Thread: Warning DO NOT Deal With SocialMediaSupplier UID=2541735

BotMarket - February 27, 2015, 1:27 pm

Ok so this all started when i made a twitter follow bot. I was contacted by SocialMediaSupplier <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=2541735> asking to buy the bot. So i sold it to him and within 1 min he contacts me saying the bot does not work and he wants a refund. I told him as it states in my thread there is no refunds. If the bot is not working screen share me so i can see. Because it is working fine on my end. He refused to do anything. So i went to look at his profile and he is selling a twitter bot but for 10X the price i sell mine. It then started to make sense why he purchased my bot. Just so he could sales bash me.

Then he made a threat to DDOS me.

So a few days goes by and i see he posted this on his sales thread...

First thing you can see is the guy calls me Lazymans and his English is border line retarded.

Second thing you can see is the comment does not even show who said it....

You can ask anyone i reply very quickly to my PM's so i can only guess this is a fake message made by SocialMediaSupplier

Also SocialMediaSupplier is using a glitch in HF to make his sales thread on page one. By deleting his comment waiting 20 mins and then replying back.

Also everything he sell is just affiliate products his twitter bot can be found here.

<http://twitteraccountcreator.com/>

He does not say in the sale thread he can not offer support as he is not the creator of the software. Also what are you buying? because the product for lifetime is $160 so i can only guess when you buy from him you are only getting a 1 month trial. Also does not state any of this in his sales thread.

He also mass messages everyone on his skype account asking for vouches.

This is a warring to all do not deal with him. He also should be banned for exploiting a glitch in HF.

I think its sad he needs to use his friends on HF to bash me just because i am a competitor.

The fact is when anyone has said its not working and i go look at what their doing it only because the proxy is dead. Not an excuse its a fact.

So, how about you offer up some proof.

I would like you to get 50 working proxies, and you test them yourself to ensure they're working. PM me the list, I will then put them into the program, and record it.

If it works, then you're not giving an excuse, if it doesn't work, then you will prove you're a scammer. This is reasonable, and more importantly fair.

I just wanted to prove if the software worked or not from a complete neutral party. I have no use for the bot itself because you act like a child and I could get better support from my Indian freelancer.

Like I said I use private proxies every single day. I provide for Vine which is owned by Twitter. If you don't feel like proving me wrong or the community alert wrong then demonstrate the software works.

Oh and any doubts on my vine bot.

The user is asking for a refund based on the fact the software doesn't work. You state in this thread "...Because it is working fine on my end." Then prove it. If the software is proved to be working then it would clearly be on his end and this thread probably wouldn't exist. Don't forget the underlying meaning behind his pathetic attempt at getting a refund and why he was upset. The fact that your software isn't working and from what I have seen on your sales thread, 3 people have stated it doesn't work, not just him.

The only thing this thread will accomplish is making staff aware of a delete post situation and make you look like an idiot with how you handle upset customers. Like I said before glws.

There is no need to reply unnecessary question or post.

Additionally, for the "100th" time, I setup my own server, in Austria, setup a proxy server on it, put in the ip and port into your program, ran it through 5 different proxy checkers, it worked through proxy checkers. Put it in your program, "error" ...

I've spoken to SocialStamp, first of all - check the ips: They don't match, not even in the same area/country.

Secondly, both accounts in your screenshot there OP were active at 3:44 PM, so how could one person be using two accounts at the same time at the exact same second?

Ok its just easier to talk on skype and send files.

Why does it require administrator permissions?

no it should not need admin permission.

It asked for administrator permissions, ran it in sandboxie.

This is where you starting going off about it wanting admin. I do not know why it asked for that as not one of my customers have had that happen. But what i also find interesting is i see you gave social scammer your skype but you tell me you don't even have skype.... Hmmm

Also what i just noticed is you changed your name. Hmm and i found this post

Can't tell if retarded or just plain out stupid....

If you read that "post" -> it leads to a different person. Also I changed my name because I liked my new name better. lol.

Also, my Skype and whom I share it with shouldn't matter.

There's a typo in the thread's title where it says "Warring", I'm pretty sure that's supposed to say "Warning", or am I trippin'?
