Thread: Make money with traffic exchange, hitleap..?

AssK - March 26, 2015, 8:53 am

Hi HF,

I research a method for make money with website traffic exchange.
I have already try with few website as AdFly, AdFocus and i have finish banned..

If you have a method that works thank you in advance! ;)

You can try making your own website and get it advertised in legal ways (its much better) and get adsense and start earning money. Although you can buy adcash for boost.

What you're trying to do is impossible, they aint dumb otherwise everyone would just bot the traffic to their links and earn money. Pure logic.

You must have a premium Hitleap account in order to get traffic to Adf.ly and spam URLs.
With an ordinary account you can't mask the traffic and Adf.ly will ban you.

I have Hitleap premium account but I still did ban on adfly, on hitleap I activated the traffic source anonymous.

With AdFocus i'm not banned but i have read on the web it's a scam, it's really?

Get out of these

There are many other money making methods.

Stay away from these adflies and all

HitLeap is junk traffic so I doubt you could make any money with it. Sorry!

Make a "google seo" service on fiverr and use your hitleap mins to send views to peoples sites. That is all the current fiverr seo gig owners do. It's shady but retards like myself pay for it, at least once.

OP, you can actually use hitleap and make a blog (blogger.com) and then put ads from

LOVECPM.com while still using hitleap.
