Thread: Classical High School website hacked by ISIS..how?

TheFinest - March 16, 2015, 6:57 am

I am not sure if any of you have heard but Classical High School's website was recently hacked, by Team System Dz. I am only posting this to gain knowledge on how this website was infiltrated, i have been doing practice on SQLi, blind SQLi, and other methods similar to these. Does anybody know how this website was hacked? The index page was not hacked but when you click on any links the deface page showed up. Just want some guidance on how to hack websites such as these...not saying im going to hack into school websites lol? Thanks guys!!

BTW i dont want this thread to turn into arguments about ISIS or some shit, just how this group achieved this

Seeing it's wordpress could be vulnerable plugin or they could have symlinked..

Possibly a vulnerable plugin or it was being ran over shared hosting and the hacker executed a symbolic link attack as haxor stated.
