Well for starters you need an account which i wont provide and you need to put your phone number i already put my phone in like 3 accounts so i guess theres no limit and also this wont work if they already put their phone number on the account.

First enter here: <http://adf.ly/18edkT>

After you entered email and password just click continue.

and you just choose the phone number option select your country and put your phone number then continue, you will recieve a code and you need to put it, then if you are in the account log out and login in again it will send you another code and for change password will also send you another code

P.S if you got little confused post it here because my english isnt the best but ill try to explain it better ^^

I put link on adfly because thats how i got it from a friend

I wont show where to change password because you need to be really stupid to dont know where but what i meant with the title is that to change password you need the questions of what was your first school, pet, etc. and with that link all you need is a code you will recieve on your phone
