Ok great, got it to work, thanks! - I've noticed some issues within the Twitter module such as if you put the username you are trying to crack in the password list - it says it's the password and the account has been cracked. Also the Twitter module seems to randomly say it is cracked from different passwords (generally less than 20 passwords into a 50k list), however if the list is small enough (tested with 5pws on a list) it does get the right password. A little disappointed because the Twitter module was my main buying point. Hope this gets fixed.

TL;DR: a lot of false positives within the Twitter module but it does crack if you put the right pass in and your pwl is less than 5 pws.

I'm sure he did, the program has a nice interface and I can see the requests going out - just the Twitter module is essentially unable to be used because you can't run a pwl without it giving false positives, which to echo what I said earlier the reason I bought it. Hope that the issue gets fixed.

To be honest, it seems like Arrow has a lot of friends on this forum that are vouching for his product. I bought it because it seemed to have good reviews but my experience thus far has not been good. The support has really not been there, I have emailed him multiple times and have not gotten a response. Had to come back to HF to comment on the thread just to get the serial that was emailed to me from the instant buy and wait 24 hours for it to work and for a response. At this point I just want a refund because this isn't working out for me and I'm extremely unhappy with the product + support. Issues with modules, working proxies not working, etc. Not trying to sales bash, I've just had a terrible experience, I just want my refund and to move on and hopefully Arrow updates or fixes the issues with Hyperstrike so somebody else doesn't have the same issues I did in the future.

Haven't received any email responses from you ironically. Which again, ironically, the redeem code didn't work well until I posted 24 hours on here after I purchased it and you responded to my comment assuming you gave different instructions to correct the redeem code issue in the emails that never came. But by chance my email provider is rejecting your email address only, I'll email you

My question: For example your PSN module. Does it only crack valid accounts meaning an account that successfully logs into the website OR does it also show "capture" which means it shows other information (ie: games, balance etc).

You're selling a cracker but you don't understand what "capture" means? ANY person that knows how to crack knows what that means...

That question is for ALL your modules. There's no point in purchasing a cracker to only have to check each account manually anyway to see what's in them.

Steam requires you to enter a security code if logging in from a new location. That code is sent to your email. I don't see how you'd ever jack a steam account without first jacking the email.

Correct. Also Steam has Captcha
Unless you're interested in paying DBC per captcha, which most people aren't, I wont be adding steam

It's a fairly simple tool. You can see the features in the OP

Imfsthefounder - March 17, 2015, 8:22 pm

Bought and testing it out. I generated a 20,000 deep list of passwords to test an IG account on. I put the real password about 30% down the list. The program completed telling me it was unable to crack any account.

Did I maybe put my proxy list together wrong? Some other thing?

Also, it gave me 2 false positives on twitter. troubleshooting pls?

It's fairly simple. Just select a dictionary attack method, enter the email and then import a password list/proxy list and press start.

Simple

1. Go to address.yahoo.com and login
2. Click on the Facebook Icon and allow Yahoo to import all the contacts from Facebook. Or go to Tools -> Import -> Facebook.
3. Now you have all the real emails of all your Facebook-friends

What I did was setup a FB test account with an email address of test@gamil.com

I made a PW list with 4 passwords saved to my desktop passW.txt (one of them for the password for the FB account)

How I got this working was by using a VPN and not a proxy file so Victm's ID - the email address (make sure your using the Dictionary and not the combo) enter the path to your passW.txt make sure your Module is set to FB then run-it, should take less then a min or two to bring the password back to you...

hope this helps?

Funny - you should say that, ran it again this time via a vpn with 50k pw list with the last one in the list being the right PW and it came back saying zero accounts being cracked after 2hrs. I then opened the txt file copied the last entry and pasted it into FB and open the account. So something isn't working.... But did it this morning with only a 4 or 5 passwords and it worked! Wait and see what Arrow will find when he looks at it.

Unlocked. You're on ur final chance now

New update is out for Hyperstrike customers:

Netflix module fixed

Instagram module fixed

Crunchyroll module fixed

New Hotmail module added

New Skype module added

Next update - coming out sometime this week will include:

Proxy scraper (Maybe)

Yahoo module

League of Legends module (All regions)

Runescape module

OCR (Captcha bypass)

Please refrain from making retarded posts or you will get a free license ban.

Twitch has captcha enabled sometimes so it will say invalid login attempt when trying to log into accounts. OCR update should fix this issue.

Open for more module requests if anyone wants to requests.

Not a Module - but a small mod to the interface, when you load the password list it tells you how many it has loaded, can we have small window somewhere that counts which password its working on eg. (002/55000) and so on.. that way, we know the app is working and would also indicate which if any password have not worked on the app.

Yes the modules work fine even if it says User-EXP

The name on top of the program has nothing to do with the modules...not sure what even made you think it did.

Sales are going to be closed for a few days. Dealing with something irl and I cant be fucked responding to dumb questions over and over again.

There has been a major update for Hyperstrike

USER-EXP errors have been fixed.

All modules have been updated for faster cracking experience

Current users can just run the tool to get the latest update.

I have taken over the Lunar Project. All Hyperstrike customers can get their subscription switched over to the new toolkit.

FYI - Hyperstrike is not dead. It just needs a few tweaks, however I do not have time at this moment due to finals. It will be back up and running within a week or so. Pm me if anyone wants to switch over or has any other questions how's everyone else handle the proxies? i've been loading mostly valid proxies, but they're still f-ing up my cycle. when i dont load any, the real password from my test gets returned; with proxies, it doesn't return jack.

i even used those paid-for proxies from the .ru site, but they didn't help.

Just wanted to let everyone know my experience. First off Arrow is cool dude, helped me out with all my questions & was very helpful so for that I thank him. I originally purchased the first cracking product which was pretty much useless & did not work. So he then directed me to the new & improved software Lunar. Being very excited to use the software, I deactivated my AVG, loaded up some proxies + my combo list & attempted to crack an account. Left the software running for a couple hours, returned & nothing happened? The cracker doesn't show any progress or results whatsoever. I contacted Arrow & he said the issue might be my proxies but I know they are all good because they've been all been checked. Also tried to at least get a partial refund but Arrow said he couldn't do it which is fine. Other then the program not working at all Arrow tried to help just wanted to share my experience with others.

I suggest you to learn what a cracker is before purchasing a software similar to this again. Giving you a refund was not an option after I have helped you multiple times and answered 20+ pms.

Whether to buy it or not is your decision. No one is forcing you to purchase the software

One thing I would advise everyone is not to be hopelessly confused. I will not spoonfeed you everything if you don't even know how to download the software and unzip the files onto your computer. I would suggest you learn some basics on how to use a computer prior to even going on the internet and sending people your money. If you do manage to do that first step and still need help then you can simply pm or email me and I will try my best to help you out.

darkangel75 - June 9, 2015, 9:45 am

I added you on Skype but i'm still waiting for you to reply my invitation.

But i agree with you many people doesn't know how to even download a simple file, but belive me it's not my case, i'm an IT professional with some knowledge of bruteforcing, and i'm interested on your software.

I tried a lot for FB and didn't get only one to work.

just bought it, trying to figure it out

EDIT: i'm stupid, i read through the whole forum, and since i don't know if the proxies are working cause nothing happens when i drop the proxy list onto the proxy checker tab (0/0), i tried many lists on many sizes also combo list sizes. i ended up setting up the attack on Hotmail without proxies using a 3 line combo list with my password and i still don't get a match. i will only use this for hotmail.

this is how my combo list looks.

anonhere@hotmail.com:pass123 anonhere@hotmail.com:password123
anonhere@hotmail.com:P@$w0rd

this is how my proxy list looks.

117.164146.137:8123

```
177.53.64.19:8080

222.124.219.215:3128

i guess that's how they're supposed to look dotnet is up to date and i'm running windows 8.1 thru parallels desktop on a mac. (isolated) wtf?

I see it'll tackle certain emails but not yahoo or did I overlook that one accidentally? From what I've read it seems that Lunar works pretty well..have most people have a lot of success with facebook because that is my main attraction currently (again, it looks like it but I want to make sure before I buy). Well that and I saw Arrow's post about importing FB contacts TO yahoo but the FB account I'm after has its security connected to a phone if you log in from a new IP I believe so I have to tread carefully thus the preference would be getting the email first but if yahoo isn't supported..Is Lunar still the ideal product to use I wonder? Either way I've been a big fan of your work Arrow :) Thanks for the input as well~

Going to leave a review on this product, probably the best toolkit available. The number of accounts you can get from this is INSANE. I have gotten Facebook, Twitter and Instagram accounts in masses due to this product. There is almost no bugs or flaws to this product, it works like a charm, I def recommend this product if you want to get a shit ton of accounts. The accounts are top quality as-well and this kit brings the best results. Support on this product is SPECATACULAR, Arrowr responds within 6 hours and helps me step by step with any simple problem. I def reccomend purchasing this product if you want a shit ton of accounts.

This works better than a charm.

Hey guys i've emailed arrow a few questions however had no response so i'll post them here hoping for some answers.

1. After purchasing lunar toolkit what other things do i need to get? Why do i need proxies, and do i need anything else besides lunar toolkit + proxies?
2. Am i able to target specific people, such as 3 hot mail accounts?
3. Will this enable you to crack passwords which have a combination of upper case, lower case and numbers?
4. How much success have you had with this product, is it worth getting?

Thanks! Looking foward to purchasing this product once my questions have been answered

PS: If you privately offer the same service, please reply here or PM me and we can talk as i need to crack a few hotmail accounts, thanks once again!

Hey, I was wondering if you could post a video of the program in use, to show people that it works, as well as how to use it. This would clear confusion up for people who buy the program, and make people want to buy it if there is proof of the program working properly. I am thinking of buying this once I get my PC, but I would like to see proof of the program working. Thanks.

Hello mister Arrow, can I use the Lunar Toolkit to gain access to some Gmail and Hotmail accounts?

BanananaKing - September 13, 2015, 10:27 am

I just purchase this product yesterday and I have to say I'm not very pleased with it. It may or many not work, I'm not sure. The only issue I have with this that is a huge problem is I have to create a combo list for accounts rather than just load two separate files, or enter one username and load a password list.

My reasoning behind this is usually when I want to crack an account I want to target only that account to have it done as soon as possible. In addition to this, if I'm going to crack an account I'm going to use a very large password list. Keep in mind that for every username you have in the users file it makes a copy of the password for (so 1M passwords and 10 users means 10M combos to test which will use a LOT of space). I don't want to have to modify that file every time I want to change the username either since my computer (and probably other users) can't handle large files in an editor. I tried using the combo maker tool, but had issues saving the file (assuming because it was too large for it to handle) so I had to split a ~64 million password list into 4 files just to edit them without running out of RAM on my laptop. Granted this program may work on high powered desktops that have 16GB+ ram installed (I have 8GB) and a strong processor, but for the average user this won't get you too far.

As far as the user interface and performance (apart from the success/failure of trying to crack accounts) I do have to say its very well designed. I didn't have any instructions to follow but was able to start cracking after a few minutes and figuring it all out. I don't blame the developer for the issues I face since most of it was at fault of my laptop not being able to handle the program. I'm not saying it doesn't work or that it's a bad product, I'm just saying that unless you have a high powered computer to use this or know someone with one, I wouldn't bother wasting your time with a bruteforce tool since they all pretty much do the same thing.

If the developer of this modified the tool to allow a password list rather than a combo list then a field to enter a password then I would definitely like this a lot more and it would be greater use to me. Granted the fact that trying to crack multiple accounts at once may be desired, it's not exactly efficient unless you have a dedicated server or something running this to ensure speed and performance, as well as a large proxy list to go with it. That's mainly why I'm not a fan of the combo list.

tl;dr

Seems to work great with minimal flaws (I haven't cracked the account(s) I want yet since I'm using very large dictionaries). Developer shouldn't use combo lists and instead should have a username to crack followed by a passwords file (at least make an option to switch between both methods).

EDIT

Also another addition that would be nice is a progress bar that updates after so many attempts so I know how long it's going to take to complete the list.

Questions:

1. If i were to buy the lifetime license, would you be able to create a personal plugin for me (without releasing it to the public)? The plugin would not be complex, only login=true flag.
2. The Netflix plugin is based on the american website? or will it work with Europe countries? (login site from etc sweden)
3. How long have this service been up? (I can see thread creation but not how long the service been up)

If you were to hack a facebook account, wouldn't you have to go through a security check in order to gain access? Just a question that I thought I might ask before attempting to hack any account since when we hack into an account from a different PC or location it would lock the account to protect it!

Hack any account? You got to be retarded.

Most of the sites that you mentioned have hostname based protection, you cannot do anything even if you had the password. This is a simple bruter using the API which any skid can code within 5 minutes. Why this is labelled as a magical account hacker button?

Piece of shit skid, interesting to see how people try to get as much money as they can off this forum.

I'm just curious how this interacts with FB's other security features...like calling the phone (SMS) message if logged in with a different location. So is this tool a good fit to get into an account? I only have two targets in mind..

Ok I read most of the pages here... I want to crack a FB account. But I am sure the password it uses will be something pretty obscure and not obvious. Does this actually work. Because people are talking about brute forcing with password lists... is this all this tool is ? Trying random passwords hoping something "works" cause that will never happen.. I thought I could just enter a username and it would log me in to his account?

Allen77477 - November 30, 2015, 7:11 am

Okay ive been waiting for arrow to answer, but he won't. The program finds like thousands of random passwords and it doesn't make any sense. and now i can't even open the program no longer? HELP PLS??

This is my question as well, i did not buy it yet, was intending to but it seems it won't ever work... it should give you one valid password, not thousands of "hey, maybe this works ones".. as far as I understand it, you need a lot of proxies to "try and pray" but I am sure the password i want is like some garbled mess, not a word from the dictionary...

Instead of bitching send me a pm with what module you're using and the steps you're following. It is likely that the login api was updated for that specific module and needs to be fixed. It's not rocket science to follow instructions

Awaiting reply's still about the Twitter and Skype Modules not functioning with test accounts loaded into combo list. Anyone know when Arrow may be back to reply? Also has anyone had any luck with any of the other configurations? I have been trying to use this for two months and can only assume since so many vouch for Arrow that either the modules I am using are not in as much demand or something is wrong with my usage of the tool. I am open to any suggestions I really would love for this to work.

As you can tell by the vouches it is legit.

N0F4CE - January 6, 2016, 11:57 pm

1. Can this method not take years or have I been away from here for too long?
2. What if someone hacked Arrows email would that not compromise the service?
3. 2-Step verification is very common now so is this tool/method not highly dated and almost completely ineffective? I mean you would have to send your victim a rat, spoof their IP when if your victim was stupid enough to run your file in the first place you could have just keylogged them.

Vouches are great and all but "Yes you can hack pretty much any account with this tool" isn't exactly a true statement. It's 2016 guys get with the times. There are people out there capable of actually looking into these sites database and grabbing what they need. Just sayin... :D

lun471k - January 24, 2016, 4:20 am

How many times in average does it take to crack an account's password (FB) using this toolkit ? From what it seems it's a regular cracker with proxy management, so it could take years to get someone's password?

Andy H - January 24, 2016, 4:41 am

Hi Arrow - I created a combo list using the resource - a text file with my username then created a text file with my password to test. This then creates a new file with, for example ;

Username:Password

I then use the proxy list I've scraped - obviously the search is pretty much instant as only the one to look up, and I get nothing when it takes me to results.

Any ideas please ?

Maybe its possible that Snipes and I are both missing some dependent software or hardware configuration?

Is there any dependent software required to run this toolkit or and any special dependencies that we may be missing?

I'm not sure on this, Arrow is away until the 15th, you can try to PM ElChapo1990 to see if he has an answer.

You need proxies coz both sites block your ip after a certain amount of invalid login attempts great thanks for answering my question ?

so that leads to my first question then every time i test the proxy on ig or twitter and it says its live and works then i test it on my own account i get no results

but when i do no proxy it pops right up so i dont know if im doing something wrong

I've read about that kind of stuff. If you ever get the password then facebook will protect the account and it could even ask your ID to gain access to your count again.

Also, you can only try like 20 times?

I hope it makes sense.

I asked the same question before and no one wanted to answer it either. My suggestion is simply just don't buy it and find a RAT to use instead. I find it very suspicious of them not wanting to answer that question about facebook locking the account as they know very well what we're talking about and don't want to admit the truth. I've been using a RAT and I think it's better than this hack tool in my opinion. And what makes that any better? Well you can access victim's PC through remote desktop and unlock the account you're hacking into that way! Hope this answers the question!

This was XeBlast's question, not mines. His question was if facebook will lock the account if you try bruteforcing many times to hack into the account. Facebook will just ask you to confirm that you're the real owner of the account by sending you a code to a phone that's linked to it. You need to either unlink the number from victim's facebook or have access to the phone. I understand a RAT is also a bit complicated to use but if you can't hack an account through that method then you shouldn't even be a hacker to begin with. Hacking is not suppose to be as easy as you think, it takes alot of work and patience. Not just letting a hack tool do all the work for you. It's simple!

if the password matches it snatches the account.

It's amazing how I just get ignored for asking a question no one wants to answer, look mates, just tell me the answer, if not that's fine, if so I might buy, simple!

Yet you have half a dozen people saying they're readily available to answer questions.

Original question:

Depends on your proxies/net speed.

Toolkit works like a charm. An excellent product, I love it. Toolkit makes work much MUCH easier. The pricepoint is very decent but there was slight bugs the last time I used this product. Arrow was quick to fix it among with his team. The support given from this product is PHENOMENAL. I would buy this product just for the support given, it is literally impossible to not get help from these guys!

hello..i would like to purchase this but i need help with something first. ive purchased s similar program in the past i but did not have the time nor the knowledge to use it..

it looks very similar to this one. i tried to hack instagram accounts with it, but i got stuck at something called combo list. it said "load your combo list"... what exactly is that? i can't PMyou becauese i just made this account, i cant access my old one. can you please give me a brief explanation on how to use this program for hacking instagram accounts? i heard this program can do that..i would also like to know what a combo list is and how to create one. thank you very much..im looking forward to purchase and use your program.

To clear some things up;

This product is a CRACKER, with the right combinations (list of usernames and passwords) it cracks and checks all the accounts and see which one matches.

If you have a good list, you're hacking many accounts.

For any other questions please feel free to PM me or any other support agent among Arrow.

Can you please answer these questions:

- 1 - Is proxy needed ? Does the program come with a proxy list for me to use when it's running?
- 2 - Do I have to download my own dictionary or does one come with the program?
- 3 - How long, on average, does it take to crack into an account ?

Thank you.

- 1) No, you bring your own lists. It'll work perfectly fine with the toolkit.
- 2) You get your own lists, we only provide the toolkit.
- 3) One account? The toolkit has the fastest checker on HF, It will take maybe a second to check an account, less.

Hey LOFTYyesMAN,

I am not sure if you still quite understand. You got to scan for these proxies and many work, it's not like only one set :P

3) Less than that, I once tested this with 100 accounts and it checked it by the time I blinked.

Arrow.. I'm in need of serious help, I logged on this forum. My instagram page instagram(DOT)com/MustangMagazine - was stolen from 3 different times already from the same Hacker. I do not understand how this can be happening, I just reset my phone and now will be resting my laptop for a keylogger. If there is anyway you can help me out, by figuring out who he is or even getting the account back for me thank you... I have 1000's of ways of proving the account is mine if you need it before you possibly help me seek Justice.

Hi sorry to quote, but i can't pm. Does this still work?

Brindle - August 14, 2016, 2:41 pm

Having bought this over the weekend and running it constantly, I am still yet to yield any results.

I have tested on known logins and passwords for Skype and Hotmail/outlook choice. I have about 2.5k valid proxy list and using a small username and password list to test but failed every time. I load username and passwords in separate list to the combo maker then use the combined list for the initial crack setting. I also check the proxy list and the extract that back to the same file and use that on the cracking settings. I have used a different combination of Proxy Timeout from 1k to 5k and various different concurrent threads but to no avail.

Does this still work?

What am i doing wrong?

Any advice would be grateful.

Anyone able to help with the post above?

Brindle - August 16, 2016, 5:37 am

So its been about 48 hours since I posted and emailed about if this still works and not had any replies or suggestion.

I still have yet to yield any results on known accounts and passwords.

Has anyone had any success?

What might i being doing wrong?

I know this is a sales thread, but this can also been considered feedback for the product.

Been away due to irl stuff going on. Will be away until next week. As for the problem, try it without the proxies to see if it's a proxy issue or a module issue. Either one of those are easy to fix. You need to figure out which one it is

Brindle - August 16, 2016, 1:54 pm

Hi Arrow

Tried it without proxies on known users/passwords and it worked. So not sure how that figures into your program. Will now run it against unknown users and see if results are achieved. Will wait to here on updates as and when.

Ive done some further testing arrow and emailed you what i concluded. Hope it helps to resolve the issue.

WenGriff - August 20, 2016, 7:46 am

This is bruteforcer or WL? How long it takes to crack middle-strong pass?

Brindle - August 22, 2016, 6:26 am

Review of Lunar Project Kit

Having purchased this product 2.5 weeks ago, i think its time for a review.

I have yet to get it to work. It may have worked in the past and might once Arrow has done an update but currently it does not work. I have run tests on Skype, Hotmail/Gmail and Netflix modules. The problem seems to be that it can only look at the first username and first 4 passwords on a combo list which means you can only check 4 combinations for 1 username at any time. Anymore than this and the program does not find anything. It was tested on known accounts and logins.

I understand that programs need updating and Arrow has an external life outside of this program, however, if you look back through the forum you'll see this program often needs updating and often fails to work.

Arrow does respond to emails, but only once a day and asks questions without giving any advice. If you are unfamiliar with this type of software, it will take you a while to get to grips with it.

It is easy to use and to start using, but it does not yield any results. The combo list maker is particularly good and useful and nice aspect of the program which i used for a free Skye Bruteforce program i found, which does the same job as this. It also had a proxy scrapper which gets you around 1.5k of proxies which is useful.

As i only have 1.5 weeks left of my months trial i do not expect to get anything results from this program so I have wasted my money. If you are going to buy it then please be aware that there are no refunds.

2 out 5.

Flaxpicker - August 25, 2016, 2:47 pm

First of all, you purchased it a week ago and I have responded to all the emails you sent until I had to leave due to IRL emergency, and I have communicated this publicly to all customers. Obviously irl issues are higher priority than helping kids with software. Just because you don't know how to use the software doesn't mean it doesn't work or you have wasted money. The module you were using has been updated, and if you emailed me asking this instead of trying to slander the product, I would have no issues extending your license, as I normally do if there is anything delayed on my end. However you will not get shit now since you only have "1 week" left now

A major update for Lunar Toolkit has been released.

All current customers can pm me payment proof to receive the update.

Sorry, but due to a high number of fraudulent payments via echecks I do not accept them or deliver the product before the payment clears. I have cancelled your payment. If you need to purchase then you will have to make a normal instant payment via Paypal or Bitcoin.

There's really a lot of factors that come into play - password complexity, module, dead/alive proxies, speed

You can target any account thru bruteforce. Why would those accounts be an exception?

Can you hack specific account with this tool or is this just randomly generating or randomly picking victims? Is this a bruteforce attack or not? if so, should i have at least a powerful cpu and a fast network to make a successful attack or intel i5 with 3mbps connection will suffice?

You can target a specific account or just random ones - that is upto you. 3 mbps speed is more than enough for this.

I tried bruteforcing once in windows and it takes forever when i have a list of 3-10gb password file. I hope your application is fast and is processor friendly since complex password takes to brute a months to year. Nonetheless, I might try this once you get free from your time.
