Really? Shit.

Copied everything exactly as in the images? The text is a bit deluding on the winrar, ssfn in Steam/ directory, everything in the config folder in the config folder?

Hope Valve haven't clocked on Yeah, didn't work for me.

You 100% sure you need every file from config?
SteamReaper gives these files:

I also would love to know if this still works

The example in my post is from Steam Stealer Extreme

I wouldn't think extra vdf files would stop it from working :/

Maybe they're using IPs as well for steam guard?

I'd just recommend keylogging their email

Thanks!Okay they are needed to bypass steam guard thingy, if you log in to someone's account without those and its your first time doing that, it will say that you need confirmation from email.

But if you have those files, it wont ask you for the code.
Its magic.

And no, you will not rename those ssfn files.

Yes...this is patched and has been for a long time. I've seen rare cases that it has worked, but for the mos. part, patched.

You're doing something wrong or you have a Steam temp folder on %temp% wich causes error.
Its not patched, last time when I tried it was today. Do some research

Masterlord1337 - August 14, 2015, 6:34 pm

anyone also can help me with hacking steam accs?

triban1337 - August 16, 2015, 1:17 pm

this is weird.. i tried it today i copied die ssfn-file and the whole config folder from my pc to my laptop where i made a fresh install of steam.. so i started steam an it tried to login with my account (activated remember password) but it still asks for steam guard... so i got mad and deleted the ssfn-file and the whole config-folder on my main computer and opened steam.. i logged in without getting the steam guard window.. so i think its fixed ?

TomCrow - August 16, 2015, 1:23 pm

Jesus people, this isnt even a method. Its just normal logical thinking. When any app has "autologin" function it has to store these login data somewhere, but they are gonna be somehow encrypted. So if you manage to get these files the steam will not know who u really are.. the only last thing it can do is to check the IP -> reverse socks solving problem. This cant be patched or something. Cause its not a bug or exploit or anything.

Strayta - August 16, 2015, 1:46 pm

Have you resolved the issue man?

triban1337 - August 16, 2015, 2:02 pm

no not working for me :/ tried 2 accounts so far

(Aug 16, 2015 02:02 PM)triban1337 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) no not working for me :/ tried 2 accounts so far What's the issue you are getting?

TomCrow - August 16, 2015, 2:06 pm

You NEED to get 2 .ssfn files (one is hidden) and i dont know but to be sure the whole config folder. And now you just have to connect to reverse proxy (u will be using his ip) and just start steam. Maybe it will want password from you so make sure u have keylogged it or something. That way it wont trigger the steam guard.

Strayta - August 16, 2015, 2:19 pm

I think is depends on the account to be honest

TomCrow - August 16, 2015, 2:23 pm

If you have the account informations + password it does not. If you can get these ssfn files and config folder + reverse proxy, it will ALWAYS work without triggering the guard and getting trade ban.

triban1337 - August 17, 2015, 5:41 am

ah okay i got it to work with the 1 missing hidden ssfn file :b If i dont use reverse proxy will the account get a trade ban when i login from another ip and try to trade?

Xsal_Ice - August 17, 2015, 6:48 am

Reverse proxy not needed for steam. The reverse proxy is only needed to access email addresses and so on. steam does not need a reverse proxy for stealing the ssfn files. But still u should use a VPN mate.

triban1337 - August 17, 2015, 6:58 am ye i use vpn every time :b if i trade vics items to another account how big is the chance that they will get the items back?

Xsal_Ice - August 17, 2015, 7:41 am

0,1% - 0,01%. Depends on how u doing it. But chance of getting your account banned for trades is higher.

TomCrow - August 17, 2015, 8:06 am

What? You need to use reverse proxy, otherwise steam guard will pop and will want a key from you from ur clients mail.

Xsal_Ice - August 17, 2015, 8:11 am

Not true. Steam login also works without reverse proxy. Tried enough times now.

Only point i need reverse proxy is when i want to login into gmail or similar. ?

Xsal_Ice - August 24, 2015, 3:38 pm

Still works, like i said.

Proof:

HEXUTER - August 24, 2015, 6:16 pm

Just put these folders instead yours.If you want to avoid the Steam guard on your account just save your folders (SSFN and Config folder).So put the the SSFNs in your Steam folder then just save yours and move the Config folder as well and save yours either.

If you need help just PM me your Skype I'll help you.

help me guys. i already copy the config folder and ssfn files on my PC but when i paste it on another PC i still cannot bypass. and i also try copy the whole steam folder still cannot bypass what should i do? pls help.

(sorry for my English im from Philippines)

Eyhzo - September 6, 2015, 9:46 pm

the reason some peoples accounts cant be taken doing this is because they have phone verification. with phone verification every time you log on no matter what files, you still need to put in the code that comes up on their phone. If you rat your victim you can force close his steam so he needs to log back on and key log the code he used to log in.

UltiM8_TV - September 10, 2015, 2:42 am

Sorry this is going to sound so dumb, but do you simply copy the person's ssfn files and the config file straight into my own steam directory?

denpro18 - October 2, 2015, 3:16 am

I have copied these 5 files ('config.vdf', 'loginusers.vdf', 'SteamAppData.vdf' in 'config' and 2 ssfn files into 'Steam' folder). Once it worked and then it stopped. I don't know why? What is going on?

BonjourMickael - November 10, 2015, 11:23 am

Thanks is it still working? brother

cerberus3 - November 12, 2015, 1:03 pm

Will I need the password of the user to do this? I managed to pull their registry entries for steam, and the whole steam folder yet I cannot log in as them. I dont care about a trade ban, I just want access to their account.

EDIT: I managed to get this to work, but the problem is it makes the other user on their pc have to reenter their password to log into steam. Once they do this, then I have to enter a password on my end requiring me to get new ssfn and vdf files from their computer. Am I supposed to avoid logging into steam while they are logged in? Will that correct the issue?
