How you gettin' your bread up?:

I have several ways of racking up cash. I have many business' online and IRL. Online I sell e-books, amazon services on other forums, Twitch Services, SEO and more. I have a decent Twitter niche that I make pretty good money online and I am hopefully going to share my skills with other Zero members. I also sell shoes at school specifically Jordans which gives me an extra source of income. I always considered myself a business man ever since I was very little. I loved selling things like Lemonade stands and whenever we had those school selling things I would always get the biggest prize because I would work so hard to sell as much as I could. Now, at school I sell pretty much everything. If anyone needs something online or something they wouldn't be able to get at a store I come in and do the business. I mainly sell things like Vapes, Online accounts such as Netflix, Hulu, Brazzers etc. When I'm older my dream is to become an entrepreneur. For the past couple of years I have been trying to create a great product and start my career at a young age but I haven't been very successful finding the right product to create.

What you planning to offer Zero?:

I can offer my business skills for every member. I know a ton about making money online and offline. I can give people ideas for things to sell at school and tips on how to make money online. I am very good at SEO and any type of Social Marketing. As I stated before I have a couple Twitter & Instagram niches that I can help other Zero members with my skills. I am very skilled in making money and I would love to share my love for making money with other members that feel the same.

Why you wanna be in Zero?:

I would like to be in Zero because I think it would be a lot of fun to talk to other members that have the same interest as me, making money. I have seen many Zero members here on HackForums and all of them seem like very nice and intelligent people that I would love to be in a group with. I can imagine how HQ & fun the sub-forum is and I would love to be a part of it. Even though I am not upgraded, I am still a very HQ user here on HackForums.

Any products for sale on HackForums?:

Twitch Turbo & Subscription Service
Sneaky Stealing E-Book
Fiverr Shop
Plan on having more once I am upgraded

Any special qualifications?:

I am great at making money and I can help many Zero members. I will be very active in the Sub-Forum and help to make it a better place. Thank you for taking the time to read my application.

I also am going to attend pratt institute in ny for 2 years, but with my 6+ years of experience I can offer anything from motion graphics/edits/visual communications (3D/2D) to edits and anything in that field really.

Why you wanna be in Zero?: I'm cool with a couple of dudes in the group who can vouch for me and they shot me this link. I'm here to make money and make a name for myself in the market place. Some well respected members here know me and have dealt with me, already made a name for myself on the other site and now I'm planning on doing the same here and what better way to start than to be in the best group on HF?

Any products for sale on HackForums?: Currently don't have the requirements for uber (rep) but I've sold to various members on here, such as Myth, Lethal, Savior and so on. Once I'm accepted into uber I'll be all around the marketplace often.

Any special qualifications?: Again, available in visual communications, currently attending school for psychology so I'm able to counsel in that aspect, also have a personal coder that I went to school with so if something needs to be done or set up, I can arrange that.

How you gettin' your bread up?

A bit of yeast should do. Nah, but seriously, prior to opening my graphics store yesterday I've already made a fair amount of money which is continually rising. I'm also running a few RuneScape bots that are generating income from in-game RuneScape gold; it's a slow yet rewarding method of money making. Nonetheless I've never been a huge money maker, it's not something I worry about as of now; I'm sure my future-self can worry about my income. I'm more applying for the lounge aspect.

What are you planning to offer Zero?

One of the main & most important thing I can offer Zero is activity. I'll make sure to maintain activity in the Zero subforum by posting threads daily to make sure that activity levels do not decrease; I'd also be an avid poster who would get the rest of the group involved in all the subforum content. From all the groups I am currently in I believe I'm one of the most active users in them all (apart from maybe Titans, all the members are active), I post in the subforum daily & enjoy communicating with other members of the group.

Aside from activity one of the skills I believe I possess is that of good grammar; I've always been a bit of a 'grammar Nazi', although I don't believe it's entirely important - as it isn't - it still portrays a good representation of yourself as a member. I understand in spite of the fact that high quality posts don't always rely on grammar, it does, in my opinion, play a huge part. I believe through my grammar I can become a good representation of the Zero group and represent it as even more high quality than it is and build it as one of the biggest groups on HF itself, maybe even ever. It's a big aim however one I believe is achievable with Zero.

Why do you wanna be in Zero?

I believe Zero to be one of the most high quality groups on the forum, all the current members of the group are the most respected among the HF community (tsk whatcha talkin' about, I'm not sucking up.) I'd like to make a name of myself here at HF and I believe I can do that through Zero. Others and myself included look up upon those in the Zero group, it's one of those groups you're so eager to be apart of yet you know your chances are extremely thin with the competition you have. I do understand my chances are limited but being able to apply for the group was a big step itself, I never thought I'd have the chance & I'm glad the group decided to accept applications.

I also love the prospect of a lounge group as I believe it suits me perfectly; as you can see through my post activity. I am able to uphold activity within the subforum - as I've already mentioned - and I'm also knowledgeable in a lot of aspects in the world (if I say so myself) ones that I believe will come up a lot in the Zero subforum, so I can contribute to every Zero topic. I know I may come across not at all modest however I'm trying to sell myself, and I believe to do that you must highlight your key points.

Of course the userbar plays its part too, it is extremely aesthetically pleasing and I believe it to be one of the best userbars on the forum. It came as a surprise to me when I heard you were requesting a new one prior to the group change a few weeks back. When worn it makes the user look incredibly HQ.

Nonetheless, I'll stop myself rambling on as I'm sure I'll continue for a fair while, and I'll spare you from reading so much.

Any products for sale?

Just my graphics store as of now - <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4719686> - however as I mentioned, I'm applying more for the lounge aspect.

Any special qualifications?

I'm an avid designer with a passion for graphics. I've been in the graphics business for well over four years now and I believe I've progressed in my time. If you were to compare my first ever piece to the quality of work I am producing now you'd witness a major difference. Graphics has always been my selling point for everything, it makes me who I am at every community forum I've been at; it gives me a name among the community, you can see that through my reputation which is primarily from graphics. I'm enthusiastic about designing and hope to pursue a career in designing in the future, I'm not quite sure what however I am a fan of the idea of a graphics firm.

Aside from the graphics quality of myself I'm also quite a keen writer, I've written a lot of short stories and novels in my time; some that I am willing to share with you if asked. I have been praised for my English skills by a lot of people I meet among the real world, I achieve straight A's in my GCSE's, something that I pride myself on greatly, you can see that just through my grammar (which may be poorer than usual as I'm writing this application on my phone.)

I'll cut the application short here as I have 3% battery left, yet I'll end on a joke since its become a bit of a habit:

'Why did the bike walk? It was two-tired to run'

How you gettin' your bread up?:
Well I started out on the internet being a modder for xbox and mainly focused on call of duty. I began coding my first XDRPC tools and Menus during my modding days. After my modding days I was brought into the hackforums scene. I didn't realize how much money was on hackforums to make, until I made my first stresser. Phantom-Stresser I was uping $300+ a day and it was insane. So one of my skills is stressers. Another skill of mine is marketing, I have made probably 10+ eBooks on hackforums and each and everyone has been very successful, my most successful eBooks made about $1k-$2k in the first month it was open. So another skill of mine is marketing. On top of marketing, modding, and stresser. I am a minecrafter, for the past 3 months I have been in the process of creating a factions server to the best of its ability and with right advertisements it can go very large. My skill is goes anywhere from xbox to marketing on hf. As well as all this I sold other things on the side etc..on HF. I forget to mention during my modding days I made about $3k from hosting lobbies.

I do freelance web development, create bot software, in the summer i run a yard clean up business, also i run some craigslist ads for computer repair/virus removal.

What you planning to offer Zero?:

I can offer help with website development, online marketing strategies , business ideas, and good friendly conversations.

Why you wanna be in Zero?:

I have always wondered what it is like to be in a group and this group seems like a perfect fit.

How you gettin' your bread up?:

I first started making money playing Runescape. I would get gold and than sell it on forums to make money and I would get it via PayPal. Than at some point I got chargebacked for $800 and I wanted revenge. So I searched around and wanted to hack this user to get my rs gold back and that's when I came across hackforums. I than hacked runescape accounts and made anywhere from $50-$600 a day hacking runescape accounts and selling the gold. I than moved onto the ebook stage, teaching others ways how I would make money using Social Media. I have done pretty much everything there is to make money online that you can think of such as virtual goods, Social Media followers etc, ebooks, but than I got really good at coding. I now sell Galaxy Keylogger and Stealer along with Galaxy Protector. This is my side business I run and my main business I do I make anywhere from $200-$700 a day.

What you planning to offer Zero?:

I am willing to help the group as much as I can. I can create some tutorials, as well as to do 1 on 1 training with those who need help earning money online. I can participate in giveaways with the groups name, make some marketing threads with the groups name, as well as help members find new niches to monetize them to the fullest potential. I can also do some giveaways with my software to help spread the name of the group. I want to spread my knowledge with everything I know to the members, I love helping people and I plan to help make it high quality.

Why you wanna be in Zero?:

I have learned a new things as time goes on about marketing. I started from the bottom when I joined hackforums, starting off with Social Media, I owned a panel and would offer services to make my way up. As I got more and more money I would invest it into new projects. I learned the ropes the hard way as most people fucked me over for money, especially 80% of the ebook sellers. I found a niche and made a nice hunk of change on ebay when I was a seller on there. After making hundreds with my new niche I decided to invest in software. This is where I found my most success in marketing. It has been a long year since I started marketing, but my success shows the hard work I have put in. I am willing to put that same hard work into this group to help the members in need, like I once was. I have marketed many things, such as stresses, keyloggers, rats, ebooks, webhosting, crypters, and the whole nine yards. Being in such a high quality marketing group like Zero will only help me expand my knowledge even more, allowing me to help and educate the others to make money online. I'd like to make a name of myself here at hackforums and I believe I can do that with Zero.

How you gettin' your bread up?: I'm not focused on "getting my bread up" at the moment. However if I gain money I'll tell you if you really care.

What you planning to offer Zero?: My daily activity and constant posting.
Why you wanna be in Zero?: To open myself to a more high quality lounge/meet new users.
Any products for sale on HackForums?: I used to sell different accounts, proxies, and things of that nature but no longer.
Any special qualifications?: I would consider myself rather intelligent, so I can offer an intellectual standpoint on any topic. Other then that I wouldn't say so.

How you gettin' your bread up?:
I founded and owned a large Minecraft network, which was extremely successful. I've earned a little over $10k with the earnings, and I'll be launching a new project I have been working on a little over a year. I've invested around $2k into this new server, and I plan on earning double what I had originally earned, this is if everything goes as planned of course.

I also am into graphics, but only as an enthusiast. I make a quick buck here and there, but it's not my primary source of income. I mainly do it for fun, but if I can make money of it then I don't have a problem with pursuing my creative side further.

What you planning to offer Zero?:
As far as my niches go, I can offer extensive help to the group, and personally mentor people who'd like to learn. A lot of knowledge goes around within each group, so I guess my help would be limited to that (as far as I know).

Why you wanna be in Zero?:
Overall, Zero seems like a high quality group, and they all have the 'money' mindset, or so I've seen. It also looks like the individuals within the group are very knowledgeable, and if there's something to be learned I won't pass up on it.

Any products for sale on HackForums?:
I've head a few shops on HackForums, and I've sold an eBook on here aswell. I didn't invest too much time into either of them, as they hadn't produced as much money as I had hoped. I made about $500 from all the shops combined, but it didn't seem like a large enough amount for me to invest so much time into.
Any special qualifications?:

Thanks for reviewing my application. I skipped the eye-candy, as it doesn't really contribute to the content of the application itself.

How you gettin' your bread up?: I do whatever I can. I write lots of Ebooks that I plan on releasing once I make graphics for them. I also lure on RuneScape and sell the gold for profit.

What you planning to offer Zero?: High quality business advice, free graphics, free reviews, and high activity levels.

Why you wanna be in Zero?: Userbars give customers a hard on. With the Fortune userbar, I tripled my sales on Inventory Overload. I feel I can contribute to the group in a professional and comedic manner, and I think HF groups are a great way to get your name out there. Once you're in a group, you're not just another L33t or Ub3r, you're considered an individual important enough for someone to spend $7K to get a group and invite you to it.

How you gettin' your bread up?:

Job in a games store, buying and reselling various things, straight away or at a later date. If I see an opportunity to make a profit then I'll take it.

What you planning to offer Zero?:

Regular posting, a sense of humour, honest opinions, advice/help, setting a good example for the group and taking part in whatever else is happening.

Why you wanna be in Zero?:

To get money and disrupt the lounge scene. Seriously though, when I looked at the groups this is the one that appealed the most to me and from the threads I've seen Zero members post they seem to be chill, laid back and trustworthy and that's what I'd want to come across as too as it's one of the things about myself that I take pride in.

Any products for sale on HackForums?:

The sections that I would sell in is for ub3r members only so not yet. I'll be making myself more known and trustworthy by buying/trading until I can post there.
