Hope you gain knowledge there.. Don't have time right now. Might join later

SIM-2396611 - March 7, 2015, 5:48 am

Removed because content is no longer relevant, thank you.

rapidfire08 - March 7, 2015, 5:49 am

Seems like a cool idea. I suggest you to keep the group short and tight.

Styl3alex - March 7, 2015, 6:39 am

Just joined to the group, hope to gain some good experience from there:)

SIM-2396611 - March 7, 2015, 11:41 am

Updated this so that people can join via Link.

Azraelstear - March 7, 2015, 12:09 pm

Good luck with your group of 30 noobs.

Skilled & experienced people don't need separate platform to discuss business.

My group chat isn't just so people can discuss business, but also so people can get help faster than people might get solely on HackForums.

Oddissee - March 7, 2015, 12:45 pm

Great group. Learned alot already. Thanks for the information bro!

Why not Facebook group then? Or ICQ or IRC

Noone sane needs your group. As most of Skype group, this one will be dismantled almost immediately.

Skype is platform. If you don't have content, changing platform won't change a damn thing.

But I'm quite h@ppy you've made this group.

There would be less idiots starting LQ threads like "I've heard there's money to be made online" or "I have 6$ to invest" in MT section

I appreciate your opinion and perhaps there are pros and cons to my methods, but hey, people are joining and people are conversing which is all it has been made for ?

You might not like me.

I didn't study diplomacy. I'm rough but there's always reason in what I write.

There are thousands of people reading MONEY subforum and yet, there's like 10 - 20 people that have input of any value.

You will just get few fools that expect spoonfeeding. That's how it goes with Skype groups.
