No, it stays at 301 views, we are going to work on a view bot which will get passed the 301 mark ?

Still selling this tool, pm me if you have any questions

Teen La Queefa - March 10, 2015, 10:40 am

Speaking from experience , an account creator would be almost if not completely impossible , for the simple fact that google requires phone verification on almost all accounts / proxies.

Beleive me , I've coded completely functioning account creators and got to the stage of finishing the accounts only to be met with the phone verification process every time , still good luck with sales , I hope you can find some way to bypass the stupid shit xd
