: New Vegas, Far Cry 3, Far Cry 4, and many more that would take quite awhile to list and would more than likely bore you to continue reading them. ?

I play all of these games regularly but it just mainly depends on what type of game I'm feeling and how busy I am. (For instance, if I'm pretty busy I won't be playing a single player game that's extremely addicting like Skyrim.)

Do you have any competitive experience, if so what :

When Assassins Creed Brotherhood first came out, I played A LOT of ranked games. I believe I was among the top 100 ranked in my region. I kept at this and kept climbing but stopped once I missed one day and ended up at 200+ ranking.

How much time can you dedicate to gaming nights, assignments and whatnot else might be required of you on a weekly basis :

It honestly depends on the day. Monday night, Wednesday night, Friday night, and Saturday night are all good with me as I have afternoon classes the following day. I generally have a lot of free time as I do finish a lot of my business early for the exact purpose of making free time, so I can be pretty prepared for whatever The Brotherhood may need of me.

What do you expect of the Brotherhood PS3 Gaming Sector :

I expect a small, but knowledgeable, gaming community that will play games with me and we can have fun doing it. I also hope to see game reviews or people that can answer questions concerning games. Basically, a group of people I can have a blast with and can ask questions without concern for false information as I'm fairly certain members of The Brotherhood are well respected for there knowledge and guides.

What can you bring to the Brotherhood PS3 Gaming Sector :

I've been a gamer for quite some time. Before my teen years, actually. I've beaten a huge variety of games and I'm especially good with PS3/PS2 games. I'm also a pretty chill guy, I don't rage or tend to start bullshit with other people in the games I play with. I enjoy a good time and nothing more, really. I do have an Xbox one as well so that means I do have some experience and can play or offer advice concerning but I'm not as confident in answering questions concerning Xbox as I am with PlayStation. I'm also very experienced with computer gaming as I find it extremely enjoyable as well.

Are you capable of recording gameplay and possibly doing voice overs? :

I've honestly never done one before but I would be interested in doing this. It's something new for me and I may enjoy it, but as I said I've never recorded any of my game play and done a voice over for it.

Why should you be accepted? What makes you different to other applicants? :

I have a lot of experience with plenty of gaming consoles, old and new. I have both an Xbox one, PS4, and PS3. I'd say I'm fairly well rounded concerning gaming and I'm also a computer gaming type of guy as well. I'm willing to try new things and offer my knowledge of gaming. I have tons of PS2 games as well and almost every game I own, I have beaten and replayed at least once. So I can offer tips and tricks to not just modern games, but older ones as well if anyone is a retro gamer.

What games do you play, and how often do you play them: All CoDs - I play AW everyday. The others, not so much.

Resident Evil - I'll play everyday until I beat it.

Final Fantasy - Rarely, maybe when I'm bored.

GTA V - When my friends bug me to play.

Do you have any competitive experience, if so what: I played UMG for Ghosts and I also played on an MLG team for Tom Clancy's RSV2 when that was still on the circuit ages ago.

How much time can you dedicate to gaming nights, assignments and whatnot else might be required of you on a weekly basis: As much as needed. I am in college so unexpected things do come up.

What do you expect of the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector: Some cool dudes to play AW with. I like playing ranked and I don't have that many people to play with (skill wise that is).

What can you bring to the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector: I'm an extremely active member and play Xbox pretty much everyday. I'm fun to play with and I like to win. I guess what I'm saying is I can bring that kind of mentality to The Brotherhood.

Are you capable of recording gameplay and possibly doing voice overs?: I have before but not too often. I don't mind though.

Why should you be accepted? What makes you different to other applicants?: I'm an easy going guy, a lifelong gamer, and just generally fun to play with. I'm also able to play and be active in the gaming sector on a daily basis. The ability to reach out to the community and give back anything that I can, whether it be making it a better group or just simply contributing to the greater good, I hope The Brotherhood will give me that chance to prove myself to them and everyone else.

What games do you play, and how often do you play them : Battlefield 4, CoD AW, and UFC. I mainly play those games each time I get on Xbox One as they are my favorites. But I do have more games.

Do you have any competitive experience, if so what : No I do not play competitive as I don't mainly have the time to. But I could start doing it if it's required.

How much time can you dedicate to gaming nights, assignments and whatnot else might be required of you on a weekly basis : I can stay on as long as I want unless people start drama / screaming into the mic which gets me annoyed and gets me major headaches.

What do you expect of the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector : An active gaming section where I can meet new people to play with on Xbox One.

What can you bring to the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector : An active poster also will contribute to gaming nights / other requirements that I need to fulfill.

Are you capable of recording gameplay and possibly doing voice overs? : No as I don't have a recorder at this time. I could get one but that would take a little time as of now.

Why should you be accepted? What makes you different to other applicants? : I'm a fairly active member. I am not that "HQ" but I could bring in some laughs maybe some more fun into gaming nights. I will also try and make the brotherhood gaming sector active.

Xbox: 360 or One I own both, however, I mainly play the Xbox One.

Age : 19.

What games do you play, and how often do you play them : I really only play Minecraft, and Call of Duty Advanced Warfare.

However, I do plan on getting Dying Light and GTA V when I get paid this upcoming friday. I play my Xbox One at the very least once a day for around 3 or 4 hours.

Do you have any competitive experience, if so what : Back in the Black Ops days I used to play comp a lot. Like a lot, a lot. Me and the user Pali on here played gamebattles religiously, and were quite good actually.

How much time can you dedicate to gaming nights and whatever might be required of you on a weekly basis : I could guarantee around 3-4 hours of my time every weekday, whenever I'm not busy with school work, actual work and/or other group projects.

What do you expect of the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector : I expect a bunch of people willing to play video games and have a great time. Without any flaming or bad manners whenever you have a bad game.

What can you bring to the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector : My pretty good call of duty skills, my amazing humor, and all around personality.

Are you capable of recording gameplay and possibly doing voice overs? :Of course!

Why should you be accepted? What makes you different to other applicants? : I can offer my very unique personality, and I doubt that many people can compare to my skill when it comes to Call of Duty.

PS3 or PS4 :

PS3.

Age :

17.

What games do you play, and how often do you play them :

USF4: At least 15 hours a week, but I don't have my USF4 disk for PS3 right now so I'm currently wrecking people on PC.

UMvC3: Rarely, if any around 3 hours a week. It's hard to find people online for this game, so.

UNIEL: Usually 5 hours a week, if I get on.

BO2: I hardly play anymore, but I used to average 15+ hours a week.

Do you have any competitive experience, if so what :

I've been to two fighting game tournaments, had a couple money matches and casuals. I'm going to another one next month, so that's more experience on my part. I don't really get into the FPS competitive scene.

How much time can you dedicate to gaming nights and whatever might be required of you on a weekly basis :

Any time around 20 hours. I'm usually free for most of the week, unless I go out or something. If I'm home, I'm either sleeping or playing fighters.

What do you expect of the Brotherhood PS3 Gaming Sector :

A nice welcoming place that's open to new ideas and new games.

What can you bring to the Brotherhood PS3 Gaming Sector :

A decent knowledge of fighting games, and just about every other genre of games there is.

Are you capable of recording gameplay and possibly doing voice overs? :

I'm not capable of recording gameplay, but doing voice overs is a guarantee.

Why should you be accepted? What makes you different to other applicants? :

What makes me different from other applications is that I have tenacity and gusto and I have experience in every game genre except for MOABs. I'd like to say I'm a pretty decent guy over all. I never start flame wars or anything, so that's a plus. I participate in major tournaments as much as I can. At the last tournament I went to I went up against Noel Brown(who's #18 in the world for UMvC3)and I didn't even fret. I nearly won but he chose a character that I didn't know the matchup to, so I lost. Even though I lost I didn't get sad or anything. I'm still playing Street Fighter and getting better.

But despite mainly playing fighters, I also play a decent amount of racing games and RPGs and the occasional FPS if I'm feeling violent. I guess you can say I'm a jack of many trades.

Please consider my application.

What games do you play, and how often do you play them :

On the xbox specifically? Currently heavily investing my time into dragon age inquisition and the telltale games package. Also play the typical battlefield, call of duty, GTA and FIFA. Sometimes jump onto destiny although recently feeling a little bored with the repetitive nature of the game. Will be spending a lot of time on the new mortal kombat when it drops and also looking to get into dying light. I pretty much play everything and anything!

Do you have any competitive experience, if so what :

Back in the day played MW2 and COD 4 competitively. Currently not into the scene as much in regards to xbox.

How much time can you dedicate to gaming nights and whatever might be required of you on a weekly basis :

Im free every night (my sleeping pattern is destroyed so im pretty much nocturnal nowadays)

What do you expect of the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector :

To be filled with like minded individuals who I can enjoy both a conversation and gaming session with. Possibly introduce me to new games or strategies and in general be an enjoyable experience. I would like to see things such as tournaments where we can all get together and enjoy some healthy competition. Gaming videos and other forms of media would also be great.

What can you bring to the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector :

I have been gaming for over 15 years and 11 of those have been spent on the xbox systems. I can provide video editing for anyone who needs one for a youtube video. I can be a partner to those who want to play co-op. I am a competent teammate in a variety of games and could host/participate in tournaments with other members. Would constantly be available for gaming sessions with other members.

Are you capable of recording gameplay and possibly doing voice overs? :

Record - No, Voice over - Yes but not to a high quality (mic issues). I could however edit videos.

Why should you be accepted? What makes you different to other applicants? :

An extensive array of gaming knowledge over a variety of systems, not just the xbox. I am both a casual and competitive gamer on every console i own (apart from the standard wii, but cmon its a wii). Can offer a fun personality to game with as well as a viable team member in any competitive situations. Essentially this will not be different to every answer. Everyone will give more or less the same answer to this question. We are all gamers and we all have experience and passion for gaming. What I can truly say sets me aside from the majority of applications is I am wanting to be part of a community. As i mentioned earlier, a community of like minded individuals. I am not applying for the user bar or other fun goodies that come with being a part of a group like i assume many other applicants will be. I simply want to be involved in what i believe will be a great and fun experience .

The PC Sub-Sector of our Gaming Sector was disbanded because it became a fragmented part of our group. There were simply not enough people willing to put time and effort into the Sector and out of the people in the Sub-Sector, not many people had the same games as each other which made it rather difficult for members to organize game nights with each other and live up to the expectations as the Play Station and Xbox Sub-Sectors do.

A lot. I've got plenty of free time to game with other members and do group requirements.

What do you expect of the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector:

I'm looking to gain some more gaming friends and join a "brotherhood". I love meeting new people and making new friends and this is a great opportunity to do so.

PS3 or PS4 :

I currently own both, as well as play both regularly. My PS3 is currently jailbroken, so that means I can help anyone out that needs any recovery services out if wanted.

Age :

I am currently of the age of 15. Please be aware, I consider myself very mature, and I have great self control.

What games do you play, and how often do you play them :

My current games that I am into consist of the following:

Almost any Call of Duty, besides Ghosts.

Typical Sports Games (2k15, Madden, Fifa...)

Grand Theft Auto 5.

Do you have any competitive experience, if so what :

Sadly, I yet to have any competitive experience. I normally play for fun, sometimes with friends. I do in fact, consider myself to be a pretty good player, considering I've been playing since the Christmas that Playstation 3 came out.

How much time can you dedicate to gaming nights and whatever might be required of you on a weekly basis :

Well, considering the fact that my main schedule consists of coming home from school and sitting on my Playstations, I can play for 3+ hours a night, easily.

What do you expect of the Brotherhood PS3 Gaming Sector :

Well, I of course expect to meet some friendly guys that enjoy gaming. I also expect to be treated with respect.

What can you bring to the Brotherhood PS3 Gaming Sector :

Well, I am very experienced in most video games, considering my past years of my life basically consisted of them. I used to play day and night, non-stop. I would be a great addition to the team, hopefully making us all a bit better. Of course, I can also always contribute by giving fellow members any recovery services or mods on Playstation 3, or GTA 5 on PS4/Xbox One.

Are you capable of recording gameplay and possibly doing voice overs? :

I am. I have an Elgato Gaming Edition HD at the time, with a Razer Kraken Pro.

Why should you be accepted? What makes you different to other applicants? :

Well, I know I have a lot to compete with, but I believe that I'm the right selection to join the team. I know how to control my rage (lol), stay mature, and at the same time have a bit of fun. I'm better than most at the games I play, and I can hopefully help the team get better.

There were simply not enough people willing to put time and effort into the Sector and out of the people in the Sub-Sector, not many people had the same games as each other which made it rather difficult for members to organize game nights with each other and live up to the expectations as the Play Station and Xbox Sub-Sectors do.

That's why you pick a certain selection of games, then recruit based on what games they have.

There are definitely ways to organize a PC sector and get it active and have everyone playing the same games at the same times, it just takes effort to get the ball rolling.

I understand the problem that you're talking about though 100%, it just requires change, not removal.

In an effort to keep the sector simpler and more organized, the PC Sub-Sector was disbanded for the time being. The return of this Sub-Sector has not been ruled out, but is not something we have planned for the time being. Recruitments based on certain games have brought to the table but were just never used. If you'd like to discuss any of this further, shoot me a private message. I believe this conversation has gone far beyond the scope of this recruitment thread.

Xbox: 360 or One

I currently play on both consoles.

Age :

I am fifteen years of age.

What games do you play, and how often do you play them :

I play:GTA 5

Call of Duty (All of them)

Assassins Creed

Farcry 4

Destiny (Not a very avid gamer on this one)

Elder Scrolls Online (PC)

Clash of Clans (Phone)

I play every single one of those games a different amount. Depending on who I have to play with, and the amount of time I have to play.

Do you have any competitive experience, if so what :

Unfortunately I do not. Competitive game-play is not fun for me, unless it is in a MMO. But even at that, I do not compete.

How much time can you dedicate to gaming nights, assignments and whatnot else might be required of you on a weekly basis :

Throughout the week I basically do nothing, I have homework but I am a very fast worker. I will be able to do 6 hours every day, considering if I play from the moment I get home to the moment I go to sleep.

What do you expect of the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector :

I expect it to bring me closer to members, considering I am new. I realize I do not meet the one month join requirement, but I feel like apart of the HF home already. I feel like it would make me more engaged on the forum and help me get to know people. I really would like to see people to recognize me around the forum. I am tired of being alone here, and I hope my one month join date doesn't mean I have to continue to be alone. I also am hoping playing with people I can work with will make me a better player and a better sport. Sometimes when I play with random people, I tend to get angry when they don't help me or I don't help them. I am not a competitive gamer, but I do not necessarily like to lose either. I picked to apply for this group out of all the rest because it seems like a nice place to be.

What can you bring to the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector :

Well firstly, I will be fully dedicated to this group. I have no family as of right now, and no one to talk to. I will try my best to stay in this group, and I will work for any goal or requirement. Hopefully my loyalty will prove me a good member. I am not planning on backstabbing, leaving, or doing anything negative to the group. I will stay loyal and help the members around the forum, as well as XBL. I will work hard to learn and improve my skills, while I teach and help people improve theirs. I am a fast learner and I love doing it. If by some chance I end up getting into the group, I will be very warm and welcoming to new members. I hope if I get in, the members are just like that. No one wants to join a group, as a new fish where they are constantly looked down upon.

To sum it up:Dedication

Loyalty

Hard Work

Welcoming

Ready to learn and teach

Are you capable of recording gameplay and possibly doing voice overs? :

Yes, I can do this on my 360, and I will buy a recorder for my Xbox One if that is required of me.

Why should you be accepted? What makes you different to other applicants? :

Well first of all, I good do like everyone else does and say I am simply the best, and I deserve it more than anyone else. But the one problem is, I don't deserve it more than anyone help. I can only hope after reading this application that you are willing to give the new guy a chance. I am willing to dedicate my time and work into this group, and I hope you welcome me with opening arms. I could also go on about how I am a very good gamer, and how I am the best, but then again I am not. I am just somebody looking to find a place to relax and meet new people, while I can lay back and play some games. I hope you consider me as a possible member. I hope you have a good day, and a good night. Peace out. ?

PS3 or PS4 :

I own both consoles, but play PS3 more. I also own an XBOX 360 but rarely use it.

Age : 16

What games do you play, and how often do you play them :

I play a lot of Fifa 15 and GTA V. I also play games like the call of duty series, Last of Us, The Evil Within and many more. I will add a picture of my Games Collection if you would like.

Do you have any competitive experience, if so what :

I have played in a few competitions in my time, mainly racing and skate game competitions. I used to play a lot with clans on MW2 then I decided it was I was going to try and get into more prestigious clans and play more competitive, but that didn't work out too well for me.

How much time can you dedicate to gaming nights and whatever might be required of you on a weekly basis :

During the week I can play about 5-7 Hours a day. During weekends, depending on my schedule, I can play up to 12-15 hours per day.

What do you expect of the Brotherhood PS3 Gaming Sector :

I don't expect anything from them, Brotherhood have always looked like an amazing group to me and the only thing I expect from Brotherhood is to look after there members well and not leave some of the gamers out, just because they don't play as good as others.

What can you bring to the Brotherhood PS3 Gaming Sector :

I don't have much to bring other than my dedication to the group. I will always be hosting wagers and I will also be willing to help less fortunate members, get access to games they don't have access to, by buying the game of the PSN store and game-sharing with them when I have the spare cash on my account.

Are you capable of recording gameplay and possibly doing voice overs? :

As of now, I can't record gameplay. In a few months or weeks, I will be buying an Elgato or the Hauppauge HDPVR 2 Gaming Edition. I can do Voice overs with my Yeti Snowball, It has amazing quality on my PC and sounds beautiful when on Skype, Teamspeak or doing a Voice-Over for someone or something for a project.

Why should you be accepted? What makes you different to other applicants? :

I don't feel as though I'm any different to anyone else, I don't have any special skills or anything. I have been gaming since I was a young child and I ever since I got my first Playstation I have had every console since the first one. My first console I had ever played, was my Uncles Sega Mega Drive and I would play Sonic The Hedgehog with him. I think I should be accepted, as I can bring my knowledge into the group, and help members of the group. I also think that I should be accepted because I will be able to help people get boosts on games by giving them stuff like Coins on Fifa or Money and Cars on GTA V.

I would like to apply for The Brotherhood Gaming Sector. I am 17 years old. I currently have an Xbox 360 and my gamertag is M40A3 Decent. I do have a competitive background. I am a former M40A3 member for Call of Duty 4. I also used to do GB singles and doubles for MW2 and also I do Ghosts 2v2. You should pick me because I am not some new randy that ruins every call of duty, I actually have a shot and I can commit to long gaming sessions and just grind for hours. I also play BF 4 for fun, I actually find that game fun too. I can contribute to The Brotherhood because I am a very well-rounded player, and I also have a headset so I know what I am doing. I have a great shot and I can also still snipe hence the GT: M40A3 Decent. Please give me a chance to join and play. I really admire the Brotherhood. Take care and reply when you can. Thanks a lot!!

Xbox 360: GTA 5, NBA 2K15, COD: Advance Warfare, Minecraft, Black ops2. I play the xbox one more often than 360 due to more friends owning a xbox one.

Do you have any competitive experience, if so what : Just friendly competitive with friends

How much time can you dedicate to gaming nights and whatever might be required of you on a weekly basis : 2-4 hours a day probably longer.

What do you expect of the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector : Just a friendly gaming environment and fun competitions.

What can you bring to the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector : I'm not going to lie there isn't a lot I can bring besides my friendliness and my ability to help if needed.

Why should you be accepted? What makes you different to other applicants? : I think I should be accepted because I used to be a well known member of the BH Gaming in fact I did lead it until I stepped down to go into marketing. Xbox: 360 or One 360

What games do you play, and how often do you play them :

I usually play a lot of single player games like Fallout 3 and New Vegas. Mainly due to the fact that a lot of my friends are on Xbox One. I have just about all of the Halo games on the 360 except Halo: Reach, I even have Halo Wars which is actually a really good game. I'm always up for playing Halo as long as I know we're going to actually be able to get a game. ? I try once every week to get a game in Team Snipers and I sit there for probably 10 minutes on my computer and then I realize that I'm still searching for a game. I play a lot of games on the arcade such as Sonic 1 - Sonic 3 and Sonic and Knuckles. I am a huge Sonic fan and I find myself playing Sonic a lot when I am bored. There's also games like Castle Crashers, Battlefield 1943, Banjo Kazooie and Banjo Tooie, I play them all a lot. I also play a lot of the Naruto games such as Generations, Storm 3 and Revolution. Currently only actively playing Revolution.

Do you have any competitive experience, if so what :

I was a little competitive in Halo 3, it's nothing very notable. I never went to any events but I was involved with the MLG scene a little bit.

How much time can you dedicate to gaming nights and whatever might be required of you on a weekly basis :

As long as the time frame is reasonable I can be flexible with how much I can dedicate to gaming nights and whatever is required. I can do week days and weekends, as long as it isn't very late I can provide and be there.

What do you expect of the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector :

I expect to meet new people that I can talk and play with. That is actually why I want to join this group, as aforementioned many of my xbox friends only play on the One so I don't really get to talk to them anymore. I take this recruitment as a great opportunity to meet new people. ?

What can you bring to the Brotherhood XBOX Gaming Sector :

I can provide my up-most activity, dedication, and fun personality. You'll see in the next question that I also can make videos as well, I don't know how much of a plus that is but I can assure you that I will be more than happy to get involved in whatever activities the group plans on doing.

Are you capable of recording gameplay and possibly doing voice overs? :

YES! I own an Elgato Game capture and I actively record and make videos. If you'd like to know the channel please pm me, I want to keep it private.

Here is a montage I had made in Halo 3 a while back (this is not my main channel):

Spoiler (Click to View) [Video: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=53HkIoxDJGw>]

Why should you be accepted? What makes you different to other applicants? :

I believe I should be accepted because I'm not joining for the userbar, but for the opportunity to play with a new community of people. I am a very fun person to talk to and be around, I'm very enthusiastic and sarcastic but I can rage quit on a video game harder than anyone else. I have not read any of the other applicants applications so I wouldn't know how to compare myself specifically to them, but I can say for sure that I am someone who will live up to whatever expectations may be set and I will excel.

What games do you play, and how often do you play them

I mostly play Counter-strike global:offensive but i like to play many other games as well if i got some company like people from HF or just friends. im "social" player i find games much more fun if i got some people playing with me.

im very active gamer atleast when it comes to CS:GO i play maybe little bit too much if i could say so :D so if you ask am i active enough i can guarantee i will be online much more than you would have thought of.

Do you have any competitive experience, if so what i have played cs from 2007 and trough these years i have played under sponsored organisations, i have had many teams, i know high skilled players and i have attended on many leagues, cups, ladders and whatnot even some lan tournaments.

This one is my favorite. I'm mostly a competitive player, almost always have been.

so yeah im very competitive player if you ask me. i like to have challenge, like trying to get in this group is a challenge :)

How much time can you dedicate to gaming nights, assignments and whatnot else might be required of you on a weekly basis like i said in the other question above im very active when it comes to being online. i find myself more comfortable on internet playing games and having fun with people, sometimes not so "fun" when doing more serious business but im capable for many things. so i would have time for gaming nights assignments and whatnot.

What do you expect of the Brotherhood PC Gaming Sector

I really dont have much expectations because if you will choose me this would be my first official HF group but i think the group would let me meet new cool people, i could help others, play games and whatnot. lets just say i dont really expect much but i can adapt what comes.

What can you bring to the Brotherhood PC Gaming Sector?

I can bring many things for the brotherhood PC gaming sector. like i have said i got knowledge on gaming and i got competitive background from many years so i could provide knowledge, support, help and kindness to the brotherhood PC gaming sector. I just like to help others and have fun so i think i could provide pretty much for this group.

Why should you be accepted? What makes you different to other applicants?

I know im not the most known or trusted member here on HF but i have potential to be HQ member.

i help others, i just enjoy making someones day and giving tips or advices on different subjects. When i say i like helping others i dont mean with services which include money, im not greedy person of course yeah who doesnt like money but thats not the most important thing in the world i would say.

I think you should choose me because i got potential, positive personality and much knowledge on gaming but thats not all i have, i study applied computer science so i got pretty good understanding on many aspects of computers so i could be good support for these kind of things. i dont know really know how can i prove myself here but lets just say i can prove you this group in the future when you choose me :) you will not be disappointed.

if you want to ask anything else feel free to pm me or ask here im more than glad to answer your questions :)
