Thread: 100+ Dollars - Official Group Graphics - Userbar, banner, and forum icon

'Snorlax - February 18, 2015, 12:09 am

Hello dear friends,

We are looking for graphics for an official group. We need an userbar, a banner, and a forum icon.

Image details

136x42 for userbar {under 10k bytes}

40x40 for icon {under 2k bytes}

At least 600x200 for banner

Userbar can and would be preferred to have a transparent background.

Group name

Debug

Group description

If debugging is the process of removing bugs, then programming must be the process of putting them in

Edsger W. Dijkstra

We will be focusing on teaching students/members coding. That should be your graphic's goal.

Price

We will be paying 105 dollars for the best design. If everything matches perfectly and looks great, we might go up to 125 dollars.

Submission

All submissions must be sent to me or posted in this thread. We will pick the best one and announce the winner.

Thank you and good luck!

Doxicity - February 18, 2015, 12:10 am

alaikum salam to thee brothers, may the best design win

Cooligan - February 18, 2015, 12:10 am im designing a custom minimalistic mascot for the group

the idea is to make it look like a badass cop, a protector that fights and eliminates the bugs.. later on im gonna draw the bugs running away from it.. just wanna show you the concept before i go crazy with designing and spend hours on it and you simply don't like it afterwards..

clark.dll - February 18, 2015, 2:47 am

HF needed a group like this. I'm very excited.

Doxicity - February 18, 2015, 2:53 am

A tad bit of change:

The groups main focus is still programming, but will have involvement in teaching computing as well.

Shouldn't really effect graphics I dont think.

So because our group is targeted "SLIGHTLY" (as you said yourself) towards technology, we are similar to all other groups? Do you even know what we're going to do? Our idea is unique and hasn't been seen on HF before.

Don't judge us that quickly. You have no clue what our plan is.

Love the idea of the group and it seems to have a strong mentality/image built up already going into it.

These were literally 5 minute concepts, Not sure what you are looking for to be honest but these are quite minimalistic. (Concepts and are a horrible quality/finish.)

The group has been paid for in full already.

This thread is not going anywhere until a design has been picked.

Seems like group graphics threads get so little attention, because recently the OPs just choose nothing, and junk it.

We need full banner and forum icon as well. We need something that stands out and says "This is Debug".

Your userbar has no meaning to it. Why blue? What's the white things?

You should make something that really defines the group. Not a random mockup that might look good in another situation.

If you really want to help people code then get yourself a VERY BASIC userbar that only has "Debug" in HF's standard font.

Why would you have to pay $250 on a userbar when you can get it for free. Just ask omni for the font if you can't find it and write "Debug". You paid $7k for a group where you can teach people not to show them your fancy tail so they can lick your ass.

Razor 1911 - February 22, 2015, 5:19 am umm debugging is a process of eliminating bugs from the code, and if in childhood you played the game pacman, he acquires a super power at some point where he can extradite bugs by swallowing them.. but since you mentioned gifs are not allowed i guess my another attempt goes into dump.. old userbars on HF used to be animated thus i tried one since i noticed no one else presented a animated one..
