All of a sudden when I try to use that sig. that ive used for a while.. It says:

Anyone have any idea how to fix this? Id just save the picture and switch to jpg.. but the site the image is hosted on updates the image every hour so it stays up to date with current steam data.

Get the image you are trying to use and save it, then upload it to an image hosting site. Replace the image code of that signature with the image code you get on imgur (or whatever image hosting site you use). Should work fine after that.

The image gets updated hourly. So I'd have to save and upload the new image every time i wanted it to update..

That's the only way you'll be able to get it to work.

I had to learn that nearly 4 years ago when I was trying to use my Bungie badge in my signature.

The reason that you can't use any other site is because otherwise you could just pay people to have it in their signature, and then change the image to (for example) a virus.
