Thread: Keep ub3r color with group userbar.

B?ue - February 10, 2015, 6:19 am

This probably won't be added but I think it would be nice if I could keep my name blue while wearing a groups userbar, especially as what my name is and I guess leave the option to have a white username aswell. I understand its specific for the group but considering its a base group I think it would be a good Idea ?

Any other thoughts on this?

PLEASE NOTE: I am suggesting this be an OPTION, So you can choose either the white or blue name. Considering the staff chose to have white names on group userbars, I wouldn't have made this thread to suggest otherwise.

EDIT: To give a demo I have edited some blue themed userbars of old groups (except AF) under my Ub3r profile to show what I mean. I am currently only a part of nightfall. I am not, and never was a part of any of these groups. if any owners would like me to remove any of these then please PM me. I know that there's not many blue userbar groups around anymore, but still, out of person preference I'd rather have a blue name regardless of userbar primary color theme.

I don't like this, I prefer the white name.

And you already have you ub3r award anyways if you switch userbar.

Yeah, Thanks for the thought.

I was thinking maybe have this as an option, so for those who want to keep their name white they can while others can still carry a blue name, or maybe even green for those l33ts.

I think this would be pretty cool,maybe an option of having it on or off?

I don't like the ub3r blue haha.

This would be complicated to implement in my opinion, but I don't like it much anyways.

Poll added. I can see this becoming predominantly No, But if its not too much of a task to do, then it would be nice to have this added for those who would like this ?

I'd rather have the reputation bar fixed. When switching userbar from Uber to a group it goes down.

I don't like that. It wouldn't match and I like the white name.

Seems like it would be fairly easy to code. Why not let users choose? Of course, you wouldn't be forced to change the color, but it gives the option for those who want it.

I'd use this with my Ep1c userbar. I'd love to keep my name blue.

You've got my support.

"Yes I'd like to chose between blue. and white"

I want this option if I ever become an Ub3r

If you want to display the group, you are displaying that group userbar and the color.

If you want to display Ub3r, you display that userbar and the color.

Your display group is tied to your username color in core MyBB.
