Grab a nice bold font, double click the text's layer, opening up the FX Settings.
Setting like this:

And the results are

I havn't perfected this method yet, so it's not the best, however it's a pretty good start, if you play around with the settings, you can get different looks, also it's font/image reliant as the numbers need to be changed to get the perfect look.

What font is that exactly?

Looks exactly like the League of Legends font.
