whats your kik username? im going to kik you on my normal kik and i will let you know where your going wrong after?

gelvard - January 30, 2015, 9:14 pm

ok my kik name AsiaSexy4you <-----im online now my pics are recently! are Dabbi's pack pics! i don't think is a pics problem

If you have an urgent financial situation, I first recommend you get a job. Money you earn from E-Whoring is never regular, it's hit and miss.

To be honest, just looking at your kik username looks like the one people would instantly avoid, just looks fishy.
Try being a little bit more subtle this is the problem. year in italy fin a job is really hard...understand? this is why i am in a bad situation. LOL.

Username? mm any suggest for change?

Stoned Jesus - January 31, 2015, 11:36 am

I'd suggest you to change your username something like.. Panda523 or PandaLover32. Make it look childish like KittyMeow53 or whatever.

To be honest the picture pack thread I have here is from 2011, and is quite saturated so I would recommend you finding a new pack.

You need to change that kik name, people might be reluctant to even add such a name ... it sounds silly, either a very dumb skanky hoe or a fake is what first comes to mind to any guy looking at that name.

Your english doesn't seem all that great ... guess it fits with the asia thing, anyway try to invent a story like you've just moved to America and you're having a lot of money trouble. You barely escaped from your unfortunate home and you're desperate for help... until you manage to get back on your feet and find a job or something.

Also try to ask people where they're from and in some cases say something like wow we're actually pretty close to one another. Never too close though because then they'd want to meet you before anything. Just close enough so that they think they might have a chance of meeting you in the future (if they play their cards right).

Tell them you'll be very grateful if they'd help you out with some money and as a thank you ... you'd start of by sending them your private nude pic collection.

Ofc what I just wrote shouldn't be taken ad literam and you should alter your story accordingly to the people you meet and to your own version ... but remember to present a good believable story and not just say something silly like u buy pictures bbeh?
