WARNING: might be bad grammar :(sorry

So i finally made it to 1000 post's! <3

Well, when i first started out here on HF i was extremely active, interested in learning how to "hack", and started out as a total troll skid. By using software, and understanding how to "hack" ppl, etc rats +++ i also gained alot off knowlage, about how to protect myself against them aswell, after understanding how they work. And HF has given me a wider look, behind the IT curtains :)!

In the year's iv lost most my interest for black activity, and i'm more of a lurker. But for allways this will be my home, whatever i want to do, or do in the future. I feel there is a section for every thing i need. ?

I don't have any special friends here, but it still feels like home ?

Thanks HF <3!
