Thread: Null Consolidated - Looking For A Skilled Artist

Vinnie - January 30, 2015, 10:23 pm

You will have the opportunity of being apart of Null along with our other two skilled graphics masters. Novica and Ascendancy

What I expect from you
Activity

Communication

Compassion for graphics

What you will should expect from Null
Respect

Access to Null

Being apart of something

Why would I want to join Null as a graphics artist?

The reason for this is because we're a group that actually do what we're supposed to do on a hacking forum, we don't work on-site, everything we do is off-site, Hackforums is just a face for the group, the real work is done off site. I expect quality work from the artist because everything we do is on point, we don't like failures and everything must be perfect. You will have the experience of your life when making graphics for Null. Unlike working with other groups our purpose isn't only site based so this means we expect you to keep your hands to yourself when dealing with us, I don't want to see you going around leaking projects to other people, mutual respect is needed and bullshit is not tolerated. If you think you've got what it takes fill in the application below. Good luck.

Application

What is your first name? Your real name, we work on a professional basis.

How old are you? Don't bullshit us.

Do you have a link to a portfolio? If so link it.

Do you have a microphone? If not you need one.

When will you be able to start? We need someone to start ASAP.

Thank you and good luck to all that apply, this is by far the easiest way to access Null

Skylar™ - January 31, 2015, 8:58 am

I would apply but I'm blacklisted because Bull & Aceman claim that I leaked sub-forum content from Specialists which is just made up bullshit.

Kinda funny I'm blacklisted when they can't even provide proof of it either.

You just know that even if you did apply you'd get declined for not being up to par. Don't let me stand in the way because I have no part in Null OR Specialists whatsoever. Cry all you like but fact of the matter is that you posted on this thread for attention.

Hi, Vinnie.

I would like to start off by thanking you for this opportunity. My name is Salty, also known as Mathias (some places). I have been working in the graphical industry for quite some years now. I have always loved doing graphical work, whether it be for personal, business or just private use. I am so thankful for this opportunity. You may notice, this post is quite late in regards to the thread, but that is legitimately just because, I have been working so hard on this entry. I wanted to give you some blasting, something special and something absolutely beautiful.

I have been working on a little scheme of the Null logo, and I would love for your comment on it. If you like it, you are so free to use it forever. If you would like to give me the honorable position in working alongside Null, I would be grateful.

My entry for your logo (a little improvisation): Spoiler (Click to View)

Kind Regards,
Salty
