Thread: Why people hate RS3 so much \(My Story\) - MUST READ to help this community

WizeVibez - January 27, 2015, 1:37 pm

Please read the entire thread even if you don't think this, it will help out the community so much! Also before starting this thread id just like to say this forum section is all about botting and 07, so i know I'm going to get some haters for this but really its the runescape section and i wish there was more rs3 stuff on here (its getting better) but oh well i guess.

To all of you people who think RS3 is shit!(i used to be one of you):

Well heres my story and why you should consider playing RS3 like i said i used to think it wasnt that great. When eoc came out i was so mad i just stopped playing for a couple months, i didn't want to learn all the new shit they added and was extremely mad the hp was in the thousands(like how 99 would be 9,900). after not playing at all for those months i came back because i loved the game and i gave eoc a try. I learned the ability stuff, did the combat tutorial and whatnot but just wasnt that fun anymore and i thought the game had just died. Lasted for a good 10+ years and i guess everything good has to come to an end(thats what i thought). Then 07 came out. i was so happy one of my childhood games is back like it used to be. i played 07 for about the first 3-5 months, got around a 1k total level earned myself some decent cash, back when it first started 1m 07 was around 50m rs3, so since the game was new i took advantage of that and found this awesome money maker. i saw rune axes going for about 300-400k and was like holy shit what drops those, its some evil tree spirit thing you had to do a couple quests and such there pretty high level but theres a safe spot that i used. made around 3m from this(super rich back then) but then i started to get bored, sadly i didn't know why! i loved playing it as a kid and such, but its just not like it was back in 2007. so i quit rs completely for a year and just came back november of 2014 and found this forum! :D so I've been playing RS3 ever since and let me just tell you i can't stop, its so much fun. i love eoc and finally see why jagex did this! i love how interactive it is! (07 is boring to me now i think because its too simple :(. the new skilling outfits you can get, and better yet its my original character from actual 2007. I'm here to tell you if you think RS3 is shit and havnt actually played it for a good amount of time because you just think its shit, then your ignorant and i don't have respect for you. now if you have and you truly think this then thats fine but GIVE IT A TRY!! (its harder if your a new player to runescape to get into to it) trust me if you have an original character its way more entertaining then 07 and you'll fall in love with RS3 like i did :)

Some Tips:

i recommend you find a clan that you can relate with my clan has kept me over these years and its so much fun playing with them on RS3, also i have a couple buddies who i played with back in 2007 who i got them back into RS3 and it couldn't be more fun without them!

Try to do some of these things ^ and i guarantee you'll like it!

one last thing i want the 07 and RS3 community to accept each other, if you don't like RS3 don't go post on rs3 threads saying its shit, like i don't give a fuck if you think that, don't tell me, ill like it either way. Also if you are one of those people just stop and understand that its a fun game (thats actually growing now) around 80k people online a day now(in RS3 only). i think it would be great if we could all just help out all runescape players 07, legacy mode(2012), or RS3. doesn't matter what you play :)

Well if you read it all thanks for reading? and i hope this makes some changes in this forum section!?

Browne I 7 I - January 27, 2015, 1:58 pm

Something similar happened to me, when EoC came out I just stopped playing because I followed the "bandwagon" without even trying it, after around 4 months I came back and made 35mil at frost dragons in 2 weeks, I haven't had the time to play but as soon as I do I will miss playing run escape

Japanese - January 27, 2015, 2:00 pm

When eoc released, I admit that I quit because I didn't know how to play. It was really different and I didn't like it. I moved to private servers and eventually stopped playing. My favorite Runescape will always be 2011 Runescape :")

But I really agree with you, nice thread

I remember playing one of the best rsps, small but active community.

I'm with you.

The day of EoC, I was going to quit. I started dropping all of my shit, convinced that I was done, but my clanmate took the stuff and convinced me to just give it a shot.

I don't know where he is now, Assume he's stopped since maxing, but I'm thankful he made me stay.

If anyone here is looking to get into Rs3, Check out the combat academy in Lumbridge, and maybe do a couple of slayer tasks to get used to your abilities, there are a lot of tips and tricks you can learn. Join a clan, or just hang out in an FC, the more active and accepting the better. I'm usually in 'Reddit' friends chat, and everyone there is pretty chill.

Neighbor - January 28, 2015, 6:47 am

I will never give it a try. Once they changed Rune armours to something dumb / other armours I just gave up. Then when EoC finally hit I dropped EVERYTHING. I was maxed with 9-10 99's and just quit. Now I don't even play this game anymore I just browse this section to see what people have to say.

Coffee™ - January 28, 2015, 6:48 am i like rs3, because it is way more better graphic then 07. more fun, alot of quests. just perfect in my eyes

You should probably stop wasting your time here if you truly don't care mate, you're giving off the wrong impression.

exactly! don't get me wrong i love 07 since its that OG game that i used to play back in the day(if you never played rs its hard to get into now) but i just see RS3 as really graphical and fun now :D

Shoppa - January 28, 2015, 12:58 pm

They ruined everything, i've played this game way before eoc came out.
I've played eoc for a while so that isnt why i quit the game.

What made me quit the game is;
Everything is getting too easy.
Spin wheel each day and get 10-50k xp most of the time in a skill of your own choice.
Membership prices went 1,50 euro a month up.
Community is dying.
Armour sucks.
There is no such thing anymore as cosmetic items, there is so many ingame now cause of solomon store that's it's all common.
Prices of allot of items have been dropped allot.
Walking? what is walking? we just use lodestone to get wherever we want which made runes much more useless too.
Jagex is too much involved with the community, this may seems like a good thing but no they're trying to hard. Pming streamers with jokes, fucking around with Jmod emotes only in open rs, killing players which are only warned on stream that they can be killed in that area (rs07) etc. i remember when it was really special to see a jmod, now it's more a private server thing.
Too much free xp ingame.

Probably much more which i cant come up with now, the game is too easy that's the main point.

i see what your saying and i can agree to an extent, but the community is growing now for sure and i definitely don't get 50k a day actually wait not even 10k haha (and its treasure hunter now btw) but the game has got more easier and as an original player I'm kind of mad but at the same time happy because RS is a "time to win kind" of game and with someone who doesn't have that much time i like how small things like the lodestones make the game easier. it just simple things up for you, also love how you can zoom in and the rotating is much faster.

like after playing rs3 for this much time i tried going back to 07 and i just can't do it :/

also for the armor you get used to it and you can get the old school type of armor with loyalty points and from an og player you should have a lot of loyalty points, i know i do I've bought a couple outfits without spending any money

brother22 - January 29, 2015, 1:13 pm

I don't like RS3, I'm posting on your rs3 thread saying its shit.

Legacy mode (Cover the shitty game mechanics but don't really change anything because abilities can rekt any legacy user.)

Money is too easy to make Teleport everywhere for free

Premium Club

Do surveys for keys,

buy bond and trade for gp,

Majority of community wanted to keep 2012, but it was "Too much work to go back"

Membership increase because lack of players / 2 versions of game

Keys in general

Abilities (The only reason Runescape was really unique.)

Community is terrible, everytime I've attempted EOC I get flamed and my kills stolen.)

I played this game for over 360 Days and Jagex tied me to a radiator and forced EOC down my throat.

etc, etc, etc

haha bro i actually agreed with shoppe cus he made some valid points your the kind of person who's ignorant. all the points you made are irrelevant and i could easily "debunk" them and tell you why your wrong but I'm not going to spend my time doing that. please just leave the rs community

Buddy - January 29, 2015, 3:52 pm

I agree with this threat, sadly my account just got locked but I really loved EoC.

Regards, Mrex.

The correct word is you're, your is possessive. Please do not insult me simply because my views differ from yours. You are the very definition of ignorance and have proven my point about the community being derivative of cancer.

i didn't see your response till now but its not because my views differ from yours, its because the points you are making are invalid. i can agree with some of them to an extent but you obviously don't play as much as i do(or don't play RS3 at all) and see these kind of things your talking about. also way to be a grammar nazi?

If you enjoy the game, why concern yourself with what others think?

Do you play the game to impress them? No.

haha i know but i want to enjoy my stay at HF and have the Rs community on here treat each other nice i mean were all playing the same game, why hate... Also thats why I'm on here in the first place to find some stuff out about the game and talk to people about the game on here not for them to tell me I'm dumb for playing RS3 is great in my opinion at first when it came out i stopped playing overall for a while and then i gave it a try and its fun also if you dont like the new attack feature just turn it on legacy mode.

I really enjoy RS3. I love the EoC combat system, I know it's not the norm but I used to HATE combat and found it so boring. Now I can actually train it and enjoy myself, it's fun to spam abilities and keeps me more involved.

I really enjoy the graphics too, I think they look much nicer than before. I know that's also not the norm, but I like the cartoon style of it all.

The only thing I think they messed up is the microtransaction stuff. Spins/keys, purchasing auras and titles seem a bit too much for me. Everyone's running around with these giant wings, and I think the economy is messing up quite a lot because of it. I do enjoy the new teleport animations, though.

The best thing I enjoy about this game is how in-depth the economy is. It's hard to find other games (imo) that have the same economy. WoW doesn't even come close, I can't invest in items and play the stock market like in this game. It's really cool to see the charts and see how every item connects to every other item. Most of the items in RS are useful and in demand for something, and you can see prices constantly fluctuate. It's really interesting, and I love it. Probably because it's what I'm studying in university, too. :P

you made some great points! especially with the economy and stuff like I've learned a little about stocks and stuff from here just buy looking at ge price items and if there going up. RS has taught me some things over the years? :D
