Plasma HTTP 1.1.1

Plasma HTTP Bot

Plasma HTTP Bot allows you to remotely control computers, known as bots, through a Web Panel. PlasmaHTTP's main intention is crypto currency mining, and provides a powerful, effective, and advanced miner. PlasmaHTTP is also compatible of launching DDoS attacks, removing antivirus software, and killing malicious software.

Crypto Currency Miner

Plasma HTTP is able to mine cryptocurrencies, such as LiteCoin, protoshares, and bitcoin on your bots. You can use a custom miner (such as CPUMiner and jhProtominer) with your custom parameters. The miner is completely hidden, and will be re-injected if terminated.

Miner Features:

- Can mine script crypto currencies on CPU or GPU, and Protoshares.
- Supports custom miners (CPUMiner, jhProtoMiner, Ufasoft) PM me your files to request another.
- Custom miner parameter
- Prevents Windows from going to sleep
- Kill all other miners using the Bot Killer
- NOT A DROPPER: Injects Miner files (Undetected)
- Persistent (Miner is re-injected if terminated)
- Miner files are stored on the hard drive encrypted with a unique key

This is one of PlasmaHTTP's major features. Mining crypto currencies can be very profitable.

AV Killer

PlasmaHTTP features a fully functional antivirus killer, that targets your major AV vendors. This feature will greatly increase the lifespan of your bots.

PlasmaHTTP also hinders the installation of antivirus software from the start. When antivirus software is being installed on a system PlasmaHTTP is running on and has administrator privileges on, PlasmaHTTP will remove all permissions to written files, causing the AV installation to outright fail.

PlasmaHTTP's AV Killer requires administrator privileges to work properly. If PlasmaHTTP is executed on a system with an AV, but without administrator privileges, PlasmaHTTP will manipulate the user into giving it administrator privileges with a prompt:

Bot Killer and Anti-Bot Killer

Plasma's Anti-Bot Killer prevents Plasma from being removed or modified. The Registry Keys and startup are fully monitored, and any modifications will be reverted back. Plasma's files are completely protected from any type of modification while Plasma is running. Plasma's process is monitor by a secondary process, and if Plasma is terminated, it will instantly be restarted.

Plasma's Bot Killer searches running processes, startup entries, and the filesystem for malicious files. Processes are terminated, files are killed or removed, and startup entries are deleted. Startup entries that re-add themselves will be deleted. Plasma's Proactive Bot Killer monitors the system's filesystem in real-time, and prevents any malicious activity from occurring before it can harm the system.
