Thread designs: $10-20

Signature: $5-10

Avatar/logo: $5-20

Portfolio: <http://glazedhf.carbonmade.com/> (still growing my portfolio)

All deals done through HF and/or Skype.

Payments sent when shown watermarked images then given .psd/.png
$10-20 is definitely not a cheap price after I saw your portfolio. ?

I see lots of people charging upwards to 30$ for thread designs, but the pricing is still in the works, testing waters right now.

But your work is worth $5. Not even close to $6..

Not trying to hate, but I provide a high level of work for free.
I recommend starting a free shop until you get better.

Most of the work in the portfolio was upon request, read the captions and youll see for yourself.

It's still beginner level work regardless.

If you want to charge then you're going to have to practice.

The best way to learn is by opening a free graphics shop.

Compare your sig to this:

I wouldn't charge for this sig, and I would consider it higher quality than yours.

I just threw my sig together for a free service, im working on one now and am in the process of a thread design + 4 other gfx service requests as well. You may be better than I am, im not here to compete, just to offer services and i dont complete the project until the person is satisfied.
