There has been 4 minutes gap, how do you consider it as a mistake? and also a chargeback threat? I guess you didn't read the ToS, chargeback will of course result in a scam report.

Each of the transactions had different transaction IDs, so those must be done separately, and also, there was 4 minutes gap between each transaction.

I find this pretty immature tbh.

There are obviously no chances of money automatically being debited from your PP account. Can you explain what happened atleast? It is clear that you bought the gen twice for some reason.

For your information: I am contacting Sh1eld (Owner of Payivy) to investigate what happened.

Kayy - February 23, 2015, 2:07 am

I am not very happy with what has happened here, I made a clear mistake but he simply will not return my money!

I would NOT deal with this user again, he is arrogant and I feel like I have been scammed, customer service was terrible DO NOT DEAL WITH THIS USER!!!!

Did i say that i won't return your money? Please re-read before posting something like this.
For sure, i didn't scam you. PM me your paypal email and BTC address. I am going to return the money for both purchases and terminate your licenses as i don't want an ignorant customer.

Kayy broke my ToS, he threatened to chargeback.

You are such an idiot. A simple PM saying "Hey, I bought accidentally twice, can you refund me for the second transaction" would've been fine.

You're being immature as hell assuming you're being scammed.

Thanks alot.
Will be updating the accounts later today.

Tsuyoshi - August 24, 2015, 10:32 am

I just bought this and have went through about 20+ account so far, and all of them log in I guess, but so far not even 1 has had a membership. Dunno if it's just me, but hopefully more accounts are added soon.
