Thread: Cove Studios | Programming Studio | Need Feedback

CodeBeasty - February 8, 2015, 9:14 pm

Hey guys, I am known as CodeBeasty and I am the CEO of Cove Studios and I wanted to get some feedback from the awesome community @ HF, So put your thoughts down below! We are still working on the site!

other than the gray / sky background and primary color for the entire page, I love it. Simplicity is my favorite.

Thanks for the feedback, We are deciding which colors we are going to use, but the sky background is temporary.

HAHAHAHAHAHA

Quote:Loony, I commente this code out, It is having some glitches on All Popular web browser, Footer looks fine on Mobile devices.

That's why I said it was buggy af... Epic. Nuff said.

All the best with the future projects :)

I went ahead and tried to fix a few things using chrome's inspector tools and I noticed that your html & css is a giant mess, no offense.

One suggestion I'd give you is to NOT use bootstrap and learn to do things from scratch before you learn to use a framework like bootstrap.

If you want some help making your website, PM me your skype and I might be able to help you out a bit.

Alright, It's not our final product but We will definitely consider doing it completely from scratch. I PM'd you!

Irrelevant to what you are asking; but, why did you name it "CoveStudios"? The name is pretty redundant as "studio" is defined to be a place where an artist creates art. :p
