Thread: [Scammed by Calvin and Hobbes \[UID=2553967\]](#)

Uzi London ++ - March 6, 2015, 8:59 am

He has more than one account. I have his ip ofc if the staff need it. So 3 days ago he agreed to do $75 btc for my classwork and I sent him half and said I'd send the other half after half of it was finished I would send the other half. Then he said he wasn't going to do it unless I payed full up front because "Thats what Jake - HW told him" so I was like okay, because I really thought I could trust him, as he had actually helped me report someone trying to scam. So in reality it was probably him who tried to scam me in the first place. So after I sent him the $75 btc, he never responded for 2 days. This morning I sent him a message and he finally wrote back. With "??". So I asked him, did you do any work?" He replied no. I told him it's been a while and you just disappeared and I thought he'd scammed me (which he did). So then he said "Nah man it's too much work." even though I told him specifically how much he would be doing. He said that I would have to send him $20 paypal and then he would do it.

~~~~~

Right there where he deleted his message, he said "Good luck finding my real account :P Lol" and he deleted it before I could screenshot it.

I've got the IP of the university he goes to and his home network.

If there are any staff who want the Ip's to find his other acc's, please just PM me.

I'm not sure how I will ever get all that btc back.

Anyways, he's not online and he won't be for uhhh quite a while.

EDIT: his skype is live:marcolegoz

Sorry for your loss OP shoulda got the user to pm you over here before dealing to confirm what his account history has (rep, scam reports etc)

BrianKush - March 6, 2015, 3:28 pm

Wow man sorry this happened to you, seems like this user has been going on a scamming spree lately. I've seen so many scam reports on him lately, good luck getting this resolved.

No, the thing is HE DID. He didn't have the bad rep until YESTERDAY

I forgot that I should probably add the coinbase transaction too. Doing that now.

Done. The transactions are posted. Please, if anyone else is scammed by him, do report him.
