Thread: Is this custom made site or template?

<http://sajtzadz.com/>

I really wonder if you can buy this html template anyway!

Could be a static theme, but could also be custom

Not so sure. I know it's not on a CMS though, it's a one page template.

Misanthropy - March 20, 2015, 2:19 pm

Usually in the footer there's a link to the creator of the design. I'm not sure what language this site uses I can't really tell if it's there.

You could contact them and ask nicely if they could tell you who made the design and if it would be buyable.

I'm sorry but, saying 'it could be a theme or it could be custom' is pointless.

This is custom made.

C?a?r?bon - March 20, 2015, 2:45 pm

Custom made, its a web design company website. You could rip the website pretty easily

ITZRat - March 21, 2015, 11:14 pm

Why did they add the CSS in with the HTML? Is it weird to do it separately?

S.atan - March 21, 2015, 11:16 pm

Just get a program and rip the source from them.

Haze256 - March 22, 2015, 8:13 am

It's not tied to any platforms like WordPress so it must be custom. You can always steal it. If you need any help PM me, I could do everything for you including design changes for a certain price.

I saw (almost) the same kind earlier.

The scrolling etc is (I think) ripped off and not custom.

I've seen numerous sites like this before. The only difference is really the font, and images. Other than that, I believe the css/html was just edited.

ElasticWeed - March 23, 2015, 4:40 pm

It's really just a basic bootstrap site with a custom font.

One could easily make a site that looks 99% identical in less than 30 minutes.

Its using jumbotron badly in bootstrap: getbootstrap.com/
