If I want to do an Epic upgrade service, can I post that in Secondary Sellers or sections around that?

I'm certain its a service and not a currency exchange.

Eagerkid - February 9, 2015, 10:36 am

Yes I believe you could go there and do it

Gonzalez™ - February 9, 2015, 10:37 am

If you're allowed to do that, it should probably be in "service offerings"

3mmi - February 9, 2015, 10:43 am

I don't think there's a rule against it, so you should be able to, yes.

Nigga Bitch - February 9, 2015, 10:49 am

I do believe you are allowed to do this.

N1nj4Styl3 - February 9, 2015, 10:51 am

I don't know whether this is allowed or not..

If Omni wants his OMC recycled (by paying OMC to get EP1C), you're not allowed. On contrast, if he doesn't want his OMC recycled, you're free to do so.

Either way, good luck OP. ?

Raz Riverblade - February 9, 2015, 10:52 am i believe that you can't buy it from another, all you can do is sell the exact amount in OMC

SwimmingPool - February 9, 2015, 11:10 am

I don't think you can do this. I remember Omni saying something about it not being allowed.

If you can link me to this post I will close this.

Members are allowed to request account upgrades via Service Requests, so I don't see an issue with you offering a service to do so for 3P1C. There's no direct rule against it so you shouldn't worry about it. In the end, it all depends on whether or not members trust you enough to use your service. If it is against the rules, a Staff member will respond to this thread or close your service.

Last I checked you are allowed to do this. What you are not allowed to do is sell the OMC award

Omniscient - February 9, 2015, 1:00 pm

This is NOT allowed for 3P1C. You can sell your OMC in the exchange. You cannot offer to upgrade members directly.

The goal is to get more people using OMC directly and not just using a 3rd party to do the dirty work for them. This has been in place since 3P1C started.
