Questions and Answers::

How many people will be recruited on this application?

Depends how many "HQ" users apply.

My application hasn't been reviewed, can I post it again?

Please do not post your application more than once, we will review every application that will be posted.

How will i know if i get selected?

We will send you a personal 'welcome' message!

?Nuski - March 20, 2015, 3:18 pm

Apply now, for a great group like Fortune !

SIM-1676753 - March 20, 2015, 3:23 pm

It looks like a great group. Good luck anyone who applies.

Mahdy - March 20, 2015, 3:27 pm

Age: 20

What sector are you applying for?: General Sector

What skill-set(s) do you have to offer?: My skill-sets are all around: Gaming, graphic & web design, & all around activity.

How can your skill-set(s) benefit our group?: I know a little bit about everything, really. Which is why I want to apply for the general sector, I would fit better in it (Same as my position in BH). I could give anyone a hand on any Runescape related/gaming questions, designs (on what I can do) and programming (Based on my last work). I also sell a lot of un saturated eBooks and run a few services.

Any proof of latest projects/work:

-Forum installation service

-RSGP/SSGP Service

Ebook 1 | Ebook 2

That's about all I can find right now. I do a free MM service, but I get more PMs than posts in my thread so I didn't bother posting in it.

Why should we choose you?: I love being in groups and getting to meet new members. I'm not gonna sit here and tell you I'll be a better position than someone else, because I won't, but I do think I would fit in the group fine.

Effexion - March 20, 2015, 3:27 pm

What sector are you APPLYING for?: Programming

What skill-set(s) do you have to OFFER?: Nothing at the moment, I'm hoping to learn a lot while I'm in the Null Student program.

How can your skill-set(s) BENEFIT our group?:

Any proof of latest projects/WORK: Sorry, I do not have any at this point.

Why should we choose you?: Because I myself am an Active learner, I Would love to some day contribute my skills to come and help you guys for things that need to be done! Thank you for reading my Fortune Application, And the chance to apply.

S corpion - March 20, 2015, 3:31 pm

I applied Via pm. I hope I get in this looks like a great group! Hope to be a part of it :)

PS - Would be my first HF group :D

b?xxy - March 20, 2015, 3:31 pm

How is this group going to be revamped?

Why should I re-apply?

The Judge - March 20, 2015, 3:36 pm

I wish everyone goodluck when applying to this amazing group ?

What sector are you applying for?:
General
What skill-set(s) do you have to offer?:
I'm a decent graphic artist. I also have a lot of time on my hands in which I enjoy learning new things and getting to know a bunch of different people.
How can your skill-set(s) benefit our group?:
I am willing to help people out whenever they just need an opinion or an actual serious look at things. I also as mentioned above am willing to design certain threads and signatures for marketing and growing as a group.
Any proof of latest projects/work:
<https://www.behance.net/Raidoc>
Why should we choose you?:
As mentioned I have a lot of time on my hands and am always willing to help and learn new stuff while doing so. I'm also just a general good guy and won't act like a right mug.

Age: 21
What sector are you applying for?: Marketing / Programming
What skill-set(s) do you have to offer?: Programming HTML5 CSS3 Javascript JQuery UI/UX General front-end programming Marketing SEO Does graphic design for image marketing count?
General finance knowledge (majored in Investment Management and Finance) How can your skill-set(s) benefit our group?: I'm quite active in terms of developing new webapps and projects. I'm currently working on Salesbit.ch, an e-commerce solution that simplifies Shopify while giving users the option to make advanced customizations. I've got a lot of knowledge on internet marketing (not HF) with SEO and how to do it properly. I've personally ranked projects ranging from gaming (Minecraft) to cosmetics (e-shop for local business). I'm free to work on any projects that Fortune might have and hope that it will turn out to be a group that actually DOES something other than have the members hold their dicks while pretending they're hotshots because they made a few bucks in the marketplace. /rant
Any proof of latest projects/work: <http://salesbit.ch> (only landing page done; backend works as well but not all features have been implemented. Expected to finish in 2 months or less)
Lux Detailing Company (project for car detailing company located in Canada)
Tutorial for beginners on SEO
Info on how much a website/webapp can cost
Some of those projects were a bit old. I didn't have much motivation to release any more tutorials due to my engagement in other projects. I hope to finish Salesbit.ch and hop onto NetBit, a networking site for freelancers and project managers.
Why should we choose you?: I've been displeased with the level of bullshit being produced by groups now. I read one of your responses in the "Fortune is becoming worse" thread. You said you wanted to make a difference and actually make something useful. I want to be part of that; I don't want to stick around on HF unless there's something I can contribute to and work on. The only thing I ask is that you keep your word and turn Fortune around into something useful to the site and community.

What skill-set(s) do you have to offer?:

Well, I am not saying I am an expert or anything, but I have been lurking the Money sections of HF and have learned a lot. I am slowly developing and can say that I could contribute into the discussions and what not.

Small Business Management

Cryptocurrency

Branding

General Knowledge of Investing

How can your skill-set(s) benefit our group?:

I like to think I am well-rounded when it comes to business. I can make a product, have a well thought out brand, create designs as needed for it, pretty good with web dev, and advertise all by myself. I am nowhere near an expert in anything, I just love learning and doing things myself.

Any proof of latest projects/work:

<http://whitesungaming.net/> - Whitesun Gaming is my latest project. We are currently setting up teams for League of Legends and Smite in hopes to enter tournaments and get our name out there. From there I would like to add a part to our site that people will look at often (Guides, Stats, ect) and start monetizing the site from there. I also do want to be a sellout with it and start using every part of the site to make money. I want to keep the quality of the site intact.

Why should we choose you?:

I am humorous person, yet mature. I am very willing to put my all into this group and learn as much as I can within it. I also will do my best to teach all that I can. I know I am not very advanced, but I believe I can make help some people.

What skill-set(s) do you have to offer?: I am currently doing a degree in music marketing and I would say I have a pretty good general knowledge.

How can your skill-set(s) benefit our group?: I believe I am quite a knowledgeable user, I feel I could bring my musical skills to the group if this is needed or wanted within the group.

Any proof of latest projects/work: I will make it my next project to write a song for the group and perform it in a video.

Why should we choose you?: I believe you should choose me as I'm a fairly new user, but yet I am pretty active, I'm always lurking around the forums, I would be extremely active within the sub forums as well as the overall forum. I would say I'm quite a HQ user with quite a lot to offer.

What skill-set(s) do you have to offer?:

I can tell that I don't have a lot of knowledge as I'm still trying to expand my knowledge by learning things from tutorials. I'm a type that tries out things which leads sometimes to success and sometimes to failure. I like to help people when it comes to a serious note and I am willing to provide them my assistance when they need it. Outside that I'm very communicative, so creating a conversation with someone isn't really a problem for me. However outside communication I'm following numerous of programming tutorials when I have time left and hope to expand my knowledge day-a-day.

How can your skill-set(s) benefit our group?:

I think with my communicative skills I can help them prevent any problems and help them further when it comes to serious notes.

Any proof of latest projects/work:
None.

Why should we choose you?:

I think because of my communication knowledge; I know how to talk to people and learn things in a reliable way. Even if I make a mistake; it will turn into a lesson for me.

What sector are you applying for?: Marketing

What skill-set(s) do you have to offer?: I have a very wide skillset. I am experienced with Website Hacking and I am familiar with programming to accompany it.

However, that is of course rather unrelated. I am also extremely experienced with Marketing and making money. I grew up in a home with an extremely busy business-man father. Due to this, from a young age, I have not only picked up a very excessive amount from him but I have had an overwhelming interest in money which floods into other interests as well (such as solving major world issues).

I remember selling many things to my friends as a young child, and have continued to look for ways to make profit. The methods to make said profit have of course evolved however, and overtime I have released countless projects online.

The second I stepped on to HF I immediately thought of two of my great interests: Hacking and Marketing. Especially marketing as I already feel as though HF as a forum won't be able to help me quite as much hacking wise at this point.

The HF marketing platform is astounding, and I truly hope to practice both my current marketing skills and expanding them.

How can your skill-set(s) benefit our group?: My skillsets can (hopefully) not only help to bring a good name to the group through sharing with other members of the group, but as well as sharing and helping other members who are not currently in the group or who are beginners to any fields. Though I am rather new to HF, I believe that this is very beneficial to a group as a whole, though feel free to correct me if I am wrong.

Any proof of latest projects/work: At the current time I would prefer to not share my projects of the past. I plan on completely moving forwards past them to launch far greater projects on here. I understand that will most likely cause issues with recruitment, but I thought I'd say it anyway.

Why should we choose you?: I believe all the past fields apply to this. I am loyal, I am willing to learn, and I already have (some) skill. It is your job to judge whether or not what I have said throughout this application is worthy or not of your group.

Thank you.

What sector are you applying for?:

Marketing

What skill-set(s) do you have to offer?:

Gaming -

Here is a list of games I play:

COD: Probably the game I've played the most overall; especially the COD Zombies. I was 25th in the world for the map "Buried" on Black OPS 2 for solo.

Halo: I've always loved Halo, especially because of the vehicles in it and the "Infected" game mode.

Witcher 3: Going to be the game I play 24/7, love these kinds of games; super addictive for me.

Elder Scrolls Online: Going to be playing this very often on release, I've always loved MMO's and really love the fact that it's on Console. I can't wait to play with my friends and gear up!

Forza 5: I also really love racing games, it gives a nice change compared to other games which is always fighting.

GTA 5: I love the customization and just the sole fact that you can play with all your friends, explore different lands, get in various vehicles, and now can do heists.

BattleField Hardline: Going to play the hell out of this on release, it seems like a great game and will also be my first BattleField game I've ever played.

Marketing-

I've always been a good salesman, as a child and growing up. I would love to expand on my skills with a great group behind me.

I'm very good at convincing people that they will and are getting the best deal also that I'm very trustworthy, etc. I have quite a few salesman techniques which work wonders which I'm willing to give to my group.

How can your skill-set(s) benefit our group?:

Well if we have a gaming sector, I will mainly be active there and we can show as a group we are active not just on HackForums but also outside of it. I'm a really good player and willing to help others in the group and we can have some sort of "Clan" on COD. We can have tournaments and I would be able to really help the team with my skill in the games.

For marketing, I will teach others in the group everything I know in marketing, which is quite a lot. I've flipped countless items and made tons of profit just off Craigslist; I'll try to contribute as much as I can and really hope to learn something also.

Any proof of latest projects/work:

No, sorry. Upon request I can try to get some videos of me in a game or something? For the Marketing, none either; I'll get proof upon request.. I just have to dig for it which is quite stressful. :3

Why should we choose you?:

Because I'll bring my skills, liveliness, friendliness, activeness, not to mention i'll always be looking to help my fellow group members, I will also always be respectful to my group members and never be rude or anything of the sort.

Felix' Application

Age

At the moment I am 18 years old, with my birthday being in December.

[img]http://i3.minus.com/i1Y5ZJ7AFDduv.png[/img]

What sector are you applying for?

I am applying for the Programming-Sector, because I consider myself very experienced in this field. Nonetheless, I am a very active gamer and would love to swing by in the other sectors as well!

[img]http://i3.minus.com/i1Y5ZJ7AFDduv.png[/img]

What skill-set(s) do you have to offer?

I am able to develop both programs and websites, with the help of my skill-set consisting of various programming-languages, such as C#, Delphi and PHP. Additional to that, I am a reverse-engineer and crack programs on an almost daily basis. I also enjoy doing some very basic graphics-related work, which focuses on designing GUIs the most.

[img]http://i3.minus.com/i1Y5ZJ7AFDduv.png[/img]

How can your skill-set(s) benefit our group?

Since I am an employed adult working as an IT-Manager at a local real-estate company, I know how to teach others very well. I do weekly courses with my co-workers, introducing them to various programming-related topics, such as incorporating VBA in Excel-tables, learning the basics of PHP and MySQL and most important of all, teaching the older fellas how to use a computer in general! I could use all this experience to teach fellow group-members all these wonderful things I managed to learn in the past 8 years, since I started getting into programming. Posting tutorials and guides both in- and out-side the subforum would be something I would love to do, for example. Developing smaller applications and releasing them under the Fortune-Brand is possible as well, of course.

[img]http://i3.minus.com/i1Y5ZJ7AFDduv.png[/img]

Any proof of latest projects/work?

Unfortunately I strictly separate my real-life activities and what I do online, therefore I am not able to present any specific previous work as of now. Nevertheless, you can check my posts in the programming-related forums, as I always try to be helpful, although I have to admit that I sometimes tend to be a little bit sarcastic. I would appreciate it a lot if you would give me a chance, even though I was not able to present any work yet.

[img]http://i3.minus.com/i1Y5ZJ7AFDduv.png[/img]

Why should we choose you?

Judging by what others said, I am someone who is able to help everyone with almost everything. Being support on several different crypters, I have to face tons of new problems and unknown issues every day, but so far I have managed to solve them all! I am someone who doesn't give up if things are not working the way they are supposed to, instead I sit down and work until I find a solution for the problem. Being accepted into the group would make it possible for me to use both my skills and my enthusiasm for a greater good.

[img]http://i3.minus.com/i1Y5ZJ7AFDduv.png[/img]

Something I would like to add!

First of all, thank you very much for reading my application!

If you have any questions regarding what I am capable of or if you have a question about me in general, feel free to either PM me or message me on Skype and I would love to answer all inquiries you might have!

What sector are you applying for?: Marketing

What skill-set(s) do you have to offer?: I offer a lot of skill sets. I can teach the ways to spread a product to be sold, how to set up a sales thread to be eye appealing, what and where to sell it. I know the ins and outs of selling products to make people's attention be grabbed instantly. I love making things, marketing things, just anything to do with people wanting things I create. So in that time of doing that I've learned a few tricks to get some buyers and I've taught myself how to market things.

How can your skill-set(s) benefit our group?: I feel like my skill set can benefit the group in multiple ways, such as, get the group's name out there, sell products in the name of the group, help members among the group learn how to market, learn from the group as well, and many more. I love to help out, it's just what I like doing. If I'm chosen I can show you. I've been in groups before and I've helped the group prosper by doing most of my work in their name, and helping out by doing group events and giving discounts for group members, etc. I will offer a service to sell for people, make graphics for people's products, design threads, lots of things. I'm very interested in joining this group and feel like I can help out a lot. I can already think of a few things I'd be offering in the sub-forum. I would really enjoy being a part of this group and I feel like being in this group I can get the name out there for the good:).

Age: 13

What sector are you applying for?: Programming

What skill-set(s) do you have to offer?: 5~ Years Backend Web Development in PHP, same in design and around 3~ years with jQuery API. Also have Bukkit API knowledge in Java.

How can your skill-set(s) benefit our group?: Well, I'm a programmer. If it wasn't for us, this forum wouldn't even exist. I'll just drop that.

Any proof of latest projects/work: I don't do much public work. I'm mostly a private for-hire developer as the work I do doesn't exactly qualify with the rules of this forum. I do, however, have this thread I recently created (<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4729026>) if it is in interest to you.

Why should we choose you?: I'm not sure. You tell me. I say the exact same thing to everybody; "There's people who's more capable with web development than me, but I'm more capable then certain others too. If you want somebody who acted like a robot and just done as you commanded, I'm probably not the best person for you. I'm me, that's why you should chose me. Sure, you can pick others with more, equal or less skill; at the end of the day, you're choosing people for who they are. You wouldn't want to hire somebody to work at a nursery if they're a convicted pedophile just because they're good at the job. Same goes for this."

Pretty small application, but not sure what you'd expect with only couple questions. If you want more detail, feel free to message me.

Cheers.

What sector are you applying for?: General Sector.

What skill-set(s) do you have to offer?: I am currently working on marketing online, have been very into it in the past but have taken a break to focus on school. I am currently at University studying a Bachelor of Information Technology, so I am slowly learning to program and will eventually be able to list this as a skills set to be a valuable part of your group.

How can your skill-set(s) benefit our group?: I know Hackforums fairly inside out, as well as PayPal systems, Bitcoins, and basic programming. If any other Fortune members are having difficulty with any one of those things I will be there to help.

Any proof of latest projects/work: Currently I only sell an eBook on Hackforums which I don't think of as a project, but I am looking to embark on an investment venture in the near future.

Why should we choose you?: I believe I would be a great addition to the group as I am always up for meeting new people, and therefore will be constantly engaged in group discussion. I also have knowledge in money and computers, which seems to be the two strong points of the group making me a perfect selection.

Age: I am currently 15

What sector are you applying for?:

I am going to be applying for all of them for multiple reasons I can support and back up.

What skill-set(s) do you have to offer?:

This is where I said I can back up my statement for applying for all of the sectors. I am experienced in the marketing field with marketing tons of items and services all over the internet. I used to also do a little bit of affiliate marketing and I learned some tricks of the trade to make some good money off of marketing that way. I use my marketing skills on hack forums to sell my projects and services that I run better, which works for me.

My other skill-set I have is Graphic Design. I have been doing graphic design for about three or four years now. I actually had a graphics service here on hack forums but I ended it due to it going inactive but I still do other works for members that ask me on skype and etc.. Otherwise I do a lot of work for eSports teams and members that contact me on twitter.

Now for programming I am a little special when it comes to this skill. I am taking programming classes in school this year and we are currently learning c++. Once this class is done I will continue to move on and learn more and more on how to program better and better. Which I think your group will have lots of high quality and experienced programmers in it that could help me out with any questions I may have. So as of right now I only know the basics ins and outs of c++ but am learning something new every day.

How can your skill-set(s) benefit our group?:

My skill-sets can benefit your group in multiple ways. For my first skill I mentioned of marketing I can help out any other members who have questions related to marketing and teach them tricks I have learned on how to make things sell better on hack forums and have a good run with it instead of having it flop.

As far as my skills of graphic design go I could do graphic design for any members who need it when I am online. Or if the group or any members are starting any new projects if they need some help with graphics I can come in and assist them in that field of my expertise.

For programming since I am learning it I can't really help out much members if they have any questions or program anything for members. Although I would be very active in discussing programming as I am trying to learn everything I can about it that I possibly can.

Any proof of latest projects/work:

eBook I marketed for a friend of mine <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4655703>

Did free signatures for all blue for a while

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4663566>

Account Generator I marketed for another member

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4667849>

Graphics Portfolio: <https://www.behance.net/JakeFPS>

Why should we choose you?:

You should chose me as I have a lot on the plate to bring to this group. I am very active on Hack Forums and by that I mean I come on here basically every single day if I have free time. I am a very laid back and relaxed person when it comes to things and am always there to help out other members if it is needed. I am always motivated to work on new projects and learn things which I know I will be able to do from your group. Finally I will also contribute to the group as much as I possibly can.

Thanks for taking the time to read over my application and consider me for the group.

[img]http://i5.minus.com/ib1esUob9rcOIL.png[/img]

Age: Nineteen years of age.

What sector are you applying for?:

I'm submitting an application for a position within the General sector of the usergroup, seeing as I don't quite have the skillset to be placed within the programming or marketing sections. Perhaps later down the line I will make a transition from "General" to one of the other available sections, but at the meantime I'm pretty much useless in either of the two, so I'm going to stick with "General" for now,

What skill-set(s) do you have to offer?:

Graphic Design

I have been into graphical design for quite a number of years - probably around five now - and have been using image-manipulation software such as GIMP, Adobe Photoshop, Adobe Illustrator and quite a few others. I included GIMP in the list because it was one of the original image-manipulation applications I used when I was in the beginning stages of graphical designing, just learning the ropes while watching YouTube video tutorials on how to use certain tools within the application.

I currently own a copy Adobe Photoshop CS6 which I use for creating forum avatars and signatures. I'm quite rusty when it comes to graphic design because I took a long break from it for a while and then lost interest all together. I do find the application quite handy to have, because I tend to search for artwork online and then crop the images so they're the appropriate size for forum avatars. On most forums I visit, I'm obsessed with my profile having a matching colour scheme - this meaning I would have my avatar matching my username and userbar colour. ? Web-mastery Web-mastery is one of my larger interests. I have owned several forums which use MyBB forum software and one of them gained quite a large amount of activity and user registrations. The forum accumulated around forty-thousand posts, three-thousand members and six-thousand forum threads. I was constantly looking for ways to update my board and make it appear more unique, seeing as it's difficult to do that nowadays with the amount of gaming-related communities out there. I would request to have custom themes and plugins made in order to entice non-registered individuals to create an account. Unfortunately I had to give up the forum because it was around the time of my school examinations and I couldn't spend time administrating the board and finding time for revision. The board was merged into a much larger general-discussion community, which is still up and running to this day. I'm not going to mention the name of it though.

How can your skill-set(s) benefit our group?:

The skills I possess could benefit the usergroup in a couple of ways. If need be, I could assist in mentoring other individuals within the usergroup and help them extend their knowledge. Although I'm very busy nowadays, I could give it a shot, however, I can't make any promises unfortunately. I could also assist other members within the usergroup with their questions and concerns regarding anything relating to gaming, web-mastery, graphic designing and automotive repair. I didn't mention these skills in the list above because I didn't deem "gaming" eligible for being considered a "skill". I'm quite knowledgeable in the console-related field of gaming, especially Xbox 360 and Xbox One systems.

Automotive repair is part of my everyday life. I wake up and head into work to diagnose and repair issues with vehicles. I primarily work on pick-up trucks which includes performing pre-delivery inspection checks, servicing & MOT preparations, tyre-changing, brakes and so forth. We also have vehicles arriving in with other problems, which we then would have to carry out a diagnosis check to find the source of the problem and then carry out the necessary procedures to get the vehicles back on the road again. It's not an exciting job, but it's a good career to be in.

Any proof of latest projects/work:

Unfortunately I don't have any recent examples of my work, considering I haven't done any graphic designs/image-manipulation in over two years, but if you would like to see some examples of my past work, be sure to give me a shout and I'll either send you a private message or update this application. ? I can't really provide examples of my automotive repair work or anything gaming-related, as I'm not sure how I could do that, unless I were to take pictures of some of the vehicles I've been working on, but that would require me to be at work.

Why should we choose you?:

I believe I should be selected for a position within the Fortune usergroup because I can represent the usergroup in a positive manner. Newer registrants to Hack Forums may have a question or a concern - I am willing to assist them with their concerns, thus promoting quality throughout the usergroup. I know it may sound daft, and it may also seem like a pretty generic thing to respond to this question with, but it's the truth. It would be great to become a part of an official usergroup on HF , because at the moment, it feels as if I'm aimlessly responding to threads on the forum and not getting to know anyone on a more personal level. Having access to a usergroup and a private sub-forum would allow me to meet more members who hopefully share the same interests as I do.

I'm a down-to-earth and friendly bloke once you get to know me a bit better. I won't tear you apart because you attempt to engage in conversation with me, and I can act a bit silly at times, but I tend to keep that to Skype group chats, rather than on the board. ? Receiving an invitation to an official usergroup would make a huge impact on my time spent on HF - because at the moment, I'm having little-to-no enjoyment spending time lurking around the board finding threads to pointlessly respond to. Having access to a private sub-forum and engaging in discussion with other group members would give me something more to do.

Well... that pretty much sums up my application for Fortune. I know the chances of me receiving acceptance into this usergroup are very slim, but I thought it would be worth a shot. Best of luck to all other applicants, and thank you very much for the opportunity, group leader(s). ?

Age: 26

What sector are you applying for?: General

What skill-set(s) do you have to offer?: I majored in bio-medical engineering and have a great mind for solving all types of problems. I'm currently trying to learn as many other skills such as programming. I have good knowledge in Python from high-school, but learning other languages is a close goal for me. I'm also very friendly and work excellently with a team. Another major skill of mine is organization. My current position is a management role, which taught me how to manage people and make sure they work efficiently.

How can your skill-set(s) benefit our group?: I can understand that my degree means next to nothing on a forum like this, but my other skills can benefit the group by collaborating with others when needed, organizing group-wide events, giving advice with personal issues, and expertly leading a team. I'm also a very avid PC gamer and could organize events relating to that subject.

Any proof of latest projects/work: All I can really put here my sole service on HF. The rest of my achievements took place in the office or at school.

My Mentorship Service

Why should we choose you?: If my management position has taught me one thing, it's how to interact with other people. This allows me to communicate with others to solve problems very effectively. I could also help/lead in the organization and execution of group-wide events, such as gaming events. Once my knowledge expands in programming, I would be able to go further into the programming sector. Overall, I'm a great person to have around and try to keep everyone around me in a happy mood, which can raise the morale and general satisfaction of the group.

Thank you for reading this application and considering me.

What sector are you applying for?: Privacy & Computing

What skill-set(s) do you have to offer?: My skill-set(s) mainly goes around computing and technology, I have worked with a variety of fields such as Hacking, Programming, Malware Removal, Computer Repair, etc. and I also work with Privacy/Anonymity.

How can your skill-set(s) benefit our group?: My skill-sets can benefit the group because I can help make tutorials around those subjects and maybe help mentor or teach some of the other members about some of the things about them subjects.

Any proof of latest projects/work: Since I work with Privacy, Anonymity, and Computing there isn't any "proof".

Why should we choose you?: I'm going to be honest, there isn't really a reason why you should choose me. I can promise the same thing as other members can, I can promise to be active in the sub forums, help contribute as much as possible, make different discussions threads and topics within the groups name, etc.

What sector are you applying for?:

General

What skill-set(s) do you have to offer?:

I am a guy who loves to learn new stuff. A while back I started with photoshop and I guess now I am pretty decent at it.

A Thread you might want to look at : <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4724263>

Besides that I am currently trying to learn new and new ways of monetizing so that I could give back to the community from which I learnt.

I am a hard working and dedicated person. If something challenges me , I shall not rest until it's done.

How can your skill-set(s) benefit our group?:

I shall not keep my knowledge confined to myself. I believe in sharing knowledge.

I am willing to give my time and dedication to the group , as there is always something new to learn and do. :)

Any proof of latest projects/work:

What sector are you applying for?: Marketing

What skill-set(s) do you have to offer?: I have done all sorts of internet marketing but at the moment I am really focused on CPA. I normally think of niches, get someone to build the website as I am not great at it and rolling the traffic in so I would say that I have a skill in traffic flowing.

How can your skill-set(s) benefit our group?: All marketers that use adverts or surveys need traffic so I could help people gain traffic for all their niches.

Any proof of latest projects/work: Spoiler (Click to View)

Why should we choose you?:

I have been a part of this forum for a considerable amount of time and in my time I have learnt a lot about online marketing. Though I am young and still naive compared to some of the others in the group, I am still a dedicated worker and willing to learn all you have to offer. I know that if I joined this group I would learn a lot and this is what I want to do. I want to progress and become better. On a side note, I also talk with proper etiquette which is better than the average forum member. I hope you approve me because I truly do believe a I belong in this group. Prepubescent - March 25, 2015, 3:22 pm

Hi, I'm going to be applying for Fortune, I will be posting the application form then writing some stuff about myself.

Age: 16

What sector are you applying for?: General

What skill-set(s) do you have to offer?: Business, Computers, Graphic Design, Maths, Music and Electronic Engineering. My Online skills vary, I can Social Engineer, Monetize and much more!

How can your skill-set(s) benefit our group?: I think my skill-sets can benefit the group because I would be able to help teach people all of what I know and whilst doing that learn new things that I could then teach to other members of the group.

Any proof of latest projects/work: Here are some examples of graphics I recently made.

<https://imgur.com/F6MuVch,0BHJoQD,C5AoQHp>

I can also show some pictures if needed of stuff I have obtained online for free legally, stuff like Tablets, headphones etc.

Why should we choose you?: For this part I'm going to write some stuff below.

Ok so here goes. I'm just going to be who I am and I don't want to pretend to be someone I'm not just to get accepted like a lot of people do.

My name is Will, I'm 16 and I roam HF a lot finding out about a lot of new things. I like to teach people stuff what I know and I like to learn things I don't know. I started college in September and I'm now studying: Business, Computing and ICT, Music Technology, Further Maths and Electronic Engineering. When I finish college I want to be able to go and get a job in what I have always wanted to do (Investment Banking or doing something whilst working with computers) once I manage to get this job, I have already told my parents that I will stay with them for a while and help them with anything they need.

I think that I would be a good addition to the group as I am a nice guy to speak to and I don't care if you hate me or not but I'm always nice to people. I try my hardest to make friends with everyone as I think that if people don't like one another they're just pathetic and need to grow up. Also I think that with me joining the group I could help setup gaming nights with the members and maybe setup some classes with help from the leaders to teach people some of the stuff I know and share my knowledge with other members.

In my spare time, I like to play computer games, build PC's and work. When I turned 16 I got a job working at a bank. Hard to believe I know, but I work with the technicians in the bank and I help when there is ever a problem on the computers. I have also once or twice helped a member of the public in the bank with my Maths knowledge.

The games that I like to play on my computer are: H1Z1, Arma 3, CS:GO, Minecraft, Garry's Mod and many more. Once GTA V is out on PC I will be playing that for a while.

The games that I like to play on my playstation are: Fifa Series, Call of Duty Series, Last Of Us and many more!

I also have an Xbox one but don't play that as much due to xbox live is a little bit more costly and I don't have many games I enjoy on there.

I have so much more I could say but I feel as though it will just sound like I'm telling stories to people.

I hope you consider this as an application and think that I would be worthy for the group!

Regards,

-MiaK?
